Sherif in Milwaukee Asks Police Aid.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—[Special.]—Denied the protection of the state militia to avert anticipated rioting at the West Allis-Chalmers plant, where C. I. O. automobile workers' union is on strike, Sherif Edward J. Mitten late tonight called on Chief of Police Joseph T. Klushesky for 300 policemen to report for duty at the plant at 6 a. m. tomorrow.

A similar demand was made on the police chiefs of South Milwaukee, Cudahy, Wauwatosa, and Shorewood, that they assign one-half of their uniformed men for duty at the plant. The Allis-Chalmers factory is the largest industrial unit in Wisconsin.

Sherif Mitten's request was made on the advice of Gov. Julius P. Heil, who refused to call out troops on the ground that the sherif had not exhausted the forces at his own command.

Governor Appeals for Order.

"I earnestly appeal to the many law abiding employés of the Allis-Chalmers company to keep the peace," the governor said.

The sherif's appeal to the governor for troops and his subsequent plea for police help, followed a disturbance at the plant earlier in the day when 1,000 office workers ran the picket lines of more than a thousand strikers amid booing and scuffling. A few hats were torn off, but no one was injured and there were no arrests.

A bomb explosion occurred tonight in the Elm Street Garden tavern at 60th and Cleveland streets, about ten blocks east of Allis Chalmers plant. The explosion blew out the windows in the basement, but no one was injured.

Plant Closed Since May 24.

The Allis-Chalmers plant has been closed since May 24 on a workers holiday declared by the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers' union. However, the strike was not declared until Saturday and today was the first day of mass picketing.

Sherif Mitten said 3,000 men would be required to preserve order at the plant. He already has 250 men, including 85 of his regular deputies, on duty at the scene. He said his request for troops was made as a result of his observations of the possibilities of violence and on the demand of Harold W. Story, company vice president.

Employs 7,000 Workers.

The Allis-Chalmers company employs approximately 7,000 persons here, of whom 6,000 are in the production department. Harold Christoffel, president of the local union, said virtually all the production workers are on strike.

Christoffel said the chief issue in the strike concerns the setting up of machinery for handling employés' grievances. The union has sought a blanket contract for the Pittsburgh, Boston, and Milwaukee plants of Allis-Chalmers. Demands for a closed shop are not being pressed.

MICHIGAN LAW AIDS C.I.O.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Flint, Mich., June 12.—[Special.]—The recently enacted Michigan labor law, which the C. I. O. strenuously opposed, was invoked today to the benefit of the John L. Lewis group in a showdown fight between rival factions of the dual United Automobile Workers' union.

Police at Saginaw, Mich., used the new law in arresting seven pickets who attempted to keep members of the C. I. O.-U. A. W. from entering the Chevrolet gray iron foundry there. The law forbids interference with workers attempting to enter or leave a factory.

The pickets were members of the U. A. W. division which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. That group called a strike in General Motors corporation plants in Flint and Saginaw last Thursday in an attempt to obtain recognition as bargaining agent for the employés instead of C. I. O.-U. A. W.

A policeman and a dozen pickets were injured in a brief but vicious clash that culminated in the arrest of the pickets.

Both pickets and police wielded clubs in the melées which followed the pickets' attempt to stop maintenance men on their way to work. Two hours after the clash 1,000 workers entered the plant.

SHORE TO SHORE TIME OF PILOT IS 52 MINUTES

Starts Long Slide at 13,000 Feet.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Diagram on page 2.)

Frankfort, Mich., June 12.—[Special.]—Ted Bellak, instructor at the motorless flying school here, today established a world's gliding record by crossing Lake Michigan from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to this city. His flying time from shore to shore was 52 minutes.

Map shows route of record glider flight.

It was the first time that a motorless ship was flown across the lake, and the flight represents the longest crossing of water ever made by a soaring plane. The direct distance from Sturgeon Bay to Frankfort is fifty-four miles. Bellak covered more than ninety miles because he was blown thirty miles south of his course to Manistee, where he first arrived over the Michigan shore.

Old Record 22 Miles.

The previous record for flight over water in a glider was 22 miles, made across the English channel.

Bellak was in the air 2 hours and 39 minutes this afternoon. He was towed off the ground at 4:44 p. m. from Door county airport near Sturgeo Bay by an airplane.

The plane circled for one hour and 21 minutes over the Wisconsin shore. At 13,000 feet Bellak released the tow line at 6:05 o'clock and turned out over the lake.

Sees Michigan in Few Minutes.

"Conditions were perfect," said Bellak in describing the flight. "Visibility was almost 50 miles, the sky clear and the sun bright. My sinking speed was less than a foot and a half a second.

"I caught a glimpse of the Michigan shore—just a dim line—within a few minutes.

"Surprisingly enough I was feeling lift—rising air—throughout the lake crossing. I'd been warned to expect strong down drafts.

"While still ten or twelve miles from shore I began to see the land clearly and recognized that I had drifted thirty miles south of Frankfort to Manistee, Mich. The time was 6:57, the crossing taking only fifty-two minutes for an average speed of seventy miles an hour.

Loses 5,000 Feet in Crossing.

"I still had 8,000 feet of altitude, having lost less than a mile in making a water crossing of sixty miles from Sturgeon Bay to Manistee. Then I turned northward and put the nose well down to buck the strong northwest wind to Frankfort.

"I passed over the Frankfort airport at 4,000 feet at 7:12 and floated around for another eleven minutes before landing."

Bellak indicated his exuberance over performing the crossing by stunting his sleek German built Minimoa soaring plane to the delight of 2,000 persons who were awaiting his arrival. His descent from 4,000 feet to the ground was a series of loops, wingovers, and rolls.

HITLER ORDERS PLANE CAPABLE OF FLYING TO U. S.

BERLIN, June 12.—(F)—Adolf Hitler has placed an order for a new airplane with space enough for a conference room and sufficient range to fly nonstop from Berlin to New York. The airplane is a four-engine, low wing land machine of a type known as Condor FW 200. It has an average speed of 220 miles an hour and a cruising range of 5,600 miles.

A similar plane crossed the north Atlantic to the United States last August and later flew from Berlin to Tokio for a long-distance record. Subsequently it fell into Manila bay.

Hitler is not a pilot, but flies on occasion. Today he took off from Vienna for an undisclosed destination.

Pilot and Girl Die in Blazing Plane Crash

Rockford, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—The pilot of a sports plane and his brother's fiancée were burned to death here today because he was unwilling to risk the lives of several children in an emergency landing. The victims were Ray Zuelke, an unemployed commercial flyer from Milwaukee, and Miss Audrie King, 25 years old, a Rockford secretary.

Zuelke, who was 34 and lived at 3242 North Cambridge street in the Wisconsin city, flew to Rockford in a friend's little two-seater coupe, landing about 3:30 p. m. He had the plane serviced and, shortly after 5 o'clock, he and Miss King, who was to have married his brother Stanley, climbed in happily and were off.

Spectators See Flames.

About fifteen minutes later spectators on the north edge of town saw the craft on fire. Hundreds, attracted by the scene, watched breathlessly as the little ship dove for the earth. It was evident that the pilot was going to try for a landing on the Oxford street playground.

Those near the playground were horror stricken. A number of children were playing ball there. Some of them were almost certain to be struck before the plane could roll to a stop.

But Zuelke, the pilot, also saw the danger. In spite of the flames which were eating at his plane, and his certain knowledge that he had few moments at best, he gunned the little ship and swung back aloft.

Falls in Blaze.

As he did so his whole plane was engulfed in the fire. The next moment it fell apart and plunged to the earth on the Rockford Country Club golf course, only a few blocks from the playground.

Golfers rushed up, in the hope of pulling the occupants from the wreckage, but the flames were too hot. They couldn't get near the ship. The two bodies were burned almost beyond recognition.

3 BROTHERS IN RUSH TO GET HOME FIND IT IS COSTLY BUSINESS

Lakewood, N. J., June 12.—[Special.]—At 9:30 o'clock last night Irving Ungar was arrested for driving 50 miles an hour on River avenue here. He was fined $5 and costs.

At 10:20 p. m. his brother, Edward, was arrested for making 65 miles. He was fined $10 and costs.

At 11:45 p. m. Sidney Ungar, another brother, was arrested in Forked River, 20 miles south of here. He was going fifty. The fine was $2 and costs.

The three young men were returning to their New York homes in separate cars from a family reunion at Atlantic City.

BARE $75,000 PLOT TO KIDNAP CHILD OF BANKER STERN

A $75,000 ransom demand on Lawrence F. Stern caused a flurry of excitement among police and federal authorities last Friday, it was disclosed yesterday. Stern is chairman of the executive committee of the American National bank and senior partner in the investment banking firm of Stern, Wampler & Co.

The ransom note said that Stern's daughter, Sue, 11 years old, was in the hands of kidnapers. At the time, however, she was safe in the family summer home at 212 Maplehill road, Glencoe.

Authorities have been unable to determine whether the case is a hoax or a bungled attempt at extortion. Two youths handed the note to Park Policeman Emil Westberg at the foot of Monroe street. It was addressed to Stern at his town home, 179 Lake Shore drive. The youths said they had volunteered to deliver the note for a smaller boy who told them a stranger had paid him 25 cents to run the errand. The younger boy had been unable to find the address. The other boys are Joseph Aloisio, 18 years old, of 2345 Huron street, and Steve Smelcer, 16, of 2339 Huron street. Unable to find the address, they opened the note and took it to the policeman.

Louvre Robbed of Masterpiece; Search Crowd

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Picture on page 4.)

PARIS, June 12.—One of the rarest treasures of French painting has been stolen from the famous Louvre museum in a sensational daylight robbery under the eyes of a throng of art lovers and tourists, it was revealed today. A world-wide alarm has been sounded in the search for the masterpiece.

The painting is Jean Antoine Watteau's L'Indifferent. Although tiny in size, Louvre experts described it as one of the finest in the world. Art experts valued it at $175,000.

Police Without a Clew.

The picture was stolen in the museum yesterday. Twenty-four hours after the robbery police were without a clew after a secret search for the masterpiece.

A guard in the gallery wing of the museum discovered the picture was missing at 4 p. m., Sunday. A robbery alarm was sounded. All doors were shut. Dozens of detectives hastened to the scene and searched all visitors.

Commissaire Andre Roches, France's foremost detective, was assigned to lead the search for the picture and the robber. He described the theft as "daring but easy." Pictures in the Louvre are loosely fastened so that they can be removed quickly in case of fire.

Police Are Mystified.

Police said the robbery was not an act of a crank. They declared the theft is difficult to explain since the painting is known all over the world and could not fail to be recognized in art circles where alone it could be disposed of at a profit.

L'Indifferent is a 10 by 8 inch portrait of a debonair young man, wearing an elegant cape, cocked hat, a jacket with lace edges, tight fitting pants, and silk stockings.

Leonardo da Vinci's famous Mona Lisa was stolen from the Louvre on Aug. 21, 1911. It was recovered in Florence, Italy, two years later.

Baseball, Age 100, Throws a Celebration

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cooperstown, N. Y., June 12.—Baseball today forgot interleague rivalry and staged a birthday party in this picturesque little village where 100 years ago Abner Doubleday, a 20 year old West Point student, marked out base lines with a cane and originated the national pastime.

This was the centennial of a great sport and it was celebrated in fitting style. Similar galas are to be held each hundred years, though it is doubtful if future events will be as merry as today's picnic, masquerade, and frolic.

The festival included dedication of baseball's hall of fame and museum and a parade of figures depicting the different eras since Doubleday originated the game that was to make him more famous than his army career in which he became a major general. He saw service in the battles of Monterey and Buena Vista during the Mexican war and at the bombardment of Fort Sumter, the second battle of Bull Run and the battle of Antietam during the civil war.

Local Wag Saves Day.

The tempo of today's celebration was set while Postmaster General James A. Farley was selling the first sheet of baseball commemorative stamps to Commissioner K. M. Landis. A local wag, perched atop a building, shouted across the street to the village postmaster:

"Hey, Mel, you better get back to sellin' them stamps. Jim Farley's watchin' you."

Timing of the gag was perfect and its effect electric. It got the speakers, waiting in dour mien to orate with sentimental fervor, off on the right foot.

After the speaking, Hans Wagner and Eddie Collins, two of the game's immortals, chose up sides from among a group of American and National league stars for a seven inning exhibition.

Introduce Game's Immortals.

The formal program was launched at high noon with the introduction of living players named to the hall of fame and a reading of the names of deceased greats who have been honored with plaques in the museum.

Before the immortals were named, three ribbons across the Hall of Fame were cut by President William Harridge of the American league, President Ford Frick of the National league, and William Bramham, president of the minor leagues' association, officially opening the edifice.

Ty Cobb was the first player named, but he did not respond. He arrived later, explaining he had been ill with indigestion and had stopped off at a hospital in Utica. Wagner, Tris Speaker, Napoleon Lajoie, Cy Young, Walter Johnson, George Sisler, Collins, Grover Cleveland Alexander, and Babe Ruth were introduced in that order. Each made a pleasant little speech. Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics, listed among the immortals, also was called and talked.

Autograph Hunters Busy.

The big birthday party got under way officially at high noon, though there was a lot of barbering during the morning among the old timers and the present generation and baseball folks generally. The autograph bugs started swarming shortly after dawn and before dedication of the hall of fame, even baseball writers were asking for signatures on per-

SENATE ALLOWS $225,000 YEAR FOR 'EXPERTS'

Amends House Bill to Boost Pay Roll.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—The senate today added $225,000 to the annual appropriation for the department of commerce for the employment of a private brain trust by Secretary Harry L. Hopkins.

The vote approving an amendment inserted by the appropriations committee authorizing Hopkins to employ "experts and specialists" was 41 to 23. The senate then passed without a record vote the $122,624,410 appropriation bill for the departments of state, justice, and commerce. Seven Democrats joined 16 Republicans in voting against the appropriation.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], who led a fight against the Hopkins brain trust item, said he was completely baffled by the "paragraph of generalities" by which the appropriations committee sought to justify it.

Purpose as Outlined.

"The committee has increased the item for salaries in the office of the secretary by $225,000," the committee report said, "for the purpose of providing a highly qualified executive staff in the department to participate with the secretary in appraisals of the larger problems that affect the commerce and industry of the country, in assisting congress in drafting and considering legislation affecting business, in maintaining contact with various agencies of the government dealing with particular phases of the national problem having a bearing on affairs of industry, and for developing and carrying through new constructive work that will be welcomed by business men, directed toward improvement of business conditions at the earliest possible moment."

Senator Vandenberg demanded an explanation by Senator Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], manager of the bill, of "the enormous increase in the appropriation for personnel in Mr. Hopkins' office." He wanted to know what the men would do.

Seek Business Recovery.

McKellar said he understood that it would be their job to bring about business recovery.

"Doesn't the department have an advisory council of big business men on whom it relies for such assistance?" Senator Vandenberg wanted to know. McKellar said his experience had taught him that people who aren't paid don't do anything.

"The first thing provided is a highly qualified executive staff," said Senator Vandenberg. "Does that mean we haven't got one now?"

"We haven't got one now," McKellar admitted.

"I notice," said Senator Vandenberg, "that they're going to assist congress in drafting legislation. Is that one of their functions?"

"O, no; nothing like that," McKellar replied.

"I'm just reading from the senator's report," Vandenberg remarked.

Five Men at $9,000.

The bill provides that not more than $135,000 of the appropriation increase may be used for "experts and specialists." Presumably the remainder of the fund will be used for extra clerical hire. Hopkins submitted a breakdown of the requested increase in personnel, as follows: 5 at $9,000, 5 at $7,500, 5 at $5,600, 5 at $4,600, 5 at $3,800, 5 at $3,200, 5 at $2,600, 5 at $2,000, 5 at $1,800, 10 at $1,620, 5 at $1,140, and 2 at $1,080.

The bill specifically provides that the superexperts are to be appointed without regard to the civil service laws or the classification act. Only those receiving $5,000 or more are to be appointed by the President with confirmation by the senate. The bill now goes back to the house for consideration of the senate amendment, and if the house approves it will become a plum tree for Thomas G. Corcoran, the No. 1 brain truster.

CHARGES FARM POLITICS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.] charged in the senate today that Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace is organizing farmers in the American Farm Bureau federation for political purposes.

The senator exhibited photostatic copies of letters written by county agents urging farmers to join the American Farm Bureau federation and giving that organization sole credit for the benefit payments received by the farmers. George explained that the county agents are official representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment administration and are paid jointly by the extension service of the department of agriculture and the counties which they serve.

Plea for Membership Made.

One of the letters, signed by J. W Whittaker, a county agent at Greenville, Miss., and dated Nov. 15, 1938, was headed "United States Department of Agriculture." It said:

"The farm bureau has helped the farmer to get benefit payments for reducing his cotton crop, soil building payments for improving his land, and parity payments such as you are receiving. The membership fee is $2. . . . Don't you think you ought to be a member of this organization and help pay for some of the benefits you secure?"

Another letter, dated March 15, 1939, at Marion, Ala., and signed by R. L. Griffin, county agent, was addressed to "The Dear Farmers of Perry County."

"We will begin delivering 1938 agricultural conservation checks Friday of this week," it said. "Since 1933, farmers in Perry county have received $1,532,780 in AAA benefit payments. You will receive $254,000 this year as cotton reduction and soil building payments and approximately $200,000 as a parity payment. The total amount of money received from the federal government in benefit payments during the six years of AAA amounts to the gross return for the total cotton production in Perry county for the last three years.

Letters Sent Out Free.

"There is only one way to continue to receive these payments; it is through membership in an organization which is strong enough to tell congress what you want. The American Farm Bureau federation is the largest farm organization in the world, and only through this organization have you been able to receive these payments. The annual dues in the farm bureau are $2 per year."

Both letters were mailed free under the official frank of the department of agriculture, Senator George declared.

When Senator George read the passage giving the farm bureau sole credit for the benefit payments, he commented: "It must indeed be news to the senators who occupy seats in this body that they have been driven only through the American Farm Bureau federation, by Edward O'Neal [president of the federation], who is merely a shirt front for Mr. Earl Smith of Chicago, the head of the organization."

Smith is president of the Illinois Agricultural association.

Recalls Wallace Speech.

Senator George recalled Secretary Wallace's recent speech at Little Rock, Ark., advocating a cotton export subsidy, and asserted that O'Neal had been making speeches in Georgia urging farmers to support Wallace's export subsidy scheme.

Senator George, a survivor of President Roosevelt's ill-fated purge campaign of 1938, is an opponent of the Wallace export subsidy scheme. Under his leadership the senate rejected a cotton export subsidy amendment offered by Senator John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.] to the 1 billion, 200 million dollar agricultural department appropriation bill a few weeks ago.

"The secretary of agriculture has delighted in going on record with the statement that he proposed, notwithstanding the action taken in the senate, to exercise his authority under existing law and to put in effect a subsidy," said Senator George. "That, Mr. President, notwithstanding the fact that it is combatted, earnestly and sincerely combatted, by every man in the cotton industry, from top to bottom.

"I do not fear the secretary of agriculture; and I do not cringe or bow the knee to any man in official position in this administration. For that reason, I do not hesitate to say that the campaign now being carried on in my state is being carried on only because some of us here have an independent judgment and are willing to undertake to represent all the people of our states."

CORONER TO INVESTIGATE DEATH.

Mrs. Mary E. Loveless, 59 years old, died last night in her home at 833 Agatite avenue, and the coroner's office will make an investigation to determine whether injuries which she suffered in an automobile accident last September contributed to her death.

NATION LAGGING ON WAR PLANES, LINDBERGH SAYS

Loses Position to Germany, Flyer Testifies.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—The United States will require from three to five years to regain the position it has lost to Germany in the field of applied and basic aeronautical research, essential to our national security, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh told the house appropriations committee in testimony made public today in connection with the reporting to the house of the supplemental military appropriation bill for 1940.

Col. Lindbergh now is on extended duty with the army air corps on inactive status, engaged in a study of all phases of aeronautical research.

European nations, Col. Lindbergh told the committee, have made "tremendous progress in both production and research in comparison with progress in the United States.

Far from Top, He Says.

"A few years ago," Col. Lindbergh testified, "we led the world in both military and commercial aviation, but during the last five years the lead in military aviation has been taken away from us, so that today we stand far from the top.

"In commercial aviation I feel that we still hold the leading position, and our lead in that will depend on whether or not we concentrate on commercial aviation in the future, as we have in the past."

In the field of applied and basic research, Col. Lindbergh said, the United States will require from three to five years to regain leadership.

Behind in Performance.

Asked whether American military airplanes are inferior to those of Europe in quality, Col. Lindbergh replied: "We are not behind in quality as applied to workmanship and equipment, but we are behind in quality as applied to the performance of military aircraft. In quantity, however, we are not in the position of being able to produce in this country on a peacetime basis as much as is now being produced in Europe. The production of military aircraft in Europe today is far ahead of the present production in the United States.

"I feel that we have a great natural advantage in the United States and that consists of being able to place a large portion of our military reserve in the quality of our aircraft. Our geographical position does not necessitate the maintenance of a huge air fleet ready to enter war on a moment's notive. We gain strength by devoting more attention to the quality of our air corps than to the number of aircraft it contains.

HOUSE VOTES TO TAX INCOMES IN D. C. EXCEPT OWN

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—The house voted an income tax today for the District of Columbia, but members exempted themselves and their employés from its provisions.

An amendment providing a tax ranging from 2 per cent on incomes over $2,000 to 7 per cent on incomes over $9,000 was adopted in the District of Columbia revenue bill as a substitute for a business privilege tax which had proved unpopular with Washington business and professional men.

The vote on the amendment was 186 to 130. Officials estimated the levy would affect about 115,000 government employés in the city, as well as other residents. The tax, as adopted, provides no exemptions for dependents, such as allowed in the federal income tax law, but does allow credits to nonresidents for income taxes paid in their home states.

BAND AND CHORAL CHIEFS FETED AT TRIBUNE DINNER

More than 50 band and choral directors who will participate in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE musical activities this summer were guests of THE TRIBUNE last night at a dinner given in the Normandy House restaurant, 800 Tower court.

Final plans for a series of 21 choral concerts starting next Sunday in three Cook county forest preserves were discussed. Oscar A. Anderson, supervisor of instrumentalists in the Chicago public schools, spoke on the 1,000 piece massed band which will appear in the tenth Chicagoland Music Festival Saturday night, Aug. 19, in Soldiers' field.

Among the guests were Miss Helen Howe, director of music in the Chicago public schools; Capt. Howard Stube, chairman of the instrumental contests of the festival; Don Joyce, representing Capt. Charles G. Sauers, general superintendent of the preserve district, and Dr. F. E. Bollaert of East Moline, Ill., chairman of the Mississippi Valley Music festival, which again will be held this summer in connection with THE TRIBUNE'S festival.

PRESIDENT CITES ARMING WORLD AT WEST POINT

456 Cadets Get Diplomas from Roosevelt.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt returned to the White House tonight from his boyhood home on the Hudson river where he was host to King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain, not as chief executive, but as squire of Dutchess county.

En route to the capital, the President paused at West Point, N. Y., to present diplomas and commissions as second lieutenants to 456 gray clad cadets of the United States military academy.

In the spacious armory of the institution he cited the royal visit as an example to neighborliness to a war arming world. He said:

"Recently we have had the pleasure of a visit from King George VI., as a courteous recognition of the cordiality and good will which prevails between two great nations. Its significance lay in the fact that friendship could exist between the two countries since both were without fear of any act of aggression of one against the other.

Calls for Coöperation.

"To achieve that result, strength is needed; strength which comes, not from arms alone, but from restraint, understanding, and coöperation which in turn are the product of trained and disciplined minds."

The President obviously was worn out by four days of entertaining royalty. His speech, which was addressed entirely to the graduates, was delivered in tired tones. It was more sober than most of his speeches and contained no phrases coined to catch applause.

The theme of the President's address was that leadership is important only when it brings about team work. In this age of mechanization and specialization the need for leadership has become and the opportunities of leadership have become greater than they were in the days of the Macedonian phalanx or close order attack, he indicated.

Points to Machine Age.

"The machine age has laid its iron grip upon the world's armies; and technical developments have demanded the modernization of our military establishments, a program which has been prosecuted vigorously during the last six years," he said.

"During recent months international political considerations have required still greater emphasis upon the vitalization of our defense, for we have had dramatic illustration of the fate of undefended nations.

"We seek peace by honorable and pacific conduct of our international relations, but that desire for peace must never be mistaken for weakness."

Here Mr. Roosevelt departed from his text and added another sentence to emphasize the policy he defined as a result of the swallowing of Austria and Czecho-Slovakia by Germany.

"I need hardly be more specific than that," he said in measured accents.

Soldier Controling Factor.

The President said that recent conflicts in Europe, the far east, and Africa bear witness that the individual soldier still remains the controling factor in war. For this reason, he told the cadets, the tactics of the future intensify, rather than diminish, the necessity for high qualities of leadership.

The President spoke from a platform draped with the academy colors—gray, gold, and white. The platform glowed with the colorful dress uniforms of the faculty heads. In the mass of blue was Rear Admiral Wilson Brown, commandant of the naval academy, friendly rival of the military institution on sporting fields, who sat beside Brig. Gen. Jay L. Benedict, commandant of West Point.

Graduates Are Cheered.

The graduates were massed in the center of the armory. On either side were undergraduates who cheered the graduating cadets who took their commissions from the President in gloved left hands, saluted and shook the commander in chief's hand with their bared right hands. The loudest cheers went to football and other sport heroes.

In the armory the academy band played "Hail to the Chief" and "The Star Spangled Banner." The ceremonies were Spartan in simplicity. A chaplain delivered an invocation, the President was introduced in a sentence, he spoke, he presented the diplomas, there was a closing prayer and cheers for the chief executive from the cadet corps.

Lunches with Commandant.

After the ceremony the President lunched at the commandant's house. He left the academy at 1 p. m. and arrived in Washington at 7:10 p. m.

Tomorrow he will meet with the "big four" of congress—Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Senate Majority Leader Barkley, and House Majority Leader Rayburn. He will ask for a report on the prospects of an early adjournment.

If congress can get out by July 15, Mr. Roosevelt will delay his projected trip to the San Francisco fair until after that date. If the leaders feel there is no chance of adjournment until after that date, he will leave about July 2.

Mrs. Ellsworth S. Grant, the former Marion H. Hepburn.

West Hartford, Conn., June 12.—[Special.]—The marriage of Miss Marion Houghton Hepburn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Norval Hepburn, to Ellsworth Strong Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Grant of West Hartford, took place here at noon today in the garden of the home of her parents.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Miss Katharine Hepburn, the actress, and Miss Margaret Hepburn. Cleveland Amory of Milton, Mass., was best man for Mr. Grant. The ushers were Caleb Foote, Charles Butcher and Bruce Foster of Boston, Calvin Stillman of New York, John T. McCutcheon Jr., and John Schweppe of Chicago, and Richard Houghton Hepburn and Robert Houghton Hepburn.

AGREE TO ACT ON NEW WAY TO FILL COURT VACANCIES

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—The senate judiciary committee agreed today to vote June 26 on a proposed constitutional amendment to change the method of selecting Supreme court justices.

The measure, designed to assure that all geographical sections of the country be represented on the court, was introduced by Senator Charles O. Andrews [D., Fla.]. It provides that the court have not less than nine members and that no two justices be from a region within the same Circuit court of appeals.

Three-fourths of the states would have to ratify the amendment before it became operative.

The amendment also would provide for at least nine Circuit courts of appeals, composed of at least one judge from each state within each circuit. Justices and judges would be appointed as now by the president, subject to senate confirmation.

FIGHT FOR LIFE OF KONKOWSKI, ILL WITH POISON

Rallies After Coma; Trial in Job Sale Case Delayed.

Former Ald. Frank E. Konkowski was rallying last night in St. Mary's of Nazareth hospital from an illness which his physician said was brought on by poison. The physician, Dr. Peter S. Orzynski, said he had about an even chance to recover. Konkowski was taken to the hospital early in the morning after his family found him unconscious on the bathroom floor in his home at 1030 Chicago avenue.

The politician's sudden illness caused the delay of his second trial in connection with the alleged sale of police jobs, which was scheduled to start yesterday before Judge William J. Lindsay in the Criminal court.

James M. Burke, his counsel, announced in court that Konkowski had suffered a stroke. Subsequent investigation by the state's attorney's office, however, brought statements from Dr. Orzynski and Brunon Bielinski, an intern in the hospital, that the politician apparently had attempted to take his life.

Finds Stain on Forearm.

Dr. Orzynski said he smelled iodine on Konkowski's breath when he was summoned to the home and that he found a brown stain, as if from iodine, on the politician's right forearm. He said Konkowski's family showed him an empty two ounce phial that had contained iodine.

The family later told police there had been no iodine in the house and that Konkowski had been stricken after eating chili with friends Sunday night. Dr. Orzynski, nevertheless, said Konkowski "must have taken some kind of poison or drug internally." Intern Bielinski said the former alderman was suffering from some corrosive poison.

The Racine avenue police report of the case said that Konkowski "took some form of poison while despondent."

Last Rites Administered.

Last rites of the Catholic church were administered to Konkowski shortly after noon. His mother and sister were admitted to the hospital in midafternoon, but the former alderman still was in a coma. He rallied last night.

Konkowski's trial was to have been on charges brought by Paul P. Rozek, 2033 Augusta boulevard, an insurance broker. He alleged that he paid $600 to Konkowski and Stephen Idzikowski, a former precinct captain, to obtain a favorable position for Rozek's son, Edward, on the police civil service list.

Konkowski and Idzikowski were acquitted March 24 of a similar charge by another complainant.

300 SEEK PLACES AS CLIPPER'S 1ST PAY PASSENGERS

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—Six hundred persons who want to fly the Atlantic as passengers, including more than 300 who have requested reservations to make the first flights as revenue passengers, have written to Pan-American airways, a check of the files showed today.

Many persons have made cash offers, and when the airline was unable to reveal what the fare might be, some eager passengers made a guess at it and sent in checks. One man filled in the amount as $1,500. The company returned all checks and notified the applicants that their names were being listed in the order in which they had been received.

ST. LOUIS MILK PRICE SLASHED 3 CENTS QUART

Dairies Hope to Check Declining Sales.

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—[Special.]—The retail price of all grades of milk was cut 3 cents a quart today by leading St. Louis dairies. The new price of 10 cents a quart for grade A milk is the lowest here in six years.

"The reduction was made as a means of meeting competition and to stimulate sales," said E. M. Kerckhoff, vice president of the Pevely Dairy company.

Cash and Carry Price Low.

Until last January the cash and carry price of grade A milk in the stores was 12 cents a quart, 1 cent under the delivered price. At that time, however, small distributors began servicing stores with milk in gallon containers which permitted the stores to sell for 36 cents a gallon.

A St. Louis ordinance permits milk to be sold in large containers, contrary to the laws of many other cities, which require home delivery in containers not larger than one quart.

Drivers on the extensive delivery routes of the large dairies were forced to charge their customers 13 cents a quart, or if sold in gallon containers, 40 cents a gallon. Under these higher prices, the drivers' sales fell off alarmingly. The price of delivered milk by the gallon was cut to 32 cents today along with the cut of quarts to 10 cents.

Escape Paying Union Drivers.

Some of the small dealers also gained an advantage over the larger operators by marketing milk through peddlers, who built up a considerable volume of business and escaped paying the union scale of $39 a week to milk wagon drivers.

The large dairies, by reducing the price, hope to win back much of the business that was lost.

There was no immediate indication that the price paid to farmers will be reduced as a result of the price war between the distributors. The present price paid to producers is $2.20 a hundredweight of fluid milk, or about 4.8 cents a quart. An increase of 10 cents a hundredweight was approved April 1 under an amendment to the milk marketing order for the St. Louis milk shed.

Zane Grey Tells of Sharks So Fierce They Rock Boat

San Pedro, Cal., June 12.—(AP)—Author Zane Grey, returning today from Australia, said his party encountered sharks so ferocious they charge a large boat and shake it. "They are the white pointer shark, the most deadly of the shark family," Grey said. "When hooked, instead of running away they charge time after time. They often grab the propeller and shake the boat. They have been known to knock men out of boats with their tails." The Grey party brought back several of the sharks, one weighing 1,150 pounds.

Gunmen Slug Youth and Loot Home of Valuables

Two gunmen last night ransacked the apartment of Mrs. Hanora Eisen, 944 Lawrence avenue, struck and tied her son, Harold, 21 years old, and finally escaped with loot of more than $2,000. Mrs. Eisen owns a tavern at 63 West Grand avenue. She told police she is estranged from her husband, Max. Young Eisen walked into the apartment while the burglars were at work, and was quickly subdued with a punch on the nose, and the threat of death. He reported the thieves got $150 in cash, more than $1,000 worth of jewelry, and several coats and pieces of fur.

GUARD BRITISH ENVOY IN CHINA FROM ASSASSINS

Fear Death Plot Brewing Over Tientsin Affair.

SHANGHAI, June 12.—(AP)—A heavy police guard was placed about the home of the British ambassador to China tonight after discovery of a plot against his life.

Sir Archibald Kerr.

Precautions to protect the ambassador, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, were taken amid increasing British-Japanese friction at Tientsin and Japanese preoccupation with a poisoned wine conspiracy in which two Japanese officials died at Nanking today.

Nationality of persons concerned in the threats against Sir Archibald was not disclosed by British authorities, and conflicting unofficial reports attributed them respectively to Chinese and Japanese.

Considered Authentic.

A British authority said information of the plot was considered "authentic and accurate" and was "of a grave nature." Machine guns were said to have been placed at corners of the wall surrounding Sir Archibald's residence, in the western section of the international settlement.

Offices of the British embassy in downtown Shanghai also were under guard and the ambassador was provided with a bulletproof automobile and bulletproof vest. Sir Archibald was appointed ambassador Dec. 20, 1937, to replace Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, who was wounded when Japanese machine gunned his automobile Aug. 26, 1937.

Although one unofficial view alleged that Japanese had inspired the plot against Sir Archibald, another placed the blame on Chinese who feared he would yield to Japanese demands and order British concession authorities at Tientsin to surrender four Chinese accused of terrorism.

Advices through Japanese channels indicated that chances for an early amicable settlement of the Tientsin incident were fading. Japanese said their troops were taking up positions to isolate the British and French concessions.

Enforcement of the blockade measures was said to be decided upon for Wednesday unless British yielded to Japanese demands for surrender of four Chinese accused of slaying a Tientsin official.

In the poison conspiracy at Nanking Japanese announced the disappearance of two Chinese cooks who had worked at the Japanese consulate for five years. The Japanese accused them of poisoning wine served at a consulate dinner Saturday night.

Eighteen officials were seriously ill today.

American Injured in Raid.

CHUNGKING, China, June 12.—(AP)—The roof of the German embassy in this wartime capital was crushed today by a 1,000 pound bowlder loosened by a Japanese bomb in an air raid Sunday night. Another bomb exploded within 100 yards of the residence of T. Eliot Weil, third secretary of the United States embassy.

At Chengtu, 175 miles northwest of Chungking, Mrs. Sven H. Liljestrand of Jordan, N. Y., was injured slightly when a Japanese bomb destroyed her residence Sunday. Americans there cabled a protest to President Roosevelt.

Demolition and incendiary bombs dropped near the compound of the Canadian mission hospital property during the raid shattered the gate house and two missionary residences. One was occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Brown of Ann Arbor, Mich. The mission hospital, in which there were 300 patients, was not damaged.

JAPANESE NAVAL EXPERT SCOFFS AT FEARS OF U. S.

TOKIO, June 12.—(AP)—The Japan Times and Mail today quoted Commander Masahide Iwasaki, naval construction expert, as saying the United States naval program is aimed at Germany and not Japan. He returned to Yokohama after two years in the United States, where he inspected factories. An interview quoted him as declaring American naval experts admitted the United States navy is far behind those of other powers, especially Germany, and that a navy program must be drafted with Germany in mind.

"I have seen many American warships, and while they are well built, I believe the best of them cannot be compared with Japan's," Iwasaki said. "It is my opinion that Japanese warships are without equal."

[The Japan Times and Mail, printed in English, is Japanese edited and known as an organ of the foreign office.]

PICK JURY TO TRY EX-PENNSYLVANIA OFFICIAL IN FRAUD

Harrisburg, Pa., June 12.—(AP)—A jury of eleven Republicans and one Democrat was selected today to try Roy E. Brownmiller, former Pennsylvania state secretary of highways, on charges of padding the state government pay roll at election time last November.

Brownmiller was the first of a dozen Democratic state officials to go on trial as a result of a grand jury inquiry into broad accusations of graft and corruption. The charges grew out of the 1938 campaign. A legislative and the special grand jury investigation followed. Republican candidates, taking up the charges in campaign speeches, swept the election.

NEW 292 MILLION DEFENSE BILL IS ON HOUSE SLATE

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Over Republican protests the house appropriations committee started through congress today the last major part of the administration's defense program—a $292,695,547 war department bill, mostly for air corps expansion.

The measure would appropriate 120 million dollars for new aircraft to boost the army's winged forces to about 5,500 planes, $61,600,000 for facilities to accommodate the new craft and personnel, $14,250,000 for "educational" war supply orders, and $27,000,000 for increasing Panama canal defenses.

The huge bill represented the first attempt in recent history to supplement a regular, annual war department supply bill which congress already had approved. President Roosevelt recently signed the 1940 war department measure carrying more than 508 million dollars.

Pennsylvania State Senator Is Convicted of WPA Fraud

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12.—(AP)—A Pennsylvania state senator, Joseph P. Dando, was convicted in United States District court today of conspiracy to divert WPA labor to private use. Five WPA foremen and timekeepers were convicted with the Schuylkill county Democrat of using federal workers on his amusement center. All were released on bond.

TURN TO CHICAGO IN HUNTING CLEW TO BOMB SLAYER

Look Into Young Victim's Recent Stay in City.

Moorhead, Minn., June 12.—[Special.]—County Attorney James Garrity looked to Chicago tonight in his search for clews in the mysterious bombing death of J. Milton Lee, employé and a son of a Moorhead bakery owner. The young man was killed Saturday by a dynamite charge that had been placed in his automobile.

In addition to an inquiry into labor troubles in which Lee's bakery was involved, the prosecutor said he was searching the victim's past life for a clew to the motive for his death. This trial led to Chicago, where Lee recently attended a school for bakers.

Lee was a handsome young man, 28 years old, a graduate ot the University of North Dakota, and the possessor of a fine reputation in the community. He was engaged to marry Miss Margaret Lamb of Moorhead, and had no rival for her affections. Their marriage was set for next September.

In Chicago Four Months.

The latter part of January he went to Chicago, where he attended the American Institute of Baking for four months. He returned to Moorhead two weeks before his death.

Prosecutor Garrity said Miss Lamb told him there was a complete change in Lee's disposition last week. He appeared to be despondent and was uncommunicative, she said. When she asked him what was the trouble, she told the prosecutor, Lee merely replied, grinning, "O, I was just thinking thoughts."

Miss Lamb said she first noticed his preoccupation last Tuesday. She questioned him about it Wednesday and he maintained the same morose manner Thursday and Friday. He was killed Saturday. Lee's parents denied he had been despondent.

Garrity said he would go to Chicago later this week to make inquiries at the baking school and other places young Lee had spent his time there to attempt to learn whether anything had happened in recent months to change his outlook on life.

Excludes Accident Theory.

The young man had few close acquaintances in Moorhead, the prosecutor said, and none of them has been able to shed any light on his death.

Garrity said he was convinced young Lee was not accidentally killed in an attempt to slay his father, John Lee, co-owner of the Northwest bakery. Although the father and son kept their cars in the same three-car garage, the automobiles were of different make.

Young Lee's car had remained in the garage during the time he was in Chicago, thus precluding a possibility that it was mistaken by a bomber who might othewise have seen it on Moorhead streets and thought it figured in the labor troubles at the bakery.

The prosecutor said that, while he is still investigating the bakery's labor trouble, he believes no union as an organization is responsible for young Lee's death. He ordered the release this afternoon of Roland Tougas, head of an A. F. of L. bakers' union, whose members had walked out of the Northwest bakery eighteen months ago. Tougas had been held since Saturday.

AUTOPSY SHOWS DROWNING CAUSE OF BRIDE'S DEATH

Coroner Frank J. Walsh reported last night that an autopsy revealed no suspicious circumstances in the death of Mrs. Virginia Dorman. Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's physician, found that she had drowned when the sailboat in which she was sailing with her husband capsized in Belmont harbor last Wednesday.

Mrs. Dorman, who was 30 years old, was a bride of eight months. The autopsy was requested by her husband, Dr. L. V. Dorman, 30, a dentist, living at 4157 North Pulaski road, shortly before it was ordered at the request of the state's attorney's office. Coroner Walsh said Dr. Dorman made the request because of rumors that were being circulated. Dr. Dorman said his wife lost her grip on the overturned boat and that he dived repeatedly in a vain attempt to rescue her. He was rescued by the coast guard.

FOUND DEAD OF POISON IN CAR.

John Exby, 70 years old, of 3810 Fremont street, a retired tool and die maker, was found dead yesterday of poison in his automobile in front of a gasoline filling station at 4450 Clarendon avenue.

Flag Etiquet

(Story in Adjoining Column.)

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when it is passing, all persons present should face the flag. Men not in uniform should remove their hats with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder. Women should place the right hand over the heart.

When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall the union of the flag should be uppermost and to the observer's left.

When displayed over the middle of the street, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north or east.

When projecting horizontally from a staf the union should go clear to the peak of the staf (unless the flag is to be displayed at half staf).

SEIZE 4 ESCAPED PRISONERS; PUSH HUNT FOR 2 MORE

Buena Vista, Colo., June 12.—[Special.]—Four convicts who escaped from the Colorado state reformatory yesterday were captured today and search was continued for two others who fled with them.

Warden W. H. Johnson [AP Wirephoto.]

The six escaped when they seized Warden W. H. Johnson and three of his visitors during a baseball game at the prison. The three visitors were released unharmed, but the warden was taken along as hostage when the prisoners fled in an automobile stolen from a guard.

The fugitives repeatedly threatened Warden Johnson's life with a handmade knife during a twenty-mile ride. They finally stopped the car and were about to kill the warden when another automobile approached. The convicts then reëntered their car and sped away, leaving Johnson behind.

The four were recaptured without a struggle as they hovered over a fire they had built, shivering and hungry. The scene of the capture is dotted with abandoned mines, and it was believed the other two fugitives still are hiding in the area.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Goes to Prison for Theft

Lincoln, Neb., June 12.—(AP)—Former Lieut. Gov. Walter H. Jurgensen of Omaha entered Nebraska penitentiary today to start serving a two to five year sentence for embezzlement. He was convicted more than a year ago of taking $549 from Chester C. Kaderli, western Nebraska railroad man, in a stock transaction and later was ousted from office by court order.

TOMORROW SET APART AS DAY TO HONOR FLAG

Practices in Displaying Emblem Explained.

Up with the colors! Tomorrow is Flag day!

"I urge the display of our nation's colors on every public building, business house, and private home in the city," said Mayor Kelly in his Flag day proclamation, "and the participation, so far as is possible, in any ceremonies or exercises intended as an honor to our flag and to heighten respect for it and confidence in the ideals which it represents."

United States army negotations say the flag's blue field of honor always should be up and to the left, whether the standard is hung vertically or horizontally.

On the Marching Right.

In a procession, the flag's place is on the marching right. It may be carried in the center, but should be in front of a line of other flags. When a large flag is borne horizontally by a number of people, the blue field is forward and to the right.

When the flag is strung out from a window or on to a pole, the field is to the front. Suspended above a street, the flag should hang vertically with the field to the north in an east-west thoroughfare and to the east in a north-south thoroughfare.

On a staff, the flag's place is in the center and highest point in a grouping with other banners. The staff bearing the American flag is on top when crossed with another staff, and is to the right. The flag always must be at the peak when flown from the same halyard with the flags of states or the pennants of societies.

Each Should Have Own Staff.

It is disrespectful to fly national flags from the same staff—each should have its own. In the chancel of a church the flag staff should be at the speaker's right and other banners should be at his left. In the body of a church the flag's place is at the congregation's right.

The flag never should be used to cover the speaker's desk, or to drape the front of a platform. Bunting, with the blue stripes uppermost, serves these purposes. On a float, automobile, or boat the flag should be displayed only on a staff.

Tradition dictates that the flag should fly only from sunrise to sunset, although definite hours may be set by proper authority. Give the banner to the breeze briskly in raising it. Lower it slowly and ceremoniously. Never permit a fold to touch the ground—the skies are its place!

INJURY BRINGS U. S. AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE HOME

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, arrived here today for a nine day visit that will be more concerned with therapy than with diplomacy. He said that the reason for his trip was a "baseball shoulder" that was bothering him.

While he will see the President and Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the course of his stay, his main purpose is to have his shoulder put into good working order. He will return to France June 21.

Asked about the international situation in Europe, he confessed that it was hard to analyze. No one in France wants war, he said, and he has seen no evidence of hatred of any other country. On the other hand, France will fight if it becomes necessary.

GIRL SUES APPAREL STORE.

Miss Lilyan Weiner, 18 years old, 1244 South Springfield avenue, filed suit for $10,000 damages yesterday in the Circuit court against Rubin's Women's Apparel shop, 1314 Milwaukee avenue. Miss Weiner alleged that her eye was injured by a pin while she was trying on a dress on Jan. 29.

DEMOCRAT CHIEF AGAIN UNDER FIRE AS RAIL LOBBYIST

Protest on Chip Robert Given President.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—A fight between the east and the south over freight rates resulted today in a sharp complaint to President Roosevelt that L. W. [Chip] Robert Jr. of Atlanta, secretary of the Democratic national committee, was engaged in lobbying.

The complaint against Robert, a leader in the fight of southern states for an end to what they term freight rate discrimination against their section, was filed by Representative Martin J. Kennedy [D., N. Y.].

Expects G. O. P. Action.

Writing "as a good Democrat," Kennedy told the President in a letter dated June 10 that criticism of Robert's activities on Capitol Hill had reached the point "where I would not be surprised if the Republican leadership publicly called attention to the inconsistency which exists between his political position and his private interests."

"In view of the drive that Attorney General Frank Murphy is making against corruption in high places," Kennedy wrote, "it would seem to me that the Democratic national committee may well be challenged by the Republicans on this lobbying issue, for, while Mr. Robert is not an office holder and cannot be considered as having done anything corrupt, at the same time, as secretary of the national committee, his 'unofficial' activities subject the administration and the party to all sorts of criticism."

First Protest in March.

Kennedy first protested to the President against Robert's activities in March after Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York had appealed to members of the New York congressional delegation to oppose legislation which the New Yorkers interpreted as designed to upset the present differentials in freight rates between the north and the south.

At that time Kennedy told the President Robert was "the chief lobbyist" for the legislation. Kennedy was informed his letter had been referred to Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the national committee.

THE GREATER CHICAGO CAMPAIGN

By CALEB

NEVER content with merely marking time, the city of "I Will" is again launching on a fresh stride forward—with a seven-point program of acceleration for every phase of its activities known as the "Greater Chicago Plan."

Clinical studies of the city's development needs have been under way for several years: studies of traffic and transportation; studies of sites and facilities for industrial additions; studies of convention accommodations, and their enlargement; studies of taxation, of living costs, of employment possibilities, of construction opportunities, of increased domestic and foreign buying—and similar essentials to greater advancement toward a still finer, busier city.

Culminating these came a poll of some five thousand foremost Chicago business executives, and their response with four thousand specific suggestions as to how findings could be translated into action and results. Upon the data thus accumulated was built a practical, workable "Greater Chicago Plan," sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce, for which a vigorous drive is now under way.

Objectives to be realized by this plan are comprehensive—and the caliber and spirit of civic leadership behind them assure its undoubted success. These objectives, briefly, are designed to center new and more industries in the Chicago area—to upstep the city's building construction status—to bring more domestic and foreign buyers to Chicago markets—to revise the tax situation and effect reduced living costs—to secure legislation more favorable to Chicago interests—to develop the city's tourist and convention patronage through a consistent advertising campaign—to utilize more widely and profitably Chicago's educational and employment resources—and to exploit and extend Chicago's transportation . . .

Chicago, in short, is girding for new greatness! Assuring a still finer city in which to live, to work, to progress, and—above all—to be happy, is the significance the plan holds for every present and future Chicagoan.

Typical of the daring and vision which launched the Century of Progress Exposition—this further expansion program will carry Chicago another strong step forward, toward its final destiny as foremost metropolis of the world.

HALIFAX INSISTS FORCE WILL BE MET WITH FORCE

Eager for Peace, but Not Through New 'Munich.'

LONDON, June 12.—(AP)—In a speech designed to clear away any suspicion that the British government is planning a return to "appeasement," Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax told the house of lords today that Britain is prepared to meet force with force.

Halifax said the world today is in an "era of power politics" and served notice that the British government has no intention of changing her policy of resistance against force. "The spirit of the people of these islands today is far more robust and united than in 1914," he said.

Leaves Others to Choose.

In the course of a long debate in the house of lords Halifax outlined the government's policy as follows:

1. If force is used today, those who use it must count on force being met by force.

2. If there is no attempt or intention to resort to force the whole influence of this country . . . will be thrown, and rightly thrown, on the side of reaching a fair settlement by negotiation.

The foreign secretary said the world faces two alternatives, and today's debate will be worth while if it "has the effect of focusing the attention of all whom it might reach upon the incalculable advantage of changing the threatening, dangerous, and sinister methods of arbitrary force to methods of negotiation and peaceful settlement."

Denies New Appeasements.

Referring to criticisms of his speech last Thursday, when he expressed Britain's willingness to negotiate Germany's claims for economic "living space," Halifax said:

"It is a sign of confused thinking to argue that my speech last Thursday implied any change whatever in British policy. On the contrary, it was a perfectly frank attempt to get people here and elsewhere to face the realities of the situation."

Reiterating Britain's determination to stand by her guarantees to Poland, Halifax declared the Danzig problem, which has caused friction between Germany and Poland, "demands the utmost measure of patience and restraint if the most serious and dangerous consequences are to be avoided."

He emphasized Prime Minister Chamberlain's recent statement that Britain wishes the problem settled amicably, but that if any attempt is made to change the situation by force in such a way as to threaten Poland's independence, it will start a war certain to involve Britain.

Envoy Flies to Moscow.

A few hours before Halifax spoke, William Strang, foreign office expert on central European affairs, left by plane for Moscow as a special envoy with a new formula which the British government hopes finally will produce the long negotiated British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact. This would fill the last gap in the British-French bloc of nations.

Laborite Hugh Dalton said delays in reaching an agreement with Moscow—negotiations have been under way since March—were causing doubt and disquiet in the country and he asked whether the government was "spinning out time until they can wriggle back to the Munich policy."

Chamberlain leaped to his feet to state that Dalton "is very offensive in his suggestion."

Reveals Marriage

ELEANOR YOUNG BACON.

Newport, R. I., June 12.—[Special.]—Miss Eleanor Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Young of New York and Newport, was married secretly on April 5 in Warrenton, Va., to Robert Ogden Bacon Jr. of this city and New York, the bride's mother announced today. Mr. Young is chairman of the Alleghany corporation.

Mr. Bacon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ogden Bacon of New York and Newport. In June, 1934, he married Miss Agnes Landon Pyne. They were divorced in April, 1938.

GERMAN POLICE SEIZE CZECHS IN HUNT FOR KILLER

Nazis Hint Assassin Plot by Illegal Group.

PRAGUE, June 12.—(AP)—German police at Kladno tonight arrested several persons suspected of complicity in the slaying of a Nazi policeman. They also announced relaxation of punitive measures imposed on the industrial town.

Strictest secrecy was maintained by the authorities as to the identity and exact number held in connection with the death of Police Sergeant Wilhelm Kniest, who was shot on a Kladno street last Thursday.

It was announced that schools, which were closed following the incident, would reopen tomorrow. Kladno residents also were told they could again keep their windows open at night.

Conspiracy Suggested.

The arrests in Kladno were announced after several persons had been rounded up and brought to Prague.

Police earlier indicated special attention was being given to the possibility of a conspiracy involving many persons. Authorities were particularly anxious to determine whether the killing was planned by an illegal organization.

Anna Kopecka, young Czech nurse who surrendered and told police she had killed Kniest, was charged with misleading authorities in their investigation, German officials disclosed. had killed Kniest, was charged formally with misleading authorities in their investigation, German officials disclosed.

Quote Patriotic Nurse.

Acting as a patriot, the nurse took full responsibility, they said. She was quoted as saying, "I wanted to relieve the sufferings of the Czech people of Kladno." When the nurse surrendered German authorities had set a time limit for discovery of the slayer under penalty of further restrictive measures against the Kladno district.

In Kladno collections started for the $20,000 fine imposed on the community. Jews were being required to make the largest contributions and there were special assessments for persons known to have been supporters of former President Eduard Benes of the fallen Czecho-Slovak republic.

BRITAIN PREPARES TO ESTABLISH CABINET POST ON CENSORSHIP

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 12.—A ministry of information may be set up soon by the British cabinet and begin functioning in skeleton form. Apparently such a ministry would have no powers of censorship in peace time, but would coördinate information services. So far as the present plan can be learned, the ministry would take over censorship of all information in time of war and would be elevated to the position of a department headed by a cabinet minister. If it is established, even on a restricted basis, it probably will act as a general clearing house for information about government policy with the special aim of combating German charges of British encirclement.

200 WANDERING REFUGEES GIVEN HOLLAND HAVEN

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, June 12.—(AP)—The ministry of justice today announced it will permit the landing in the Netherlands of 200 of the 907 German Jewish refugees aboard the Hamburg-Amerika liner St. Louis. The refugees, refused admittance to Cuba and Mexico, are bound back to Germany aboard the liner.

Permission was granted for the emigrants to stay in this country, until they can find other refuge, following the request of a Netherlands Jewish refugees committee. Negotiations were reported under way in Paris to land the remainder of the passengers in France and Belgium.

6 SLOVAK PILOTS FLEE AND GIVE 3 PLANES TO POLES

WARSAW, Poland, June 12.—(AP)—Three Slovak military planes were reported today to have landed at Deblin, a Polish military center southeast of Warsaw. It was said the planes were turned over to Polish authorities by their six flyers.

The Slovak aviators were reported to have informed Polish officials that they preferred to take the planes out of the country "instead of having them taken over by the German army."

Slovakia became an independent nation in the dissolution of Czecho-Slovakia last March and went under the protection of Germany.

JEWESS CAUGHT WITH BOMB GETS LIFE SENTENCE

JERUSALEM, June 12.—(AP)—Rachel Ohev Ami, a comely young Jewess, was sentenced to life imprisonment today by a military court because she was caught carrying a time bomb in a basket of fruit.

The defense tried unsuccessfully to mitigate the punishment on grounds of her age. The prosecution contended she was more than 18 years old and therefore liable to the full penalty. The defense argued she was less than 18, and subject only to a maximum sentence of 10 years.

Disguised as an Arab, the girl was arrested Friday morning near the Jerusalem central prison, which usually has many Moslem visitors.

DANZIG ARRESTS POLISH CUSTOMS OFFICIAL AS SPY

Nazis Charge He Tried to Kidnap Troopers.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, June 12.—(AP)—Nazis tonight said the arrest of a Polish customs inspector, who was reported by one newspaper to be a confessed Polish spy, had sharpened political tension in the free city.

One possibility mentioned was that the government of Danzig might attempt arbitrarily to reduce the number of Polish customs inspectors despite Polish rejections of similar demands in the past.

The official Nazi newspaper in the free city, the Danziger Vorposten, said the arrested Polish official, Jan Henryk Lipinski, had admitted he was an espionage agent. The paper declared he had said he was seeking to learn why Hitler Troopers had gathered in Danzig during a sports festival last week-end in which 6,000 Brown Shirts from East Prussia participated.

Claim He Posed as Ex-Officer.

Lipinski was arrested Friday on charges of attempted espionage and kidnaping. A communique accused him of having represented himself as a former reserve officer of the German army and as such of having tried to obtain military information. It said he also attempted to persuade two Hitler Troopers to accompany him across the border into Poland.

Lipinski, Nazis said, was found in a nearby woods after the troopers called police.

The Nazi dominated Danzig senate sent a note of protest to the Polish commissioner here over the incident.

Fear "Serious Complications."

Just what form the quarrel over customs inspectors would take was in doubt, but Nazis acknowledged that refusal by both sides to recede from their positions "could lead to serious complications."

Nazis have asserted that the Polish customs force in Danzig recently had been doubled. They maintained it consisted of 120 inspectors and about 80 assistants, all permitted to carry arms.

[In Warsaw Polish officials said any attempt by the Danzig senate to reduce the number of Polish customs inspectors in the free city would be met with countermeasures. It was suggested the countermeasures would include customs reprisals, especially toward German shipping. Foreign office quarters in Berlin, irritated over the new incident in Danzig, said Poland was "daring to make the situation in the free city worse because she now has British and French backing."]

The future of the free city has been a sharp issue for months between Poland and Germany. Poland wants it to remain under the nominal administration of the league of nations and within the Polish customs jurisdiction. Germany, from whom it was taken after the world war, demands its return.

FRANCE SEEKS 4 RESCUE BELLS FOR SUB CREWS

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, June 12.—Instructions have been sent by the French minister of navy to the naval attaché at Washington to report whether and how it will be possible to purchase for the French navy four submarine rescue chambers like that used to rescue survivors of the sunken Squalus.

The French claim their submarines are constructed with many watertight compartments to provide maximum safety. Crew members also are provided with individual safety devices similar to the Davies apparatus used by the British, and must undergo frequent practice.

The success with which the rescue chamber was used in the case of the Squalus, however, has caused public demand that such chambers be made available at all French naval depots.

BRITONS ATTEMPT TO AID RED HELD BY NAZI POLICE

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 12.—Stephen Murray, a London barrister, has been sent to Berlin by sympathetic Britons to intercede in the behalf of Dr. Ivan Sekanina, a Czech communist leader, and twenty other Czech anti-Nazis, it was disclosed today. The Czechs are prisoners of the Nazis.

Dr. Sekanina was arrested in Prague on March 16 immediately after Germany's occupation of Bohemia and Moravia. Charges of treason against Germany were preferred against the lawyer.

Object to Charges.

Sekanina's friends said the charges were brought against him despite the fact that he was a Czech citizen at the time of the activities to which the Nazis objected. Furthermore, they said, he did not owe obedience to German laws prior to his arrest.

Murray was not permitted to see Sekanina. Neither would the authorities disclose where he was being held in custody.

Some said he is in a concentration camp at Sachsenhausen. Others declared he is confined in the Berlin headquarters of the GSP [secret police] together with the other Czech prisoners.

Relatives Get a Lawyer.

Sekanina's relatives have been allowed to retain a lawyer to contrive to obtain some relief for him.

Since Reichsfuehrer Hitler has warned that he will not tolerate pleas of mercy for prisoners, friends of the Czech prisoners fear Murray's intercession may further endanger the position of the defendants.

Sekanina was one of the foreign lawyers who offered to defend Ernst Torgler, former German communist leader, in the reichstag fire trial of 1933. Torgler and three Bulgarians were acquitted of charges of setting fire to the building, but were held in prison a long time after the trial. Marinus van der Lubbe, a mentally deficient Dutch youth, who confessed starting the fire, was sentenced to death.

EYE COMPROMISE ON PROGRAM FOR SUPERHIGHWAYS

Concede Bills as Drawn Have Little Chance.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—[Special.] A compromise to rescue Chicago's superhighway program was being discussed here tonight as the house of representatives convened for the final three weeks in the life of this session of the general assembly.

David Hunter Jr., who is arbiter in row over road bills.

Proponents concede enabling legislation as it passed the senate has little chance of receiving a majority in the house. The bills failed to receive a single Republican yea in the senate. The Republicans are in the majority in the house, and there also are downstate Democrats who do not approve of the present setup.

Authorize Note Issues.

The bills, in their present form, authorize Chicago and Cook county each to issue 30 million dollars in notes to be retired in twenty years from their revenue from the gasoline tax. The state is authorized to issue 60 million dollars of such notes, half to be spent on secondary roads downstate and half to be spent with funds from the Chicago local governments on a 90 million dollars superhighway system in Chicago.

Some of the objections to these proposals are founded upon politics and some upon economics. The Republicans, are reluctant to give a Democratic candidate next year a 30 million dollar downstate background for promises of roads for votes.

On the economic side of the question a strong majority is convinced that Chicago needs superhighways to remove the delays and hazards in this hub of the Illinois pavement system. However, Prof. C. C. Wiley of the University of Illinois, consultant for a joint legislative committee, reported that to finance the work with current revenue might save more than 10 million dollars in interest.

Downstate Objections.

As for the downstate work, objections have been raised to assigning 30 million dollars for local roads carrying only 6 per cent of the state's trafic, especially at a time when money is needed for deathproofing main traveled downstate routes.

The task of drafting a compromise will be assigned to the house roads and bridges committee headed by Representative David Hunter Jr. [R., Rockford].

As a leader in the movement that gave 1 cent of the gas tax to counties for secondary roads and as a long time advocate of elevated highways in Chicago, Hunter has qualifications as an arbitrator in any conflict between Chicago and downstate interests.

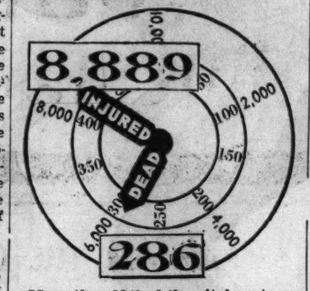
THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1939 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

AUTOIST KILLED AS CRASH ENDS CHASE BY POLICE

A motorist was killed last night while being chased by two motorcycle policemen through south side streets. His car crashed into another at 101st street and Avenue L. The victim was Raymond Wright, 30 years old, owner of a restaurant at 7115 Dorchester avenue.

With Wright was his brother-in-law, Clarence Smith, 39, of the Dorchester avenue address. They were seen driving at an excessive speed in 95th street by Motorcycle Policemen James Folsom and James Barry. The policemen said Wright drove through two stop streets as they pursued him.

At 101st street and Avenue L he ran a red light, they asserted, and smashed into the automobile of Joseph Gasper, 45, of 9401 Ewing avenue. Wright was thrown out and killed. Smith was shaken up and Gasper slightly cut. Smith later told police he and Wright were not aware of being chased. He admitted they had been drinking. Police said that Smith is an ex-convict.

Mrs. Elsie von Rosenberg, 51 years old, died in her home at 1221 Hood avenue of a heart attack believed to have been induced by internal injuries suffered June 3 in an automobile collision in Lake Geneva, Wis.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 364 persons had been killed in Cook county by automobiles since Jan. 1. Of these 286 were killed in Chicago, where 8,889 were injured in the same period.

DEMOCRATS ACT TO HALT BOOST IN AGE PENSIONS

Warn State of Peril to U. S. Gifts.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—Democratic leaders maneuvered in the house tonight for reconsideration of last week's action increasing the old age pension appropriation from 52 to 94 millions.

The increase was passed after the house had voted for a flat $30 per month pension, beginning July 1, to the 132,000 indigent aged now receiving the combined federal-state grant. The average pension is about $19.

U. S. Contribution Imperiled.

H. L. McCarthy, regional director of the social security board, repeated to Lieut. Gov. John Stelle today that the half of the pension supplied by Washington was in jeopardy because of the increase. McCarthy, Stelle, and S. L. Nudelman, director of finance, will confer with Gov. Horner tomorrow. Nudelman indicated last week the governor would veto the pension raise to avert bankruptcy.

McCarthy said that there was a grave question whether Washington would continue to allot funds to Illinois if the increase became law.

"Such an act [as the increase]," he said, "probably would double the total cost of old age assistance in Illinois. If federal funds were withdrawn from Illinois it would result in an increase in state expenditures for old age assistance from twenty-four to more than fifty millions and the amount available to individual recipients would be cut in half."

July 25 Is Deadline.

McCarthy and Stelle also pointed to the fact that the increase might prevent the state from certifying the availability of state funds to the social security board by June 25.

Unless funds are certified by that date, the board, they said, could not, grant the state federal matching funds for the coming three months.

McCarthy believes, he said, that a pending senate bill fixing a $40 maximum pension, based upon need, probably would be satisfactory to the board. The house bill makes the $30 minimum mandatory.

The house passed, by a vote of 88 to 20, the Rhodes bill, making the firemen's and policemen's minimum wage laws inoperative unless cities approve a special tax to pay the increased salaries. Earlier the house had refused to approve a bill that would have repealed outright the 1937 act setting basic pay for firemen and policemen in fifty-six downstate cities. Many of the cities insist they are unable to comply with provisions of the bill.

KU KLUX KLAN QUIZ ORDERED IN FLORIDA, FRANK MURPHY SAYS

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—Pushing its campaign against violations of civil liberties, the department of justice has opened an investigation into the activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Miami, Fla., it was learned today. The inquiry was revealed in a letter from Attorney General Frank Murphy to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The association has asked the attorney general to investigate the actions of klansmen in seeking to frighten Negro voters from the Miami polls on March 2 during a primary election. Murphy was requested to prosecute the klansmen under section 19 of the federal criminal code.

In his letter to Walter White, secretary of the association, Murphy states that a full report on the Miami situation has been ordered.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew pearls—your stomach pours out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and get you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25¢ package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

HOOVER DEFINES AMERICAN WAY FOR LIBERALISM

Class Is Urged to Keep Faith, Fight Tyranny.

Richmond, Ind., June 12.—[Special.]—Former President Herbert Hoover defined true American liberalism here today as an attitude of mind that insists that liberty lives by faith in the decency of average human nature and that rejects tyranny whether burocratic or economic.

"But the American system of liberty includes more in its philosophy than free speech, free press, and free assembly," he said in his commencement address at Earlham college. "It means more than freedom from search and seizure, and from slavery. It seeks to create free men."

Use of Terms Confused.

Mr. Hoover warned the graduates of confusion in the use of the terms "radical, reactionary, conservative, and liberal."

"I recommend to you," he said, "if opposition to those things which abuse and limit equal opportunity, such as privilege, monopolies, exploiation, or oppression, whether in business or government, is radical, then you should be a radical.

"If opposition to dictated economic life, whether of the Socialist, Fascist, or planned economy pattern, is reactionary, then you should be a reactionary.

"If demanding that we have a government of laws and not of burocrats is conservative, then you should be a conservative.

"And when you have been all these different things you will be one who wants to conserve liberty for in this multitudinous hail of perverted words you are standing for free men. Paradoxical as it seems, these days, that is true liberalism."

Hits Totalitarian Attitude.

Boston, Mass., June 12.—(AP)—Criticism of the New Deal attitude on property rights came today from Alfred M. Landon, the 1936 Republican presidential nominee, in an address to the graduating class of Boston university.

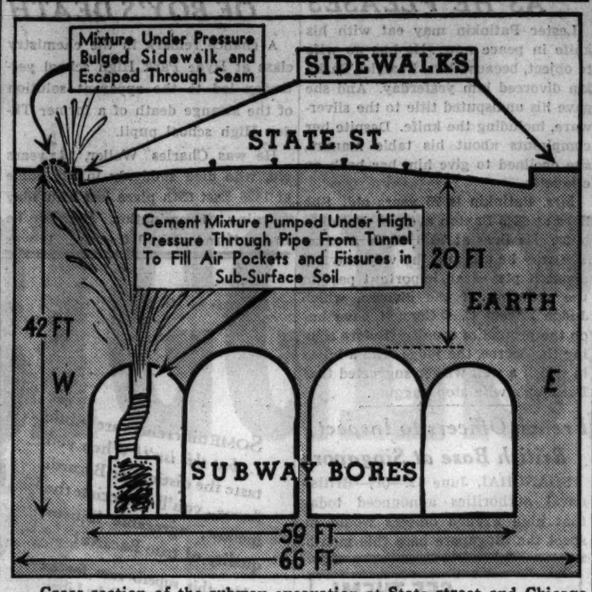
Landon, who received the honorary degree of doctor of laws, said the makers of the New Deal of the present administration believe the rights of the users are greater than the rights of the owners of property.

He added this belief is identical with the belief of the Fascist and communist governments.

Actor Pat O'Brien Named Typical American Father

Hollywood, Cal., June 12.—(AP)—Actor Pat O'Brien was notified today by the national Father's day committee of New York that he has been designated "the typical American father." O'Brien, whose two children are adopted, said he'd probably celebrate Father's day next Sunday.

Fill Pockets in Soil Over Subway



Cross section of the subway excavation at State street and Chicago avenue, indicating how a mixture of sand, cement, and water is being forced into the soil above the subway bore to plug air leaks and prevent surface from settling. Yesterday some of the mixture spurted from the sidewalk.

Sidewalk Bulges

A miniature geyser spurted suddenly from a six foot seam in the sidewalk yesterday morning at the southwest corner of State street and Chicago avenue.

For three minutes a thick, wet, sandy substance shot three feet into the air from the crevice. A section of the sidewalk adjoining the seam bounced up and down two or three inches.

The geyser came from the subway tunnel 20 feet below the sidewalk as construction crews endeavored to plug up air pockets in the soil.

The substance that shot up from the seam is grout, a mixture of sand, cement and water. It is pumped into the soil between the subway tunnel and the surface to plug air leaks during construction and to fill the pockets permanently, thus preventing settlement of surface paving.

City officials and Frank J. Herlihy, president of the Herlihy Mid-Continent company, contractors for the North State street section of the subway tunnel, said the surface burst indicated plenty of filling was being pumped into the subterranean cavities.

Teacher Saves 20 Children at School Picnic from Bull

Pana, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—While twenty children were eating a picnic dinner today an enraged bull broke through the schoolyard fence. Morton Grove Highway Police to Get 2-Way Radio

A contract to equip Morton Grove county highway police squad cars with two way radio sets was awarded yesterday by the county board to Doolittle & Falkner, Inc., with a low bid of $7,137. The Truscon Steel company was awarded a contract to build a transmission tower in the rear of the station for $3,750. Later the county plans to install two way radio sets on squad cars at the Homewood and Willow Springs stations.

ALDERMEN HEAR FIGHT OVER WHO IS TO SELL LIQUOR

Effort Made to Shut Out Combination Stores.

Tavern owners and package liquor store operators were ranged noisily against representatives of grocers, druggists, and department stores before a city council license subcommittee yesterday.

Applause and boos interrupted speakers for and against a proposal to prohibit the sale of liquor where other commodities are sold, giving exclusive rights to taverns and package liquor stores.

Council to Act Wednesday.

The subcommittee will make its recommendations to the license committee before the last regular council meeting tomorrow. The council is expected to vote also on a measure to permit taverns to remain open until 2 a. m. instead of 1 a. m. on weekdays and until 3 a. m. Sunday mornings. Higher fees are being considered.

Attorney Sidney M. Libit, speaking for a committee representing stores that handle liquor as a sideline, said they would gladly pay any license fee set by the council.

"We'll go up with the rest of them—taverns and night clubs—if necessary," Libit said.

"If the group is to be the target of monopolists, then we will return mud for mud. This would furnish ammunition to those who want state liquor stores or the return of prohibition."

Jacob M. Hartman, speaking for the chain drug stores, said that drug stores always have handled liquor according to ethical standards. On behalf of independent drug stores, Michael Ucitel said that alcohol always has been in the province of pharmacists.

The public has shown that it wants to be able to buy liquor in combination stores, said Stanford Clinton, for the department stores.

Proponents of the restrictive measure said that if it is not adopted hundreds of package liquor stores will close up shop for lack of business.

MERCHANDISE NATIONAL BANK

ANNOUNCES AN

Improved AUTO LOAN PLAN

$5 PER $100 PER YEAR
NO INSURANCE REQUIRED

MORE than half the automobiles (both new and used) are bought on time, with Auto Loans enabling the purchaser to pay out of income. In the past, the total cost of such auto CREDIT has been too high, chiefly because most borrowers have been compelled to buy INSURANCE.

As a result of our experience, we now offer a new Auto Loan Plan (at a lower cost) under which

INSURANCE IS NOT COMPULSORY

However, we will carry (and pay for) insurance protecting us against loss — and we recommend that our customers carry at least fire and theft insurance — but that is for each customer to decide — we do NOT require such insurance.

On both new and used cars, we (1) finance the purchase, (2) refinance existing loans and (3) make loans. To show the importance of this new plan — and the great cut in compulsory costs, we present this comparison — using actual charges now in effect:

This example is based on a 1939 Chevrolet Master 4-Door Sedan, with the purchaser making 1/3 down payment — the Unpaid Balance of $538 being financed for 12 months.

Total Compulsory Cost	Mdse Nat'l Bank	Great Auto Corp.	Large Chicago Bank	Outlying Chicago Bank	A Chicago Finance Company	A National Finance Company
Finance Fee	$26.90	$33.93	$32.19	$32.28	$24.80	Company Does Not Furnish
Compulsory Insurance	-0-	27.45	12.41	28.41	36.60
Total	$26.90	$61.38	$44.60	$60.69	$61.40	$71.08

WHY THE "First Again"

We believe that most people should be able to borrow from BANKS — at reasonable cost. Merchandise Bank claims to be modern — progressive. Occasionally we do something to prove that. For example, Merchandise Bank was the

1. First bank in America to issue a Certified Public Accountant's Report in an Annual Statement.
2. First bank in America to make public a detailed comparative statement of annual income and expenses.
3. First (and only) bank in America to publish a detailed and certified list of security holdings.
4. First Chicago bank to aggressively seek and make real estate loans under FHA regulations — and first to offer a 4½% rate locally.
5. First bank in America to make auto loans without Compulsory Insurance.

This improved Auto Loan plan—one of Merchandise Bank's many special services—well illustrates our basic policy: TO RENDER OUTSTANDING SERVICE TO EVERY CUSTOMER. Always we endeavor to adjust our requirements to fit the customer's situation. Whatever your banking problem, we will welcome the opportunity to discuss it with you.

George B. Harris
Chairman

VICE PROSECUTOR RESIGNS JOB IN CHAMPAIGN QUIZ

Raps Delays in Bringing Mayor to Trial.

Walker Butler, special assistant attorney general in charge of the investigation into vice at Champaign, last night confirmed reports that he has withdrawn from the case. He blamed delays over which he said he had no control.

Butler said that although sixty days have elapsed since Mayor James D. Flynn and forty-nine others were indicted in the investigation, the files in the case have not been placed in his hands. His suggestions to Attorney General John E. Cassidy for necessary preparations, he complained, have not been followed.

Delay Because of Election.

Butler said there had been opposition to proceeding with the case before the judicial election of June 5, in which Judge John H. Armstrong, Democrat, was defeated by former Judge Frank B. Leonard, Republican. The case was recently placed on the Circuit court calendar for next Monday, soon after former Judge Leonard takes office.

Butler said he has several pressing cases in his law practice in Chicago and that he twice wrote to Attorney General Cassidy asking that the proceedings in Champaign be speeded. Butler said he had not heard from Cassidy since May 10.

Accordingly, Butler said, he resigned in a special delivery letter to Cassidy last Saturday.

Cassidy Expresses Regret.

Cassidy expressed regret at Butler's withdrawal, but said he would prosecute the case himself if he is unable to get an attorney to replace Butler.

The case grew out of the fatal shooting of William Spurrier, a University of Illinois student, by a colored resort keeper last Feb. 16. The resort keeper, Margaret Strothers, was indicted for murder.

Charges that vice was rampant in the university city followed. On April 14 the wholesale indictments were returned. Accused of malfeasance with the mayor are Fred B. Hamill, state's attorney, and four Champaign commissioners. A number of persons were indicted as resort keepers.

Wage Increase Demands Halt Capital Building

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Construction of almost all new buildings in Washington, including the 13 million dollar Jefferson memorial, was halted today after union carpenters joined laborers on strike for higher wages. The carpenters, whose scale has been $12 for an eight-hour day, are asking a 12½ cent hourly increase. Laborers are asking 80 and 85 cents an hour; they have been getting 70.

FRIEND OF SLAIN SPINSTER TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL

Fred Hayward, who was twice arrested in connection with the radio cord murder of Miss Rose Neary on June 2, was in the custody of the sheriff last night after he had complained of ill-treatment by police.

Fred Hayward [front], and Attorney Emmett Byrne.

Hayward, who lives in Palos Park, told police last Wednesday that he had not left the Crane company plant, where he is an assistant foreman, during working hours on the day of the killing. Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the homicide squad said yesterday he had learned that Hayward had been away from the plant in the morning and again in the afternoon. His movements during the morning from 9 to 11:45 still were not satisfactorily accounted for last night, police said.

Chief Justice Michael McKinley ordered Hayward sent to the county jail last night. A hearing will be held at 11 o'clock today on Hayward's plea for a writ of habeas corpus. Hayward's attorney, Emmett Byrne, appeared with him in court yesterday.

DENTIST WHO KILLED WIFE AND SON GIVEN LIFE TERM IN PRISON

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 12.—[Special.]—Dr. Norman Stewart II., who surrendered to clear his conscience after hiding nearly four years, was sentenced to life imprisonment today in the hammer-knife slaying of his first wife and son, Norman III., after he had pleaded guilty and asked mercy of the court. Sentence was imposed by Judge Frank P. Patterson.

Dr. N. Stewart II. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Stewart, who is 34 years old, admitted he slew his wife and son 4, in their apartment June 13, 1935, after he had quit practicing dentistry and became a bartender. He said his mind suddenly went blank during a quarrel with his wife over money.

After the slayings Stewart fled to Florida where he worked as a bartender in a hotel under the name of Fred Lawson Flake. There he met and wed Margaret Adams of Moultrie, Ga., without disclosing his identity. His second wife became a mother last month. Haunted by memories of the killings he returned north last February without telling his wife and surrendered.

LESTER IS FREE TO EAT EXACTLY AS HE PLEASES

Lester Patinkin may eat with his knife in peace now. He has no wife to object, because Mrs. Beatrice Patinkin divorced him yesterday. And she gave his undisputed title to the silverware, including the knife. Despite her complaints about his table manners, she declined to give him her book on etiquette.

Mrs. Patinkin is 25 years old. She lives at 6846 Paxton avenue. Patinkin is 28. He lives at 7028 Clyde avenue. The way he ate and the way she felt about it played an important part in the granting of the divorce, which Judge Robert C. O'Connell gave her on the ground of cruelty. Before signing the decree, the judge read a letter in which a well wisher suggested that Patinkin's wife stop nagging.

CHANCE REMARK SOLVES CAUSE OF BOY'S DEATH

A chance remark in the chemistry class at Hyde Park High school yesterday led to the apparent solution of the strange death of a former Tilden High school pupil.

He was Charles Weller, 18 years old, who died suddenly in his home at 1426 East 65th place last Thursday morning. Examination showed he had suffered a skull fracture. It was not known, however, how the injury had occurred.

But yesterday, in the chemistry class, Miss Lorraine Miller, 17, of 6619 Kenwood avenue, remarked to Julius Perlman, also 17, of 5717 Dorchester avenue, that Weller had died.

"Then I must have killed him!" Perlman exclaimed. Woodlawn police later arrested him. He told them that he and Weller had had a fist fight last Wednesday night, but had parted friends. There were no knockdowns in the fight to cause a skull fracture, he said. A witness corroborated him.

LOOK Before You LISTEN!
When buying your new portable radio—the compact, easily-carried type that operates anywhere without having to be plugged in—be sure it uses standard batteries . . . batteries for which you can buy replacements when you need them.
Thirty-five manufacturers are now producing highly efficient, thoroughly satisfactory portable receivers. These wonderful new sets are sweeping the country. Most of them operate on standard batteries which give 250 to 300 listening hours, thanks to a revolutionary new tube that requires but little current. A few of these portable sets, however, use only special or odd-type batteries. Owners of such sets are likely to run into trouble when they try to buy replacement batteries.
Tough On the Dealer, Too!
"Special" odd-type radio batteries may not be readily available in dealers' stocks. Because of slow turnover, it is difficult for your radio dealer to carry a stock of non-standard "special" batteries. Also, batteries are perishable stock—in time they deteriorate on the dealers' shelves.
Do This When You Buy!
Avoid replacement difficulties! Be sure that your new portable "self-powered" radio uses "Eveready" batteries. Then, when you need replacement batteries, you can be sure your radio dealer will have fresh batteries in stock that fit your set.

The BIGGEST Color PAGE in any National Magazine

Blankets the population centers where $4 out of $5 for retail sales are spent

THERE'S something in human nature that responds to size—whether you're publishing an advertisement, erecting a building or running a circus.

Elephants are a part of every circus—but only one is remembered by name and that is "Jumbo."

New York has thousands of big buildings—but the tallest is the Empire State and people pay a dollar to ride to the tower.

And a full page in color in The American Weekly has an advertising impact, an impression value and a merchandising value alone in the entire field of advertising.

Greatest Circulation

That's because this magazine gives you the biggest color page available in any national magazine—plus the biggest circulation in the world.

That circulation will get results for an advertisement of any size, starting with 28 lines which is the minimum accepted. A firm of attorneys in Belfast, Ireland, recently reported that an advertisement of this size got more attention and helped them to locate more individuals in the United States whom they wanted to reach than any similar advertisement they ever used. The cost was $266.

A book publisher who wanted to find the greatest possible number of people who had money to buy his wares, bought a back cover IN COLOR in the September 11th issue of The American Weekly.

Orders for future pages depended on what that advertisement produced in direct sales. And in a period of eight months this same book publisher has bought seven back covers IN COLOR, including one featuring a book at $3.65. The price of a back cover in color is $20,000.

Biggest Color Pages

Black and white advertising in The American Weekly is available in space units from 28 lines up, at $9.50 a line. Color advertising is available in half-page units for $10,500—1000-line units at $11,000—four-sevenths page at $12,500. Color pages—THE BIGGEST COLOR PAGES available in any national magazine—for $18,000.

Whatever the space, the advertising message is delivered to more than six and a half million families at the lowest cost per family reached. No wonder one of the biggest chain store organizations in the country, in a bulletin to its own sales department said:

"No other advertising actually sells so much merchandise as an American Weekly color page."

Advertising in The American Weekly truly blankets the nation!

Cock-A-Doodle-Doo!

The first six months of 1939 record a substantial increase in advertising linage published in The American Weekly over the same period of last year, and in the month of May orders secured for future publication during 1939 were over 50% greater than the amount secured in May, 1938.

IT'S GONE FARTHER THAN YOU THINK.

How long can the treasury department continue as the last counter-revolutionary force in the New Deal? The department of commerce was brought into line with the appointment of Harry Hopkins; the department of justice was tuned up into something like a GPU with the appointment of former Gov. Murphy of Michigan; the Supreme court has been swung to the left by the appointment of Justices Black, Reed, Douglas, and Frankfurter.

Mr. Roosevelt waited his time, not without impatience, until opportunity rewarded him. Resignations have allowed him to set up a government for his own purposes. The only large nonconformist element in it is now found in the treasury department.

Mr. Morgenthau is personally loyal and devoted to Mr. Roosevelt as a neighboring country squire and as a political admirer, but either because his common sense is offended or he is under old treasury department influences, he is constantly off the revolutionary track, and is saying things his chief does not mean. For several years he has promised the country that the governmental policies would be almost exactly the opposite of what they have proved to be. Just now he and his assistants are going before the house ways and means committee not only advocating financial programs contradictory of the suggestions made to other congressional bodies by the revolutionaries but describing these revolutionary proposals—which have the weight of the administration behind them—as unthinkable.

John W. Hanes, undersecretary of the treasury, put the counter-revolution in a few words when he said "There are at the bottom only two ways of producing wealth. One way is to conscript labor and capital and put them to work under government operation. This way is unthinkable in America. The other way is to provide the incentive of wages, interest, dividends, and profits. This is the way to which we are committed—the only way we can think of taking."

Thus the treasury department puts itself in a rebel position, holding out against the intentions of Mr. Roosevelt and his consultants who intend to do just what Mr. Hanes says is unthinkable. The controls they propose are well knit together to take profit out of private enterprise, declaring it a failure, and to take over the capital distribution of the country with an acknowledged plan of taking over the productive forces themselves. This is Mr. Roosevelt's plan for the third term. It is advocated by all his spokesmen, including Marriner Eccles of the federal reserve board, A. A. Berle Jr. of the state department, Mr. Tugwell who probably will soon return to public office, and by every new man who has been given place in Mr. Roosevelt's reconstructed government. The way has been prepared by Mr. Roosevelt's executive orders under the reorganization bill, and the Supreme court, also reconstructed, is now governmentally minded. Its list is toward executive authority and centralized power and against constitutional limitations.

The treasury department stands out against the revolution. It is almost the sole remaining vestige of the old form of American administrative government. The revolution already has gone, apparently, beyond most people's comprehension. It has set up its forms, perfected its plans, acquired its personnel, and is ready for action. The next removal of counter-revolutionaries will certainly hit the treasury. Mr. Morgenthau's resignation along with his assistants' would be forced by the situation in which he finds himself if he were in the British government, and it cannot long be tolerable for him in Washington. The purge will probably go through the entire department. That will be, at least for the time being, the end of departmental government as the United States has known it.

CART AND HORSE TRANSPOSED.

A drive is now on in Washington, backed by leading New Dealers, to set up new government lending agencies to lend up to a million dollars each to individual borrowers for periods up to ten years. Other provisions in the plans provide for government guarantees of 90 to 100 per cent of the loans made to business by private banks.

These new steps are being contemplated at a time when the volume of idle money in banks is the greatest of all time and the quantity of commercial credit in use is the smallest in years. Commercial borrowers are being sought by banks as they never have been before. Unable to find them, many banks are making small consumer loans to be repaid in weekly instalments. Others are offering business men cash for their accounts receivable. Cities which have to collect taxes from little real estate owners to pay off their loans are able to borrow at 1 per cent. Frantic to get something for their money, the bankers are even lending at a fraction of 1 per cent to the government for short intervals. Bankers are at their wits' ends to find employment for their funds.

It has been hard for the lay mind to understand many of the New Deal moves. When at the pit of the depression there were millions of people suffering from hunger the government destroyed millions of pigs and destroyed the meat. And with equal consistency now, confronted by a great surplus of credit, the government seems determined to add to the supply.

The little business man certainly will not gain anything by borrowing money from the government instead of from his established banking connection. Money is on every hand eager to be invested in projects which can possibly hope to succeed. What is needed is an improvement in the chance for success. For that is required a modification of tax laws leaving to business a fair share of the profits out of which to repay loans.

GOLD DIGGERS' LAW.

A few days ago Judge Robert O'Connell passed upon the case of a young woman, aged 19, who had filed suit for separate maintenance. Her marriage had lasted for just two months. The judge took the occasion to speak with approval of the bill now pending in the legislature to permit either party to a separate maintenance arrangement to obtain an absolute divorce after two years of living apart.

It is to be hoped that the bill to which the judge referred will be enacted at this session. As he said, the separate maintenance law is "repugnant to principles of justice." The abuse which the legislature is seeking to correct is a cruel one. Under the law as it stands a childless young woman after the briefest of marriages can condemn her husband to a life of involuntary servitude. She can do this by obtaining a decree of separate maintenance which requires him to pay her a fixed sum each month until her death. If he fails to meet his payments he can be sent to jail and kept there indefinitly on the charge of contempt of court. The decree is not a decree of divorce, and accordingly the man cannot marry again and live a normal life even if he can afford to do so. He remains a married man in the eyes of the law, but his is a marriage without a wife and without anything that can properly be called a home.

The separate maintenance arrangement was written into our Illinois law nearly seventy years ago, at a time when divorce was uncommon and was regarded widely as an evidence of immorality in both parties. The maintenance arrangement was devised as a protection to women, to enable them to escape from intolerable domestic situations without requiring them to resort to divorce. In its day, when only a few occupations were open to women, separate maintenance enabled a wife to leave her husband's roof without being rendered penniless and without being stigmatized as a woman of loose morals.

Today divorce is not universally regarded as an evidence of gross immorality and women by the millions are honorably employed in industry, trade, and the professions. Separate maintenance has degenerated into a gold digger's racket. It has become a device by which women can blackmail their husbands by threatening them with a life of servitude unless they consent to divorce settlements which exact far more than the man can afford to pay. Separate maintenance has become an incentive to sexual irregularity on the part of the victims of the arrangement because it prevents them from remarrying.

No one denies the duty of a man to provide reasonably for the support of his divorced wife and particularly to provide for his minor children by a former marriage. The bill now pending in the legislature, it should be unnecessary to say, does not alter these responsibilities in any sense. It provides merely that if either of the parties to a separate maintenance arrangement wishes to terminate it he or she can do so by suing for a divorce on the grounds of a two year separation. When the divorce is granted the decree will state the financial responsibilities, but the parties to the marriage will then be free to contract new marriages if they wish to do so.

The law as it stands was written to rescue women from cruel abuse. The proposed amendment of the law is intended to take from unscrupulous women a weapon for victimizing men.

PRICE FIXING BILLS.

Gov. Lehman of New York vetoed a price fixing bill passed by the New York legislature, designed to prohibit the use of so-called loss leaders. In his veto message he said:

"Apart from the alleged merits of its purpose, I am definitly convinced in my mind that a law of this nature cannot possibly be enforced. The attorney general is made responsible for the enforcement of its many complex and abstruse provisions in every single line of business, both wholesale and retail, throughout the state.

"This is a superhuman task that cannot be accomplished by a governmental agency. Our past experience, I believe, proves the unsoundness of legislation of this nature. Nothing is gained by having a statute which must necessarily collapse because of the utter impossibility of its enforcement."

There are other and even weightier reasons why price fixing laws are bad, but the governor's words are commended to the attention of the Illinois legislature, which has before it a similar bill against loss leaders. The establishment of a Gestapo in Illinois is too high a price to pay to oblige those merchants who, afraid of competition, are asking a statutory license to gouge their customers.

Editorial of the Day

MAKING IMPORTS POPULAR.

[Kansas City Times.]

Looking at the trade figures for 1938, the secretary of commerce is moved to reiterate an elementary truth. The United States, he points out, cannot continue to have a surplus of 1 billion dollars in exports over imports, as it did last year, and hope to keep up its present volume of foreign sales. In other words, this nation cannot indefinitly combine the rôle of the world's No. 1 seller with that of its No. 3 buyer.

The balance of international trade, of course, contains the so-called "invisible" items, as well as commodity exports and imports. Interest payments to foreign creditors, the remittances of immigrants to their families back in the old country, the services performed for American tourists abroad, transportation furnished American goods in foreign ships, insurance risks undertaken in the United States by foreign companies—all such factors also have to be taken into account. But there are similar items on the other side of the ledger that tend to cancel them off, and, broadly speaking, Secretary Hopkins is right. The purchasing power of our foreign customers depends largely upon their ability to sell products in this country.

SLIGHTLY CANTANKEROUS.

The radio announcer for the recent interfraternity sing at the University of Chicago must have caused many a listening brother to grind his teeth in futile rage, for he called the serious numbers "sweetheart songs." These are anthems, sir; songs of praise. Didn't you hear one group chanting, "We'll drink a cup of ruby wine to dear old D. K. E.," and another testifying, "We have pledged our full devotion to fraternitee"? Of course Sigma Chi has a "sweetheart song" about a mile long, but its use on this occasion is an exception to the rule. . . . After this rebuke to sacrilege, let us all join in singing the national sweetheart song, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Why do most of the writers who are turning out murder mystery stories pad their thin tales with play-by-play details of whisky drinking and cigaret smoking? This is a sure sign of amateurism in fiction.

There is a strange pattern of destructiveness to be found in all emotionalized reform movements. Some day a psychologist will discover it and put it into a revealing book, to be called, shall we say, "Sadism, Pyromania and Phobias in Mob Politics."

MR. POE, PUT IN YOUR SCREENS.

To my lamp their faith devoting
Through my window they come floating;
Coasting, wheeling, swooping, lifting,
On night's gentle air tides drifting—
Great gray bodied apparitions,
Little tawny winged ambitions,
Singly, doubly, some in triads,
Messengers of trolls and dryads,
Beckoned through night's dim crevasses
Out of oaks and ferns and grasses;
Gravely round my head revolving,
Vain as dreams that have no solving,
Shadows on my page projecting Vague as plans past recollecting.
What frail hopes a mortal leans on!
Lord! Why don't I put the screens on?

Our Forefathers Could Take It.

From the Independent Democrat, 1856, reprinted in the Chicago Weekly Tribune in July of that year:

"Chicago is the western shrine of Mammon, and has more broken down adventurers, real estate sharks, fast men, fast nags, and ugly women than any other city in the Union. . . . City lots constitute its capital, and bonds and mortgages its currency. . . . The best business street in town looks worse than the meanest part of the Bowery."

Aitcheff.

Civil War Prisoners at Camp Douglas.

The mortality rate at Camp Douglas exceeded that of any other prison of the civil war, including even the notorious southern prisons, Libby and Andersonville! We are reliably informed that "in February of 1863, out of 3,884 prisoners, 387 died at Chicago." The camp was on low ground and the drainage bad. Its abandonment as a prison was continually urged by H. W. Bellows, president of the sanitary commission.

As the conflict entered the fourth year conspiracy ran rife in the northern states. At Camp Douglas it took the form of a wholesale delivery. At that time 8,000 confederates were being detained there and a total of more than 25,000 in Illinois. The commandant, Benjamin J. Sweet, learned of the plot. He doubled the number of guards, ordered up a battery of artillery and threatened to "blow the whole works into the middle of next week." This bold move tossed the fear of the Lord into the hearts of the conspirators and they desisted from the attempt.

Later the leaders, Grenfell, Marmaduke, Walsh, Semmes, and Daniels, were tried before a military court at Cincinnati, and dealt sentences both heavy and light according to their guilt.

M. Dickason.

IN PRAISE OF RAIN.

O, lovely silvered fingers of the rain
That seem to filter from the leaden skies,
You tap a simple rhythm that supplies
A remedy from loneliness or pain.
You waken harmonies that long have lain
In memory's cabinet. A gay surprise,
A pompous march, a lilting note defies
Ennui and makes of time a glad refrain.
The placid earth awaits your kind caress
To fill her reservoirs, mankind to bless.
You serve the trees ambrosia, pure and cool,
Nepenthe for the lotus in the pool.
Your pulsing beat, a soft melodic theme,
Is paradise regained, a radiant dream!

OUR GLAND RULERS.

If a pigmy should announce that on a certain day he would exhibit his supernatural talents by moving a mountain, thousands would gather from far and near to witness the spectacle. We are all interested whenever an insignificant cause achieves a startling result. Only a spark is required to ignite enough explosive to shatter a city. This is what goes on within our bodies daily. Secretions from tiny glands are performing astonishing feats which exceed in force almost every known power.

From our study of the ductless glands have come many truths of the greatest moment. We are what we are because of the continuous functioning of the thyroid, the pituitary, the adrenals, and other endocrine organs. But in order that we shall be normal in development and behavior these structures must keep within bounds while, at the same time, they must furnish enough of their special chemicals to create personality.

With an insufficient output on the part of the anterior pituitary, childhood will be influenced profoundly. There may evolve the squat, short, obese figure or the typical dwarf. Unfortunately, no solution so far prepared has been able to include the growth stimulating hormone. If a youngster is stunted—rather than rely upon man-made products—it is better to direct one's efforts toward the building of health in the hope that the missing substance will be formed by reactivated cells.

We are all familiar with what happens should the pituitary become excessively busy. Giantism ensues and now and then a lad will be embarrassed by his great height. Here again modern medicine falls short and little or no success will follow an attempt to neutralize the hormone. X-rays, in the hands of a skilled operator, or the extirpation of a cyst or tumor if one is present, may bring relief.

When the posterior portion of this gland is involved a profuse flow of urine results. This ailment is called "no sugar" diabetes [insipidus] and here science has provided a remedy. The condition can be counteracted with extract administered beneath the skin or placed on cotton plugs which are inserted into the nostrils.

While the pancreas produces a digestive fluid which is discharged into the intestine—necessary for the solution of foods—we must not forget its rôle in the manufacture of insulin. If there is too little of this latter compound circulating in the blood, diabetes mellitus appears. Again, we are fortunate that this material can be prepared artificially and many a diabetic owes his health and happiness to the research workers who pointed the way to the extraction of this essential drug.

If there is too little activity on the part of the thyroid, children are unable to keep up with their brothers and sisters mentally or physically. If the deficiency is experienced in adult life the individual becomes less energetic. His conduct is characterized by indolence and the inability to carry on assigned tasks. But here dried thyroid may be employed to good advantage. If it is used early, boys and girls will become reasonably normal. With those who are older a new birth seems to come about. The eyes lose their dull look, the hair regains its luster, and unwanted fat vanishes. With overstimulation [goiter], on the other hand, removal of a section of the gland itself may be required.

Perhaps the most striking effects of gland failure are observed in those women in the menopause who suffer from hot flashes, periods of mental depression, and lack of interest in their surroundings. By supplying the needed products the patient's outlook is altered from one of desperation to that of bodily well being. Injections of theelin or some similar hormone or emmenin by mouth more often than not will change the picture abruptly.

While there are other equally vital depots enough has been said to indicate how largely we depend upon tiny collections of cells to which nature has assigned important duties.

FOLLOW YOUR DOCTOR'S ADVICE.

J. W. G. writes: In a case that has been diagnosed as multiple sclerosis, should the possibility of a functional disorder be investigated? This patient suffers mentally because of an unhappy childhood.

REPLY.

If a skilled physician is in charge you may follow his counsel with confidence. In some instances the services of a psychiatrist will be helpful.

SLEEPING SICKNESS AFTERMATH.

J. T. writes: Is there a cure for a person who had sleeping sickness 18 years ago? It left her in a general nervous condition.

REPLY.

The aftermath of encephalitis may be Parkinson's disease, which is sometimes called shaking palsy. Physicians are able to aid these victims materially with proper doses of stropine, stramonium, etc.

JOINT TENANCY PROPERTY.

Freeport, Ill., June 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A usually well informed source tells me that it is no longer legal for husband and wife, mother and daughter, or two friends, to put or hold their property in joint tenancy, the survivor to get property without probate or other court action.

2. Is this so and why?

3. In case of death of one party does the survivor have to pay national or [4] state inheritance taxes same as though property passed by will?

5. If so will some sort of court action with an attorney to represent the survivor be necessary?

6. What is the probable U. S. and Illinois inheritance tax on an estate of approximately $50,000 willed to deceased's two sons and two daughters with the widow having the use of such during her lifetime? F. W.

1. There has been no such change in the law.
2. See 1.
3. On estates over $40,000 the federal estate tax applies to the entire joint tenancy property in certain cases.
4. The state inheritance tax applies only to the one-half that passes by survivorship.
5. Ordinarily the employment of an attorney is not necessary where the assets are in joint tenancy.
6. The value of the widow's life interest would depend on her age. This would affect the tax. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ICKES SPEAKS FOR JOBHOLDERS.

Chicago, June 10.—Mr. Ickes says there is no other voice which commands such respect all over the world as that of the President of the United States. Granted, but that is not altogether because the said President happens to be Mr. Roosevelt.

Among his reasons why Mr. Roosevelt should keep on succeeding himself, Mr. Ickes omits the mention of one which is shared by all his brother satellites, namely, that only by perpetuating Mr. Roosevelt can all his vast retinue of courtiers continue to bask in sunshine and reflected glory. To those who have strutted before the footlights with flourish of trumpets, it is a terrible prospect to step down from the stage and become merely one of the audience. But this is the American way. An ex-President and his train are just about as inspiring as a pancake.

When Mr. Ickes declaimed so unctuously about "votes honestly cast and untainted by bribery and coercion," "an alert congress and an independent judiciary," we swallowed a decorous laugh.

R. U.

THE SUPERHIGHWAYS.

Chicago, June 9.—In the editorial, "Milwaukee's Example and Coolidge's," the second paragraph said: "To be deeply, if not hopelessly, in debt is to be like all other cities. Growing liabilities of municipalities constitute one of the unsound elements in the financial structure of the country." On another page of your same issue is reported the fact that the Illinois senate passed bills authorizing a 90 million dollar expenditure for superhighway construction, 50 million to be spent on superhighways in Chicago, accounted for by ten year notes to be retired by a gasoline tax.

Another part of the editorial says: "Milwaukee is proving to the country that a continuous increase in debt is not necessary."

Now, why advocate an increase in indebtedness for Chicago for superhighways, even though the gasoline tax pays it off—a tax that a high percentage of auto users will find burdensome? These superhighways are not only unnecessary but will become unsightly spectacles together with the necessary incline approaches from city streets, all creating slum districts on each side of the highways and approaches for several blocks.

"L" OFFICIALS, ATTENTION!

Chicago, June 8.—I wonder if you are old and gray headed—say 73 or 75? Well, I am and I was in the rapid transit station at Racine near Van Buren yesterday waiting for a friend when a little old Italian woman came down the stairs [and you know it was 88 yesterday]. Well, she went over to the cashier and asked for her transfer to be stamped for Racine avenue. She was going to Mother Cabrini hospital. Well, the cashier, Miss May Hanon, was very kind and explained that Racine avenue was not a transfer station. The old lady spoke very broken English and Miss Hanon called in one of the newsboys around there and had him translate it for her, so that the old lady would understand she would have three blocks to walk. Every one who heard it said that Racine should be a transfer station now since Mother Cabrini hospital had come into such prominence. Can you do something about this, and if you can't, will you hand it over to the Italian press? Thank you in advance.

Mrs. Margaret Hayes,
1140 Van Buren street, age 73 on March 15.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, turn to page 28 in the Want Ad section for the correct answers, and mark your score:

1. What is a caryatid?
[a] A member of the grasshopper family, [b] a draped female figure supporting a roof or entablature, [c] a game played by children.

2. Who wrote "The House of Seven Gables"?
[a] George Eliot, [b] Nathaniel Hawthorne, [c] Robert Louis Stevenson.

3. If you had a fox 2 weeks old what would you call it?
[a] Cub, [b] kitten, [c] pup.

4. What is the "City of Brotherly Love"?
[a] Philadelphia, Pa.; [b] Rome, Italy; [c] Los Angeles, Cal.

DESTROY WOODLAND BEAUTY.

Pekin, Ill., June 10.—We moved down here from Chicago a few years ago. We enjoyed driving through the isolated country roads and felt it was one advantage living here. Recently, or rather during the time we have been here, one woodland spot after another has been ruined until it begins to look as if soon there will no longer be any place left to drive except the concrete highway.

A week ago we visited a spot which was completely off the main road; perhaps used by a farm wagon once or twice a day and apparently little automobile traffic. This had been left in its natural state, a beautiful untrammeled spot, on either side of the road beautiful old blackberry bushes which last year were heavily laden with large berries, and lovely shade trees among them. Visiting the place a week ago we were amazed to find this isolated country road had been hacked and cleared until it looked like the war zone. Every blackberry bush, every tree or vestige of growth had been hacked to the ground and heaped and left to burn; the stumps of the trees were heavy with sap and the smell of the pungent wood filled the air. This road which before was a shady haven was left a sun scorched, barren road. For what reason is a mystery.

Cutting down shrubbery which obscures a corner so that traffic is hampered is excusable, but hacking and slaughtering isolated woodland spots is an outrage which should be stopped before it is too late.

Needless to say, hundreds of nesting songbirds were slaughtered as the above apparently took place not more than a few weeks ago at the height of the season. Mrs. H. R. Shepherd.

UPHOLDS TEACHERS' LOBBY.

Chicago, June 9. — Considerable space has been given in the columns of your paper to the teacher lobby. It is true that the teachers are organized and interested in the welfare of their boys and girls, the welfare of the community, and in their own welfare. This is as it should be.

Manufacturers have their associations, business men their chambers of commerce, real estate men their civic federations and bureaus of public efficiency. Wouldn't it be fair if the press gave the same analytical attention to the lobbies of these organizations as they do to the teachers? It is not the open and above-board lobbies which corrupt; it is the quiet ones whose financial affluence and power can bring about desired results without notice to the public.

Kermit Eby,
Executive Sec'y, Chicago Teachers' Union.

FLAGS "MADE IN JAPAN."

Chicago, June 10.—In answer to Lucile D. Zinner's letter about flags made in Japan, may I say that we have made small American flags of badge size for over 40 years. The materials and labor costs are such that we could not sell these for less than $7.50 per hundred, while we can sell the same sized Japanese flags of iferior quality for $1.50 per gross and still make a profit of 65 cents.

This cheaper merchandise seems to be what the people want.

STENCH FROM "LAKE JOLIET."

Joliet, Ill., June 9. — Your crusades against various evils have brought forth such good results that I am moved to solicit your aid in remedying the awful stench from so-called "Lake Joliet" here in the Des Plaines river. This "lake" is a mile long and from 150 feet to one-half mile wide, located in the southern section of the city and at the present writing is entirely covered with a scum of filth and sewage up to three inches in depth!

The stench from this open sewer [it is nothing else] can be smelled for blocks and the result, as the top surface dries, can only be an epidemic of fevers and intestinal disorders that will cover the city.

I'm sure the entire city of Joliet joins me in asking that you do what you can toward helping us rid ourselves of this awful mess. J. L. G.

CAN COUNTY COURT EXPLAIN?

Chicago, June 10. — Last September I was advised to turn in my receipted tax bill for 1934 and that I would get a refund on it. After waiting eight months I learned that only the people who went on strike against paying their taxes or those who paid under protest were the ones who would be considered for the refund. Where does the justice come in?

Last month I paid my taxes in full for 1938. One week after I paid them the real estate board advised taxpayers to file a protest and have same stamped "under protest," or they would not be entitled to any reduction for being prompt and honest. In making all my payments I am to suffer the loss and the people who held back are the ones to really benefit. From now on I and many others intend to join the army of sit-down strikers in the payment of all taxes. James Joseph White.

FISHING IN BIRD SANCTUARY.

Chicago, June 10. — I spent Memorial day this year at the bird sanctuary in Jackson park. I went quite early, and to my amazement and disgust saw people fishing in the sanctuary, paying no attention to the sign, "No fishing allowed." There was no policeman to keep them from doing this. Cannot a policeman be spared to keep ignorant people out of the sanctuary? Is not this lovely and enjoyable spot in the park worthy of care and preservation?

AN IDEA FORGOTTEN.

Chicago, June 10.—Some weeks ago the President called on all to do what they could to help the "lowly" of 40 years of age and over. Special attention was requested. Within two days your paper stated that over 200 American Legion posts would meet and something big was to be done. Other societies were included. If anything further has been done on this line it got away from me. Has the idea been forgotten? X. X. X.

CURIOUS ABOUT SPRINGFIELD.

Chicago, June 9.—1. If a bill is passed in Springfield by a large majority, why should one man have power to veto it?

2. When are they going to cease using the old age assistance act for a political football?

3. Who pays the lobbyists' fares to Springfield? V. Mann Senior.

SMALLER CITIES LACK BIG TOWN MAIL PRECISION

Analyze Postal Service to Five Other Points.

(This is the third article in a series on postal service as reflected in a survey made by The Tribune. Today's study deals with service between Chicago and five other cities.)

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

The precision of mail handling in larger cities, such as Chicago and New York, and in Washington, the nation's capital, stood out sharply yesterday as THE TRIBUNE'S survey of the postal service was extended to Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia.

The tests dealt with the four principal services—straight mail, special delivery, airmail, and special delivery airmail. One letter in each classification was sent to each of the five cities on a recent business day—a day when flying conditions were excellent. On days following, similar letter groups were mailed to Chicago from the other points.

Detroit Results at Glance.

Below is a tabular record of the mailings to and from Detroit, Mich., which, as the nearest of the five cities, is 272 miles by rail and 247 as the mail planes fly.

CHICAGO TO DETROIT.

Mailed.	Type of Service.	Delivered, E. S. T.	Elapsed Time.
10 a. m.	air special	7:36 p. m.	9 h. 30 m.
10 a. m.	airmail	9:25 p. m.	11 h. 25 m.
10 a. m.	spe. del.	12:33 a. m.	14 h. 33 m.
10 a. m.	regular	9:30 a. m.	23 h. 30 m.

DETROIT TO CHICAGO.

11 p. m.	air special	9:34 a. m.	10 h. 34 m.
11 p. m.	airmail	10:30 a. m.	11 h. 30 m.
11 p. m.	spe. del.	10:05 a. m.	11 h. 5 m.
11 p. m.	regular	1:00 p. m.	14 h.

[Abbreviations: h—hours, m—minutes, spe. del.—special delivery.]

The possibility of late afternoon mailing from Chicago to Detroit is indicated by the lag of nearly twenty-four hours between posting and delivery of the regular three cent letter. This was borne out by postal officials here, who said that most of the lag was due to the wait in the postoffice. The letter could have been posted at 5 p. m. and still have been delivered the following morning.

The two cities are on the same time basis, Eastern Standard Time being the same as Chicago daylight time.

[In computing elapsed times of letters to Eastern Daylight Time zones, an hour was subtracted from the apparent total. An hour is added in the case of letters westbound from Eastern Daylight Time zones.]

Cleveland Results Analyzed.

The conclusion drawn from the Chicago to Cleveland tests is that it is unnecessary to employ airmail service early in the day, since the regular and airmail letters were delivered there at the same time. The same thing occured in the Cleveland to Chicago test. The Ohio city is 357 miles east by rail and 317 by air. Below are the records:

CHICAGO TO CLEVELAND.

Mailed.	Type of Service.	Delivered, E. S. T.	Elapsed Time.
10 a. m.	air special	8:05 p. m.	10 h. 5 m.
10 a. m.	airmail	7:30 a. m.	21 h. 30 m.
10 a. m.	spe. del.	12:10 a. m.	14 h. 10 m.
10 a. m.	regular	7:30 a. m.	21 h. 30 m.

CLEVELAND TO CHICAGO.

10:30 a. m.	air spe.	9:55 p. m.	11 h. 25 m.
10:30 a. m.	airmail	7:30 a. m.	21 h.
10:30 a. m.	spe. del.	3:02 a. m.	16 h. 32 m.
10:30 a. m.	regular	7:30 a. m.	21 h.

Night Mail from Buffalo.

What happens to mail that is posted in the small hours of the morning was indicated by letters dropped into the postoffice at 3:10 a. m. at Buffalo, N. Y., 525 miles away by rail and 469 by air. Only the special delivery and airmail specials arrived the same day. The others traveled even slower than did letters in the same classifications that were mailed from Chicago at 10 a. m. The Buffalo bound special delivery, it will be noted, arrived only fifteen minutes ahead of the straight mail. The record of the test:

CHICAGO TO BUFFALO.

Mailed.	Type of Service.	Delivered, E. D. T.	Elapsed Time.
10 a. m.	air special	11:10 p. m.	12 h. 10 m.
10 a. m.	airmail	8:30 p. m.	9 h. 30 m.
10 a. m.	spe. del.	9:00 a. m.	22 h.
10 a. m.	regular	9:15 a. m.	22 h. 15 m.

BUFFALO TO CHICAGO.

3:10 a. m.	air spe.	4:55 p. m.	14 h. 45 m.
3:10 a. m.	airmail	7:30 a. m.	29 h. 20 m.
3:10 a. m.	spe. del.	5:50 p. m.	15 h. 40 m.
3:10 a. m.	regular	7:30 a. m.	29 h. 20 m.

There were several puzzling incidents in connection with the test mailings to and from Pittsburgh. Two of the letters addressed there were taken to a building from which the recipient had moved three years previously and were delivered three days late.

How Pittsburgh Mail Goes.

The straight mail letter from Pittsburgh to Chicago arrived marked "Airmail," making one hour better time than the straight airmail letter. The distance between the two cities is 468 miles by mail and 420 by air. The record:

CHICAGO TO PITTSBURGH.

Mailed.	Type of Service.	Delivered, E. D. T.	Elapsed Time.
10 a. m.	air special	10:34 p. m.	11 h. 34 m.
10 a. m.	airmail	.....	four days
10 a. m.	spe. del.	5:11 a. m.	18 h. 11 m.

PITTSBURGH TO CHICAGO.

2:00 p. m.	air spe.	10:07 p. m.	9 h. 7 m.
10:30 p. m.	airmail	2:30 p. m.	17 h.
6:00 p. m.	spe. del.	8:40 a. m.	15 h. 40 m.
5:30 p. m.	regular	8:30 a. m.	16 h.

Both the airmail and special airmail letters to Philadelphia showed an elapsed time of more than twenty hours, being delivered together. The Philadelphia postmark on the back of the special showed it arrived there at 10:30 p. m. of the day it was mailed. Delivery was made at 7:20 a. m. the day following. The other special fared likewise.

Philadelphia is 821 miles by rail and 653 by air from Chicago. The record:

CHICAGO TO PHILADELPHIA.

Mailed.	Type of Service.	Delivered, E. D. T.	Elapsed Time.
10 a. m.	air special	7:20 a. m.	20 h. 20 m.
10 a. m.	airmail	7:20 a. m.	20 h. 20 m.
10 a. m.	spe. del.	10:30 a. m.	23 h. 30 m.
10 a. m.	regular	10:30 a. m.	23 h. 30 m.

PHILADELPHIA TO CHICAGO.

9:25 a. m.	air spe.	9:55 p. m.	13 h. 30 m.
9:25 a. m.	airmail	7:30 a. m.	23 h. 5 m.
9:25 a. m.	spe. del.	10:09 a. m.	25 h. 44 m.
9:25 a. m.	regular	10:30 a. m.	26 h. 5 m.

The Chicago deliveries reflect more nearly the proper time elapses in the various mail classifications, although the letters could have been posted later in both cities and would have arrived at their destinations at the same hours.

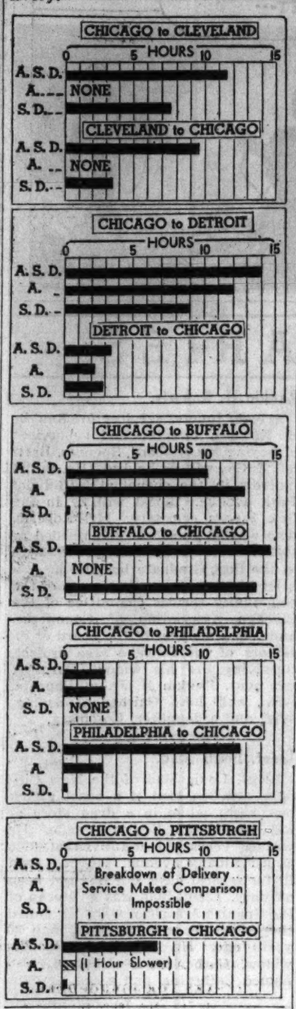
Diagrams below indicate the time saved by using special mail services over the time required for the regular mail delivery. A. S. D. stands for air mail special delivery; A. for air mail, and S. D. for special delivery.



PRYSTALSKI POLLS BIGGEST VOTE; G. O. P. LEADER DITCHBURNE

County Clerk Flynn's proclamation yesterday of the official figures for the judicial election on June 5 showed that first honors went to Circuit Judge John Prystalski, Democrat. His county total of 513,038 votes was the highest received by any of the twenty-six winners.

Judge Daniel P. Trude was second among the Circuit judges with 511,282 votes, Judge Joseph Burke was third with 510,344, and Judge Cornelius J. Rarrington was fourth with 509,667. In the two-man races for the Superior court vacancies, John F. Haas led with 511,911 votes, giving him second place in the election as a whole.

Harry S. Ditchburne led all the Republican nominees with 252,186 votes. Harold J. Clark was second and Thomas H. Slusser was third in the Circuit court group. Harry C. Moran led the short term contenders with 245,305.

The total vote in Cook county was 776,882, or 39.54 per cent of the registration. The Chicago total was 694,835, or 42.12 per cent of the registered vote. The suburbs cast 82,047 votes, or 26.01 per cent of their registration.

250 TAKE EXAMS FOR 150 JOBS AS BEACH GUARDS

More than 250 young men took physical and swimming examinations yesterday for positions as city life guards. The tests were held at the Beilfuss natatorium, 1725 North Springfield avenue. T. R. Daly, superintendent of municipal beaches, was in charge. It was estimated that about one-quarter of the applicants failed. Others will be eliminated today in the boat and resuscitation examinations, which will be held at the Touhy avenue beach in Rogers Park. One hundred and fifty life guards will be selected to work at beaches and pools this summer, Daly said. The beaches will open June 24.

Burglars broke into the Norman-Willetts company wholesale camera store at 316 Washington street yesterday and stole photographic equipment valued at $3,000.

G. A. R. VETERANS GATHER FOR 60TH INDIANA SESSION

Indiana has 90 civil war veterans. Yesterday eleven of them arrived in Michigan City for their sixtieth annual state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. By tonight more than twenty are expected to be on hand for the first important function, a military ball in the high school auditorium. The veterans were accompanied by 600 delegates of six allied organizations.

Samuel Quaco, 96 years old, of Lafayette, was the oldest to register yesterday. He is also one of the spryest. Lost for a few minutes in the afternoon, he was discovered later in the convention hotel taproom, with one foot cocked professionally on the brass rail. The youngest veteran is Dr. Joseph B. Henninger, 91, of Indianapolis, state adjutant. Dr. John H. Stone, 93, of Kokomo, is state commander.

AMERICANS' FUSS OVER KING BOWLS BRITISH OFF FEET

Politicians Elated by Gains Chalked Up for Empire.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—With King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of England back in Canada after a four day visit to the United States, British politicians today began appraising the gains of the tour. Unanimous opinion is that the visit was an unexpected success. It has made a marked difference in Anglo-American relations and will affect political calculations in Europe this summer, it is believed here.

No attempts are made now to conceal the fact that the royal visit was diplomatic and political and has achieved all of its objectives. British politicians realized that, while they had certain financial, social, and academic sections of American opinion tied up, they were not sure of the masses.

Feel Man in Street Won Over.

Now, they say, the enthusiastic reception given the sovereigns shows that the people as a whole have been won over.

Politicians are especially gratified at the unprecedented reception given the king and queen by Washington senators and congressmen. That singular spectacle has astonished Europe, above all other aspects of the trip, and not to the advantage of American prestige abroad.

This reception was not even approached when the British rulers visited Paris last summer, nor would it be possible to get the house of lords and the house of commons together in such fashion to greet President Roosevelt—if, as is expected confidently now, he returns the royal visit next spring.

TOUR MARITIME PROVINCES

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., June 12.—(AP)—Canadians in the eastern townships of Quebec province and along the south shore of the St. Lawrence river cheered King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of England upon their return to the dominion after their four day visit in the United States.

Rain and hail last night ripped to shreds the decorations at many stops, but people were on hand at stations from the international border to the string of towns along the bluffs of the St. Lawrence. The storm hit the royal train during the night, but the king and queen slept undisturbed through the Hudson valley and the Adirondacks.

For the next three days the royal train will arch around the international border into the maritime provinces.

Display French Flags.

The eastern provinces, originally settled by British but now predominately French-Canadian and French speaking, turned out to see the sovereigns at the few brief stops made during the day—at Sherbrooke, Levis, and Riviere du Loup.

Numerous French flags without the usually accompanied Union Jack were flown from private houses, but on station platforms and in street decorations, the British colors were accorded proper display.

The specially constructed royal automobiles, which had a rest while the king and queen rode in White House cars in the United States, were ready for a brief tour through the town, but after half an hour the royal couple were on the train again and heading northeast toward the wide St. Lawrence. They will sail for home Thursday from Halifax.

KING WIRES HIS THANKS TO U. S. AND PRESIDENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—The following telegram, signed "George VI," was delivered to President Roosevelt on his special train enroute from West Point to Washington today:

"The queen and I are deeply grateful, Mr. President, to Mrs. Roosevelt and yourself for your hospitality during the past four days. The kindness shown to us personally by you both was endorsed by your fellow countrymen and countrywomen with a cordiality that has stirred our hearts.

"In Washington, in New York, and, indeed wherever we have been in the United States, we have been accorded a reception of which the friendliness was unmistakable. Though this was our first visit to your great country and though it was necessarily only a brief one, it has given us memories of kindly feeling and good will that we shall always treasure.

"To you, our host, and to the many thousands of American citizens who also showed us such true hospitality and such spontaneous courtesy, we send our heartfelt thanks and our best wishes."

350 CITIZENS ACT TO SAVE CICERO TEACHER'S JOB

Nearly 350 citizens made a mass demand last night on the board of the J. Sterling Morton High school in Cicero to retain Norval Fultz as vocational director. He has held the post seventeen years. It became known recently that he has not yet received a contract for next year.

Richard W. Hoffman, president of the board, told the gathering that the board is investigating certain charges against Fultz. He refused to make them public. A committee of five was appointed to deal with the board on the Fultz matter.

Hoffman warned that it is necessary to raise the school's standards. He said the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has threatened to drop the school from the accredited list unless it does so.

GIFTS BESTOWED ON CAPITAL AIDS BY ROYAL COUPLE

Photos, Watches, and Cuff Links Given.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—As tokens of their appreciation of the service given them during their recent visit to Washington, King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of England left behind some remembrances in the form of personally autographed photographs, gold wrist watches with the royal crest, and gold cuff links with the royal crest.

Welles Gets Photograph.

The autographed photographs were given to the following: Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state; George T. Summerlin, chief protocol officer of the state department; Charles Spruks, chief ceremonial officer of the state department; Michael McDermott, chief of the division of current information of the state department; W. H. Marks, station master at the Union station; Maj. Ernest Brown, superintendent of the Metropolitan police, and Col. E. W. Starling, chief of the White House secret service.

The gold cuff links were presented to Howell Crim, chief usher at the White House, and his two assistants, Charles Claunch and Wilson Searles, and to Monte Snyder and George Toland, White House chauffeurs, who divided the honor of driving the royal guests during their Washington visit.

Gift to Secret Service Man.

The gold wrist watches were presented to James Sloan, veteran member of the White House secret service, and to Bernard Thompson, assistant superintendent of police and to all the police inspectors.

Just before departing from Hyde Park, N. Y., yesterday the king and queen presented autographed photographs to President and Mrs. Roosevelt and to the President's mother, Mrs. Sara Roosevelt. The king also gave the President a gold ink well.

The king and queen also passed out their autographed photographs to members of the President's party.

AMNESIA VICTIM STILL UNKNOWN IN JANESVILLE

Janesville, Wis., June 12.—[Special.]—Janesville police received several more telephone calls today from persons inquiring about the young man, apparently an amnesia victim, who was found on a street here three weeks ago and has been unable to tell his name or where he lives.

Amnesia Victim.

Two of the calls were from Chicago from persons who were looking for missing members of their families. They had seen the Janesville youth's picture in newspapers and sought more details about him. None of the callers, however, was able to identify him.

The youth is about 25 years old, is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 190 pounds. He was well dressed in sports clothes bearing the label of M. L. Rothschild, Chicago, when found. He shows culture, education and wide talents, including athletic and musical ability. He is apologetic about his plight and is offering police complete coöperation in their efforts to identify him.

W. J. Russell, Retired Lake Captain, Dies in Michigan

Benton Harbor, Mich., June 12.—[Special.]—Capt. W. J. Russell, 75 years old, died yesterday at his home here after a year's illness. He had been a captain for many years on Lake Michigan steamships owned by the Graham and Morton Transportation line, plying between Chicago and the port of St. Joseph. He retired twenty years ago. Two children, Mrs. Allen Hennes and William J. Russell, both of Benton Harbor, survive him.

Irene Castle McLaughlin covering face at divorce hearing yesterday.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]
Maj. McLaughlin as he appeared at the hearing.

Judge Oscar F. Nelson yesterday continued until next Monday a hearing on the contested divorce suit of Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin of Lake Forest against Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, wealthy sportsman and coffee merchant. The case was to have gone to trial yesterday.

Attorney Frederic Burnham, representing Maj. McLaughlin, informed Judge Nelson that the only real issues involved a financial arrangement and custody of the children, Barbara, 14, and William, 10. Mrs. McLaughlin is receiving $750 a month temporary alimony.

Mrs. McLaughlin attempted to avoid photographers by shielding her face with a large square Manila envelope. A woman secretary guided her about the halls of the county building and into the judge's chambers where a short hearing was held. She was modishly dressed in a black and gold ensemble, with enormous golden bracelets half way to the elbow on each arm.

BEAUTY QUEENS BRAINY, TOO; AT LEAST IN BIG TEN

Five of the Big Ten universities' beauty queens, en route to the east, met in Chicago yesterday at the Congress hotel, sang college and sorority songs, went sightseeing and topped off the day with a theater party. Proving that beauty and brains can go together, three of the quintet had been elected to Mortar Board, national scholastic honorary society for women.

The scholastic luminaries are Rosemary Best, University of Illinois junior; Treva Berry, Purdue university, also a junior, and Libby Rice, University of Indiana senior.

Sallie Douglas, junior from Northwestern university, and Edith Leahy, June graduate from the University of Iowa, completed the party. They are to join the other Big Ten queens in New York. The five will leave today on the Commodore Vanderbilt of the New York Central Line.

URGE ORDINANCE TO REORGANIZE CITY PLAN BOARD

Aldermen Would Give It Legal Status.

The city council judiciary committee yesterday recommended passage of an ordinance that would reorganize the Chicago Plan commission and give it official status.

The ordinance, backed by Mayor Kelly, was approved by the committee after several months of wrangling and dispute in public hearings. Originally established in 1909, the commission could act hitherto only through persuasion. The proposed ordinance gives it powers comparable to other city departments.

The new commission would consist of seventeen members, appointed by the mayor, with the approval of the council. Ten would be drawn from membership of a new city planning advisory board. The others would consist of the mayor, the president of the board of local improvements, the president protem of the council, the subway and traction commissioner, and the presidents of the park district, county board, and the sanitary district.

Would Meet Monthly.

At present the plan commission has a board membership of 328. Its last meeting was two years ago. Under the ordinance it would meet monthly.

In a resolution prepared by the judiciary committee, the council also was urged to set up the city planning advisory board. This commission would include the city council, other heads of local governing bodies, including the Chicago housing authority, and 200 other members, representing every section of the city.

Advice and Comment Planned.

All major proposals advanced by the plan commission first would have to be submitted to the advisory board for general discussion and comment. Any independent suggestions by the advisory board, in turn, would be submitted to the council by the plan commission.

The bill also would empower the commission to coöperate with the Chicago housing authority and the council in the location of housing projects and the elimination of substandard housing conditions.

The council is expected to consider the ordinance tomorrow.

URGES EVANSTON CLOSE STREETS PAVED BY WPA

Ald Robert James of Evanston charged in a council meeting last night that certain Evanston streets repaved by the WPA last summer are now full of holes and are a menace to trafic. He was supported by Ald. Thomas Airth and Hugo Pape.

The one block stretch in Wesley avenue between Main and Washington streets was cited by Ald James as an example. He said the street is criscrossed with holes 10 inches deep and five or six feet long.

"It's so bad," he declared, "that if we were back in the horse and buggy days horses would break their legs trying to go through that section. I'll never vote again for WPA street improvement projects."

Ald. James urged the erection of barricades to keep motorists out of the street. He charged that the condition resulted from poor specifications by WPA supervisors. Apparently, he said, so little cement and gravel were used that the first heavy rains washed away the resurfacing. Ald. Airth, calling attention to a two block stretch in Highland avenue, near Central street, said the condition of the street was deplorable. Ald. Pape said that Florence avenue, near Oakton street, was as bad. The complaints will be referred to Wesley W. Polk, commissioner of public works.

Britain to Spend 73 Millions in Canada for Armaments

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12.—[Special.]—The British war office has placed an armament contract for $15,000,000 in Canada and has laid down a program for the expenditure of $60,000,000 in the near future for the same purposes, it was learned here today. It is understood the $60,000,000 is only the first instalment of a plan for the expenditure here of $250,000,000 in the development of a secondary source of supply of arms and munitions.

DUPED IN HAVEN PLOT, REFUGEES IN DIRE PLIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALCIK, Rumania, June 12.—More than 600 Jewish refugees from Germany and Czecho-Slovakia, who for four months have been waiting on the Black sea shores of Rumania for ships to smuggle them into Palestine, were in a desolate condition here today.

Several said they had paid a sum equivalent to $100 to a Greek agent who promised to smuggle them safely into the Holy Land. His ships never showed up and after waiting patiently for 120 days they were told by local authorities to move to another town. The group arrived here a few days ago, presenting a difficult problem to officials of this famed Rumanian summer resort.

No beds are available for them and their funds are nearly exhausted. They are being quartered in a deserted building formerly used by a storage concern. It is understood that a Jewish relief committee is to provide food until a permanent haven can be found.

RADICAL TRAILS IN MINNEAPOLIS RACE FOR MAYOR

Minneapolis, Minn., June 13 [Tuesday]. — [Special.] — The Minneapolis city election, closely watched all over the state as the first test of the Farmer-Labor party's power to stage a comeback from the drubbing administered the Benson régime, went into the final stretch early today with the issue still in doubt.

Showing unexpected strength, Toralf Eide, secretary of a coöperative creamery and standard bearer of a group of labor unions and Farmer-Laborites, was giving the conservative George E. Leach, incumbent, seeking his sixth term in office, a battle all the way down the line. With 288 of the city's 355 precincts reporting, the count stood: Leach 65,694 and Eide 63,290.

Labor wards gave Eide a heavy vote and conservative wards strongly supported Leach.

That Man Again.

That same rigorous employer who tests stenographers' punctuation with the involved sentence from Aristotle is now adding a section to his quiz, according to Justinian's Gracie. He lists five singular nouns on a piece of paper and asks the poor girls to write down the plurals. The nouns are:

opus bison
gallows

In the Morning Mail.

In regard to the one about the employer who tests his stenographers' punctuation with the catchy sentence, my sister has suggested that this employer should be punch-u-ated in the nose—and both of the eyes dotted!

Catherine Walsh.

Urban Album.

Maxine Barrat, dancer in One for the Money, in a fuchsia gown with one of those hoods. . . . Lois Hall supping with friends after the performance. . . . Honeymooning Nadine Gae, one of the loveliest of the bright young things in One for the Money, being driven to the Harris nightly from the Edgewater Beach hotel by her devoted bridegroom. . . . Woman cutting out a dress on the grass in Lincoln park, paper pattern pinned to her material. . . . John Hoysradt, who entertains at the Colony club nightly, sunning himself on the lake front.

Sleigh Bell Shortage.

The most recent search for outmoded phenomena is for sleigh bells on straps. During June Dairy month, milk wagon horses are to have Swiss cowbells hung on them (after seven in the morning) or sleigh bells on straps. Dairy companies are having difficulty finding either, according to a letter to us from Sheboygan.

If you know where to find sleigh bells and nice, soft sounding cowbells, would you drop me a note? reads the letter.

How about it? Any sleigh or cowbell authorities among the readers?

Professors on the Spot.

Professors at the University of Chicago were on the spot Sunday at Mandel hall when President Robert Maynard Hutchins officiated at a quiz after his address to alumni. Anton J. Carlson, James Weber Linn, Leon P. Smith, Thordin R. Hogness, Wilber G. Katz, and Edward H. Levin, seated on the stage, were the professors quizzed.

Some of the questions, from a list made up by alumni:

What is an up-to-date animal?

Answer: Twentieth Century Fox.

What is the cry of the rich on March 15?

Answer: U. S. Gypsum. (U. S. Steel would have been all right, too!)

Define the following four words (they sound like a Santa Fe Agricultural college yell, commented President Hutchins):

snaffle
schnauzer

One of the questions concerned first names of famous writers. Prof. Linn, who thought it was going to be too easy when the more familiar name of George Gordon was asked, did not know what famous writer's Christian names were Charles John Huffam. Dickens, in case you don't know, either.

Manulis-Bard Wedding to Be Tomorrow

BY JUDITH CASS.

MISS KATHARINE BARD and her fiancé, Martin Elyot Manulis, arrived in Highland Park Saturday to be there until after their marriage tomorrow. The wedding will be a small garden ceremony at 4:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Bard. Miss Janet Bard will be her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Lemuel Ayers of New York will be matron of honor.

William Roxbury Hart of New York will be the best man and ushering will be Ralph Bard Jr. of West Virginia, Dr. Fred Everett Manulis, the bridegroom's brother, and Leighton Rollins of New York. Douglas Bard, the Roy Bards' son, will be the ringbearer.

The Rev. Christoph Keller will perform the ceremony in the presence of the families and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Manulis will fly to Easthampton, N. Y., where they will spend the summer. He is the manager of the John Drew Memorial theater there and of its affiliated training school, the Leighton Rollins School of Acting. The bride is a graduate of this school. She intends to continue her dramatic work.

Tavern Club to Repeat Cruise on the Roosevelt.

In spite of rain and fog, Tavern club members and their guests had such a good time last year when they went cruising on the steamship Theodore Roosevelt that they are going to repeat the party this summer. The boat has been chartered for Friday evening, June 23, and it is hoped, of course, that the weather will be an improvement over that of last year.

The boat will sail at 7 o'clock from the foot of Navy pier and will return at 10. A buffet dinner with Tavern club cuisine and service will be served and the ship's bar will be stocked by the club for the occasion. There will be dancing and other entertainment. William P. Welsh will be commodore of the party.

The Saddle and Cycle club is going to have a Viennese party on Saturday, June 24. It will be on the new terrace, which is at the east of the low clubhouse, and the men are requested to wear white coats and the ladies light [preferably white] evening dresses.

Miss Nancy Brown Visiting in East.

Miss Nancy Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. V. L. Brown of Winnetka, has left for a visit in the east. She went to Bronxville, N. Y., to be a bridesmaid at the wedding last Saturday of Miss Jane Quantrell to Harry Emerson Sloan Jr. Charles D. Kingston of Chicago was best man for his brother-in-law.

Miss Brown is going to Morristown, N. J., and to Franklin county, N. Y., before returning to Winnetka July 1. The engagements of Miss Quantrell, daughter of the Ernest E. Quantrells, former Chicagoans, to Mr. Sloan, and of Miss Brown to Clarence Boyd Jones of Evanston were announced on the same day. Mr. Jones is convalescing from an illness that caused his April marriage to Miss Brown to be postponed. Miss Brown will see him at Saranac, N. Y.

Mr. Sloan, son of the Harry E. Sloans of Hartford, Conn., is taking his bride to Europe on their wedding trip. They will live in Hartford.

Mrs. Kirk Cuthbert Leaves for Europe.

Mrs. Kirk Cuthbert has left for New York to sail next week. She is going to England and France for a round of visits and is expected back in Lake Forest the middle of August.

George R. Beach Jr. joined his wife for the week-end at the home of her parents, the Walter Schuttlers, in Wheaton. Mrs. Beach, who came west from her home in Wilmington, Del., last week, will remain until next week. The Beaches are building a new house, but it will not be finished until next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Judson and Clay Jr. left Saturday to motor east to attend the graduating exercises at the Milton academy, where Alice Clay Judson is a graduate. Miss Judson, who will attend the University of Chicago next year, has an interesting summer ahead of her. She is sailing on June 28 in the Normandie with a teacher and a group of school friends to spend the summer abroad.

Only a Lovely Figure Should Parade Beach

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Safe conduct on the beaches is a phase of our behavior which frequently escapes the attention of writers, we are informed. But it does not escape the attention of some of our masculine observers. It is they who grimace long and silently at the exposure of too much feminine flesh, at childlike antics that belie the calendar age, at carnival getups that properly belong to New Orleans' Mardi gras, not on nature's serene white beaches and against her serene blue waters.

We cite Bandleader Ray Noble, of English origin, who says that he himself rarely gets to American beaches, but is interested in the reactions of American men to whose peeves he listens.

There is the matter of boiled white flesh parading the beach before it is seasoned to the sun. It not only gives us women a large legged look, we're told, but causes concern as to our general health. If there is a square foot of earth or of asphalt roof at your disposal, you can make your beach debut in a coat of tan. And, if all else fails, there are long beach coats you can wear and slip off when you go into a private huddle with the sun.

Perhaps you can't take a tan, try as you will. Some of us can't because nature has counted us out a sparing number of pigment cells. Exposed to the sun, our skin takes on the blush of a red-light signal. But there are liquid suntan powders and other cosmetic numbers in which you can masquerade and present as healthy a picture as any of the brown skinned ones disporting on the beach.

If we remember that "a man's imagination is our best asset," then we will try to put our figures in trim before we don bathing suits. A routine of sensible dieting for two or three weeks, accompanied by fifteen minutes of daily exercise, would do the trick for most of us, anyway, get us off to an excellent start.

When it is as simple as that, why be like the Edwardian queen whose consort remarked:

"She's my queen, but she waddles!"

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We Americans are just about the "bathingest" people in the world. The statistics show that we're eternally hopping in and out of tub or shower. But we think of the bath only as an aid to cleanliness. With all our porcelain tubs and streamlined pin point showers we haven't scratched the surface of the theory of therapeutic bathing. The Swedish and the Japanese are miles ahead of us in this respect.

We ought to know more about the art of bathing. We're a pretty nervous people anyway and we could profit by a better understanding of the treatment bath that will relieve fatigue through relaxation.

Most bath trimmings, especially those added to the water, are a distinct help in bathing to soothe the nerves as well as to cleanse the skin. A bit of scent, for instance, makes the ritual so pleasant you're strongly tempted to stay in a little longer and relax. And that's all to the good!

Some new bath trimmings have more to recommend them than mere pleasantness in the water. These are luxurious powders based on sea moss, with sea minerals and other things added to make your bath stimulating or soothing, as you choose.

They create a foam, but that's only incidental. If you're extremely tired or taut, add the powder while the water is very hot and running full force. Slide in, and keep the water as warm as possible for at least ten minutes. Inhale the pleasant vapor and relax. Let the water cool gradually. If you bathe just before you go to bed don't let it get too cool. If your treatment bath takes place as a pickup before you must go out finish in water as cool as you can take it—maybe a cold shower. You'll feel wonderfully refreshed and ready for the fray.

These come in wonderful fragrances. Pine and lime are particular favorites, for men as well as women. The clover is very gay, the orange blossom and an unusual bouquet are both ultra-feminine.

ENGAGEMENT

Toward the end of the year Miss Helen Mary Watt will be leaving for South Africa, where she will become the bride of Roy Wilson, son of Mrs. R. M. H. Wilson and the late Dr. Wilson of Worcester, Cape Province, South Africa. Miss Watt, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. J. Watt of Evanston, is a graduate of Northwestern university. She has spent the last year in the British Isles and the Union of South Africa.

Hosiery Washer Lightens Woes of Summertime

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The life of a spick and span summer wardrobe is just one tub after another, a struggle with soapsuds and the pressing table. Even the daily dunking of gloves and hosiery is a vexing chore to dread. Understanding inventors have presented a couple of aids that should simplify and smooth the way of the fastidious woman.

One is the hosiery washer, guaranteed to protect color and preserve texture. The smooth glass washer looks like a small drip coffee maker, but don't let that scare you. You swirl the water through without a touch of the hand and the job is done in three minutes.

Use the special hosiery soap that goes with the washer, rinse the hose in water containing some of the finisher, and then dry on twin metal outline forms. It sounds a lot more complicated than it really is, for the entire operation takes only a few minutes and the results are positively unbelievable.

Your filmiest stockings are washed and stretched ready for wear with a beautiful texture, the original color and all hazards of snags, runs, or breaks are banished. It's a safer, cleaner laundering device for a small sum.

Another laundering aid is the lightweight aluminum form for brassieres. There is also a quick dryer. After the lace, net, or silk bra has been washed and rinsed you cover the form, clasp over the stretching band like an embroidery hoop. When completely dry the bra is the correct size and in the original shape. Shoulder straps and back are quickly smoothed with the iron.

Frames for gloves resembling the hosiery frames are also available. They are of rustproof metal and do away with hot iron pressing.

Good Morning!

"King of Chinatown" is just an also ran racketeer melodrama without which the world could have struggled along very nicely.

The story is the last word in triteness and the dialog hasn't a thing. BUT——

The picture HAS got that fine actor, Akim Tamiroff, and several other clever male players, including J. Carrol Naish, who's disguised almost beyond recognition. And in Bernadene Hayes you see an unfamiliar ingenue with whom I predict you'll want to become better acquainted. She has sparkle and umph.

Otherwise—ho hum.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Athletes.

Hollywood, Cal., June 12.—This is the time of year when the low blood pressure celebrities of films rush out into the fresh summer air and become athletic.

"Have you seen little guys like me try to get healthy over a week-end?" asked Eddie Cantor, on a trip to Palm Springs. "For years we go along working like dogs and developing bad kidneys, an underslung liver, and aggravation of the spleen. Then, in the thirtieth year of work we have made enough money to enjoy life, so we come to a place like this for a week-end and we try to become a combination of DiMaggio, Budge, and Guldahl, with a slice of Sammy Renick tossed in for good measure.

"Then you pick up a Monday morning paper and you are amazed to read that the little guy who has worked hard for thirty years has dropped dead of heart attack. There should be no amazement over it. It's a lead pipe cinch."

Yesterday a crowd of us spent the day at the Joe Penners', and before the sun had sunk in the west we all had dramatized what Cantor had in mind. "Would you like to chuck a baseball around?" asked Penner. Spencer Tracy's brother, who had been there before, shook his head warningly at Bobby Crawford and me, but we missed the signal. "I'd love to," said Crawford.

Perhaps if we hadn't just had a snack of ham and beans, topped off with milk chasers, it would have been all right. Possibly, too, if any of us had played baseball in the last fifteen years, it would have been okay. You've never heard such wheezing and grunting as ensued. Fingernails cracked off; Crawford caught a ball on the tip of the thumb; Penner, instead of gracefully accomplishing a pick-up, was nailed on the funny bone. . . . We finished off with a session of shuffle-board, which is easier on the constitution. Tracy and Sullivan won by a hair.

It's the first time I've had a session with Bobby Crawford since one memorable afternoon back east when he and Tex Rickard beat Billy Lahiff and me at golf at North Hills. Rickard and Lahiff both have died since, but we were recalling the foursome yesterday. Crawford dumped in putts from all over the green and Rickard was prouder, I think, of winning a dozen golf balls than over staging a heavyweight championship fight. Poor Tex and Billy. They were grand comrades.

Every one in Hollywood has a different system and a different preference in exercise. Joe Schenck believes in ice cold pool dips. Randy Scott walks around a golf course stripped to the waist, and takes a dip in the ocean every morning. Cary Grant is another ocean enthuiast, and is always tanned. Groucho Marx believes in tennis. Ben Hecht likes to take a turn at softball. Gilbert Roland is a tennis fan and a good player.

Darryl Zanuck keeps himself in shape via polo, which is no game for a sissy, believe me. Spencer Tracy and Frank Whitbeck rent a boat and go out fishing for days at a time. Edgar Bergen is a bicycle enthusiast. Jack Warner uses tennis and the "Terrible Turk" as a masseur to pound him into shape. Charley Chaplin employs tennis as a conditioner. Gable prefers hunting above everything else.

Douglas Shearer gets sport and a certain amount of exercise by piloting his own plane. Fred Astaire, Bob Montgomery, Eddie Mannix, L. K. Sidney, Greg La Cava, and Bing Crosby are golfers, and these California courses are long enough and hilly enough to whip you into condition. Groucho Marx, his wife and his son all are tennis players, and the son looks as if he might become a national champ. Harpo Marx and Chico are golfers. Wesley Ruggles spends most of his time away from the studio banging at a golf ball, and Director Bill Seiter is another.

Others of the Hollywood crowd believe that if you take it easy you will; in the natural course of events, last longer, and these sedentary athletes will be found getting their exercise in homeopathic doses at the local race track. They find that the task of getting from their boxes to the $2 windows gives them just the proper amount of physical wear and tear, to say nothing of the wear and tear on the bankroll. I watched Adolphe Menjou the other day. He arrived at the track with Jimmy Townsend, but I doubt that Townsend saw much of Menjou from that point on, because the former Cornellian covered more ground than a gossip column. A pedometer fastened to Menjou's ankle would have revealed a day's mileage of eight miles, at least.

I don't know exactly how old Louis B. Mayer is, but this veteran goes around the Turf club and grandstand premises with the agility of a six day bike rider, getting tips and inside information from fifty persons before each race, and working out the good from the bad with mathematical precision. Walter Connolly, for a stout fellow, runs a dead heat with Guy Kibbee and Babe Hardy for vim.

Give $203,000 to Community Trust in Year

The Chicago Community Trust during 1938 distributed $144,956 to 124 charitable and educational institutions, all located in or near Chicago except four downstate colleges and one Kentucky mountain school. At the same time the trust received $203,000 in capital gifts.

This was disclosed yesterday in the annual report. Clifford W. Barnes, chairman, also announced that the executive committee had been enlarged from five to seven members. The new memebrs are Hermon Dunlap Smith, an insurance dealer, and Attorney George B. McKibbin, former president of the Y. M. C. A.

Frank D. Loomis, secretary, reported a drop in income from trust funds due to general business conditions.

There has been, however, a steady increase in the resources, Mr. Barnes declared. With $5,059,193 held in the principal of trust funds, the trust now stands second among the 77 other similar institutions which have been formed in this country and Canada since 1914.

The trust seeks to accumulate and conserve trust funds and to avoid waste and confusion in promoting community welfare under changing conditions. Trust funds administered by the organization are earmarked for specific charities or devoted to the general welfare.

One of the most interesting capital gifts received last year was $82,500 turned over by the directors of the Chicago Mechanics' institute. Organized in 1837 it was a thriving institution in Chicago's pioneer days and so far as is known was the first organized philanthropy here.

In 1848 Azel Peck gave an endowment of $125,000. Since then little was heard of the institute, although a small library was maintained during the civil war.

The fund seemed too small to be successfully maintained under a separate organization and the board decided to place it under supervision of the Community Trust, said Mr. Loomis.

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

INSTALMENT I.

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Grunewald, in a café in Vienna, hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. Josef von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book.

INSTALMENT II.

TRAGEDY HOVERING.

Marian was conscious of her heart shaking her as they sat silent again, leaning warmly against each other while the elevator whined slowly up the shaft to the floor below them. A door opened and closed on a brief gust of excited voices. The elevator whined slowly down again. Marian's mind began to function as if something clicked alive in it. "Franz, darling, has the old man got a passport?"

"Yes, of course, dear."

She jumped up, pulling him with her. "Then let's see if he's at home. Don't you see—he must escape tonight—while there's still time. We must pack for him, get him to the station, send him anywhere he can get a train for. Just so long as he gets out."

Her force galvanized Franz into action. He jumped up beside her and caught her to him impulsively. For an endless minute they strained together comforting each other with eager lips. I will never leave him, thought Marian exultantly, I don't care what it's like—nothing can be ugly when life is so beautiful—so filled with love.

Franz pushed her from him almost roughly. "Every time I do that it will be harder to say goodbye to you. I'm as weak as water. What's the matter with me?"

She ran after him as his long legs consumed the last flight of stairs four at a time. "Goodbye, Franz? You're crazy. I'm not leaving. When?"

She wanted to linger outside the door of the apartment while they settled the dispute, but he would not listen to her. His face had settled into grim lines which made him look like a stranger. "That was your idea, Marian, but it's a good one. If we're going to get him out before they think of him, there's no time to lose."

It seemed to her his hand shook a little as he tried to fit the key in the lock. The big awkward key which surely no one would tolerate in any capital city but Vienna. It turned at last and he stood aside for her to enter the warm dark hall with the deer's antlers high on the walls. Under the sitting room door a sliver of light showed. She heard Frau von Plasy's breathless hurrying voice talking, and then the professor's response, deep toned and slow.

She knew then they were talking about his escape already. She followed Franz into the big room with the high windows and the familiar yellow brocade curtains feeling all that was coming to this beloved family almost like a weight inside.

She moved across the room to the corner window that was almost level with the galloping quadrigas on the roof of the parliament house and looked up the street to the Heldenplatz and the shadowed curve of the Neue Hofburg beyond the trees. The torchbearers were still tramping the ring, chanting and shouting.

"It will go on all night," said the professor calmly, as if he were watching her, reading her thoughts.

"That is good," said Franz, "the excitement will cover your flight. Now is the time to get out."

"I have talked till I am tired," breathed Frau von Plasy hardly above a whisper. "And it is no use." She sounded utterly tired out.

"I don't understand you. You must have a good reason Onkel."

"The best Franz. My place is here with my wife. She cannot go. Her passport is not now in order——"

"But I am here Onkel. I will see to that. I will take care of her——"

"I know you would try. You're a good boy Franz. But you don't see far enough. Haven't you heard yet of hostages—reprisals?"

There was only one answer to this. Franz said reluctantly—"yes."

"And there is Johann too. I would not leave Gisela and she would not leave him."

Marian turned from the window into the warm lamplit room whose atmosphere was like a sheltering embrace, so strong was the domestic genius of the woman who made it home. "I think we're all worrying about nothing," she said. "After all science is science. Why should you be persecuted for scientific truth—punished for—for publishing it? It would be different—it would be used as an excuse if you were Jews."

The professor smiled at her, the light glinting on the gold rims of the glasses that enlarged the clear kind eyes that looked so young above his iron gray beard.

"You are an optimist Marian—it is remotely possible you are right——"

"I hope so," breathed his wife. "I hope so——" she looked at Marian sharply. "You look white—exhausted. Have you had anything to eat?"

"Yes, dear. But I am tired. I think I will go to bed."

She wanted to be alone in her narrow slip of a room whose window looked down into the office windows at the back of the parliament house, offices which were apparently seldom used. Franz followed her out into the hall and caught her in his arms again. Now he was tender—so tender that the tears pricked her eyes. His breath moved against her ear. "I love you so, liebling, I love you."

"I love you darling——"

"O, it is wonderful. How long have you known it?"

"All last week Franz. And you?"

"From the beginning—the very beginning. The first day I saw you. I met you at the station. Remember? You had only half a face and one eye because you were wearing the craziest little hat—and even so I loved everything I could see——"

Marian laughed softly in the darkness. "But why didn't you tell me long ago? Why didn't you tell me?"

She felt his sadness communicate itself. "Then it was too soon. Now it is too late."

"No—no——"

His lips were warm again on hers for a brief moment. "There are only minutes left now to enjoy—but minutes are beautiful. Gute nacht, mein liebling. Schlaf wohl."

Sleep well! Marian opened her door softly and went in. Would she ever sleep again? She went to the window and looked down. There were lights in the office windows and two men were rearranging the furniture. Already, she thought, already.

The street lamps arabesqued her ceiling when she had put out her bed lamp. She lay looking at the patterns of shadow and dusky gold. Franz had loved her a whole year and had not told her. It was not true that she had only known she loved him a week. She had loved him a whole year too. Now it seemed like a whole year wasted.

Voices still chanted in the city, now near, now far away. They were not disturbing her. She had never felt so wideawake. She was worrying about her parents. What news would they be getting over there? Would they be in a panic wondering about her safety?

Hilde von Plasy, the professor's 18 year old daughter was at Marian's home in Long Island, by the system of exchange which obviated the payment of money. She was studying English and becoming sophisticated in the new world while Marian was studying voice and absorbing the mental treasures of the old without financial strain on either parents.

Marian marveled that her father had not already been through on the telephone inquiring about her safety, urging her to go at once to the consul to arrange about coming home. But the wires would be jammed of course. The whole world would be trying to get on the telephone to Vienna.

But I won't go, she thought, not even if it isn't safe. There is no war. Things will settle down. Life will go on. Music will go on. Love will go on.

No, she thought, I can't ever leave Franz. I might as well be dead. I can't imagine life without him. There could never be anybody else—never—never.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Dancing the Blues Away

First Peaches Best Used for Pies, Cobblers

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The season's first peaches usually are somewhat underripe and therefore taste better in pies and cobblers than they do in the raw state with cream and sugar.

From now on through August peaches will be increasingly plump, ripe, and juicy, but since few of us are willing to wait for the most luscious peaches before bringing them to our tables, I've chosen a few excellent recipes using cooked peaches.

Peach Cobbler.

[Serves Four.]

¾ cup flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
3 tablespoons butter or other shortening
½ cup milk [approximately]
2 cups sliced fresh peaches
⅔ cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter

Combine flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Sift twice. Cut in the shortening and add milk. Stir to make a soft dough. Pat or roll out to a half inch in thickness. Place sliced peaches in the bottom of a well buttered baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice, and dot with butter. Cover with the biscuit dough. Bake at 425 degrees until crust is brown and peaches are tender, about 20 or 25 minutes.

The cobbler may be made in this way if desired. Roll the dough thinner, into two sheets. Place one in the baking dish, cover with peaches, sugar, lemon juice, and butter and top with the other sheet of dough. Bake as described.

Serve the hot cobbler with cream.

Peach Sour Cream Pie.

3 cups fresh sliced peaches
1 cup thick sour cream
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca

Combine flour, granulated sugar, and tapioca. Spread on bottom and sides of unbaked pie shell. Combine sour cream and brown sugar and dip each slice of peach into the mixture. Arrange in pie shell and pour remaining brown sugar and sour cream over the top. Bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees; reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees, and continue baking until peaches are tender and crust is well browned. Serve hot or cold.

Peach Cornflake Crunch.

[Serves Four.]

3 cups sliced fresh peaches
⅔ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups cornflakes
¼ cup melted butter
2½ tablespoons sugar.

Place sliced peaches in 8 inch buttered casserole. Sprinkle brown sugar and lemon juice over them. Combine cornflakes, butter, and sugar [cornflakes should be crushed somewhat, but not to fine crumbs]. Pack firmly over the peaches and bake at 400 degrees for half an hour. Serve with cream.

Largest Class in History Gets U. of I. Degrees

Urbana, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—The largest graduating class in the history of the University of Illinois—more than 2,300—received degrees at the sixty-eighth annual commencement this morning. Joseph C. Blair, retiring dean of the college of agriculture, delivered the address and Dr. Arthur Cutts Willard, president, presented the diplomas. There were 1,969 seniors and 348 graduate students who received degrees. Of the number approximately 550 were from Chicago and Cook county.

Democracy's only safeguard is the faithful assumption of individual responsibility by each citizen, said Dean Blair. He asserted the real danger at the moment lies in confusion.

"We are confused by the fertility and productiveness of our fields and mines; we are afraid of the machines and factories which we have fashioned, while the prestige and power which the nation could wield for good in this troubled world is so awesome that we shrink from it."

He said this has created for present day graduates a great challenge and an enviable opportunity. "Possessed of a training which should equip you with great intellectual riches, you are graduating into a world which has been described by many as intellectually bankrupt. Of everything except brains we seem to have an overabundance. Everywhere too much indecision, confusion and fear seems to have curbed the very spirit of the nation.

"I beseech each of you, therefore, to think clearly, to have the courage of your convictions, for the world needs your brains and your strong right arm as well."

Dean Blair pointed out, in discussing life goals, that throughout the ages society has given enduring credit to those men and women who have contributed to the uplift of mankind.

"I would not discourage you in your efforts to obtain your fair share of the world's goods and to enjoy a high level of living. But greater credit, I am sure, will be due those persons who contribute to wiping out depressions and raising the level of living of all our people."

Girl Graduate Needs Clothes.

Perhaps some reader can help us find presentable clothing for a young colored girl who is graduating from high school. The family is on relief, and, in spite of serious illness which caused her to lose much time from school, she is graduating with a high average. She has been invited to a luncheon and a prom. She is most anxious to attend these final school festivities, but as one of a family of ten has no possible way of purchasing proper clothing. If any one can help with clothing size 16, or shoes size 5½ C, Miss T. will be most grateful.

Homely Motto in Cross-Stitch Is Used for Picture

BY NANCY CABOT.

This cross-stitch embroidery picture should be hung in every home. The finished picture, before it is framed, measures 13¼ by 16 inches. The background material may be of natural linen crash, with the cross-stitch in a contrasting color to the green roof and leaves of the tree.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the "house by the side of the road," No. X-590, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue., New York City.

mer holidays. Miss Jean Woodward returned yesterday from Beliot college, bringing with her a college friend, Miss Sara Strong, of New York, who will spend a week here.

Miss Emmy Lou Freund is leaving on Thursday with Miss Nancy and Miss Catherine Hopkins, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Hopkins, for a month's tour of the west. They will be accompanied by Mrs. D. D. MacClintic of Decatur. Miss Nancy Freud is arriving at home on Friday from Leland Stanford university.

Waldo Logan sailed last night from New York to spend the summer with Capt. John Craig, underseas explorer and photographer, off the coast of Cuba. Mr. Logan left the expedition suddenly last spring because of his wife's serious illness.

Mrs. Logan, who is entirely well now, plans to spend the summer in Chicago except for a fortnight on Long Island. When Mr. Logan returns early in September he and Mrs. Logan will make a trip west to visit the San Francisco Fair.

Mrs. Jay Morse Ely is leaving Lake Forest next week to meet her daughter, Adrienne, at Dobbs Ferry, and to go on to Edgartown on Cape Cod for the summer.

Mrs. Clarence B. Mitchell Leaves for Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Clarence B. Mitchell and her daughters, Marjorie and Nancy, left yesterday for Santa Barbara, where they will join Mr. Mitchell, who has been there for the last three weeks. They plan to return to Lake Forest in September.

Mrs. Raymond Redheffer has returned from an eastern trip, full of pride over the honors Raymond Jr. has won at the Asheville school. He is being graduated Thursday with high honors and next year will enter the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The older boy, Joseph, who just has finished his junior year at Swarthmore college, has left for Nova Scotia with another boy in a sailboat.

Mrs. Redheffer, who was lecturing in the east as Dr. Ruth Alexander, did not see her daughter, Mrs. William Rossmore, on this trip, but will visit her and Mr. Rossmoore in Cambridge in July. Mrs. Redheffer is going east then to lecture at Dartmouth college.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Strong of El Rancho de Tumacacori, Ariz., and Flint, Mich., are spending this week with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Strong of 1448 Lake Shore drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Behrens are giving the bridal dinner tonight for Miss Suzanne Richardson and Clarence Hodges, who are to be married tomorrow. She is the daughter of one of Mr. Behrens' old friends, the late Granville W. Richardson, and Mrs. Richardson. Mr. Hodges, a medical student, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Vanard Hodges of Lead, S. D.

The ceremony is to take place at 8:30 o'clock in the Joseph Bond chapel at the University of Chicago, the Rev. Arthur Willis officiating. A reception will follow at the South Shore Country club. Mrs. Richardson's father was Edwin Cooley, former superintendent of Chicago schools.

Insults Girl in Home, but She Loves Him

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Bett reports that she and her young man had been "going steady" for three months and it seemed to be a case of real love—until one evening the beau suggested that they go to his home to meet his family.

"Imagine my panic, on arriving there and finding the family extremely pleasant to me, to have him start in insulting me, saying the most belittin' things to me. And he wasn't trying to be humorous, either. There was too much sting in his comments for that. Well, I said to myself, 'I'll be a good sport and take it while I am in this house.' But I was too disgusted to speak anyway.

"On the way home I let out. I told him that I never wanted to see him again and I slammed my door in his face.

"A few days later he called up to say how sorry he was, asking me to forgive him. He told me just to forget all he had said. My temper got the upper hand and I hung up on him. A whole month has gone by since this incident and I realize now how much I miss him. I am in love with him, I guess, and I don't know what to do. I am sure that he loves me, too, but is too stubborn to give in."

What guacheries youth will commit in order to express an indifference before people! Before his own family, we suppose, the boy was putting up a big bluff just to show how little he cared, with the real cause of his ridiculous behavior to save himself being kidded by the folk. Such lack of poise and social ease is regrettable. In his own home his ungentlemanly behavior was doubly offensive.

But we think that you know how to handle the boy, all right, and commend you for giving him a lesson he probably never will forget.

Apologizing comes hard to men, to most of them, Bett. His attempt at it was in character with his other lack of ease and grace. But we think that you can handle him, and if his company means everything, you now might take a step toward a reconciliation. But don't rehash the incident. Assume that it registered.

We would like to add a plea to boys to maintain their dignity at all costs in face of such a situation as above reported. It takes a big generous hearted girl to forgive such rudeness. Even though you may think you have your own reasons for unseemly behavior, just try to remember that a gentleman does not lapse over in his rôle as a gentleman.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

Sometimes, when I watch players defend a hand, I feel as though I were watching a dumb animal being beaten, and were helpless to intervene. That was the sensation in today's hand, which I followed through two rounds of a match point duplicate game.

The bidding at both tables was the same:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

Remarkably enough, the opening lead also was the same at both tables, namely, the fourth best heart. The ace was played from dummy and the spade finesse was immediately tried. At the first table, when West won with the spade king, he promptly laid down the king and another heart and, after that, the defenders were hog tied! Declarer ruffed the third heart lead, took another round of trumps, then led his singleton club. East won and returned a diamond, but now declarer could put up the ace, enter dummy with a trump, and discard his two remaining diamonds on the established clubs.

At the second table, West was not so naïve. On lead with the spade king, he thought matters over thoroughly before making a return lead. It was perfectly obvious to him that declarer did not have the heart queen. If he had he undoubtedly would have let the opening lead ride to that queen. The danger was that declarer had started with only two hearts and that, if West cashed the king and led a third round in an effort to put East on lead for a diamond return, declarer might interrupt the proceedings by ruffing in. Thus West did not make the mistake of laying down the heart king. Instead, he led another low heart. East, winning with the queen, had no difficulty reading his partner's intention. It was obvious that West wanted a diamond return immediately and, instead of trying to cash another heart trick, East followed orders. Now, with the club ace still at large, declarer was helpless. He had to try the diamond finesse. When it lost, he was through, inasmuch as the defenders still had to get a club trick.

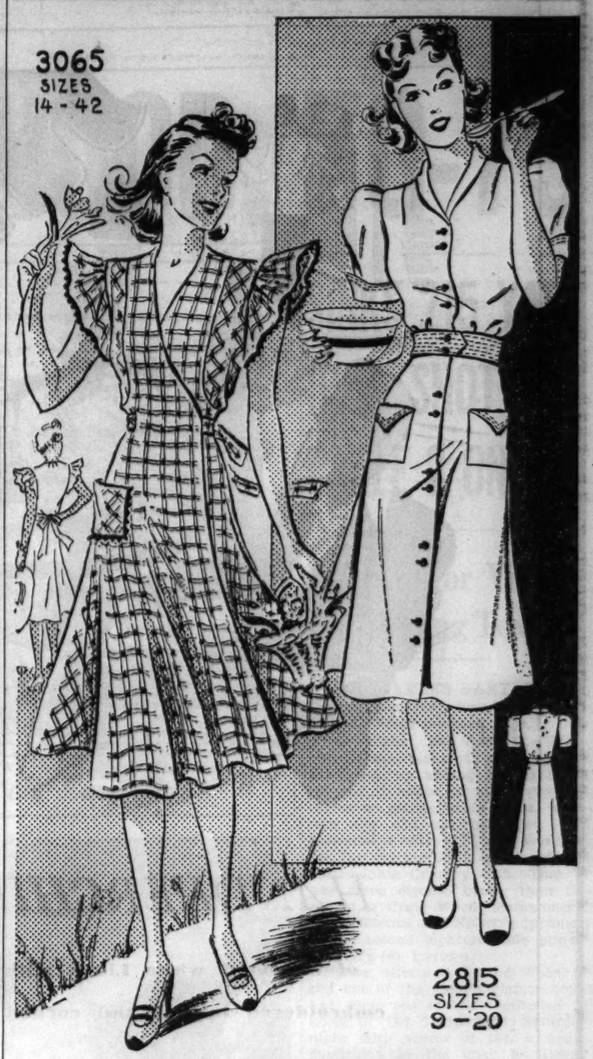
Keeps One Cool and Crisp



TWO PRACTICAL HOUSE FROCKS.

You want to be cool and crisp this summer, no matter how busy housework and unexpected guests may make you. At the same time, you must look smart. No really clever housewife ever allows herself to be seen bedraggled and lacking in chic. The two patterns today appeal to a variety of tastes, and you should make either or both for your home wardrobe.

At the left, a model with feminine lines. Its neckline is surplice and its lines wrap-around. For sleeves there are butterfly caps that are decorative but cool. The skirt has plenty of flare. It's the type of house apron you can wear over your party dresses, too.

The other house dress is lovely enough for informal social wear, because it is distinctively tailored. The V neckline has a soft rolled collar, the sleeves are squarely puffed, and the cuffs, belt, and pocket flaps are stitched either to match or to contrast. Buttons are used all the way down the front of this model.

The apron makes up well in inexpensive patterned cottons. Plain or colored linen, cotton, and washable silk all make up well in the more dress parade frock.

Style No. 3065 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material and 4 yards of edging.

Style No. 2815 is designed for sizes 9, 10, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Child Can Be Led Early to Make Friends

GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The first step in preventing shyness is to be accomplished by avoiding an attitude that creates self-consciousness.

One of the things this definitly means is that you won't talk about the subject or interpret any natural reserve as being shyness.

"She's a little shy. Don't notice her, and she'll be all right," said aloud, is—well, is something not to say! And with tact you can prevent other grownups from dwelling on the subject before your child.

This is on the negative side; it's saying what not to do. On the positive side we'd suggest you accustom your child to people.

Although there's a great deal of talk, and good talk it is, about children being socially adjusted to other children, there's another social adjustment that is quite as important. And that is the adjustment to grownups.

Why not? All his life a child is in contact with adults—his parents, his relatives, his nurse or others in the function of household help, his parents' friends, "the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker," his teachers. His ease with them is greatly to be desired, and can be largely achieved by a wise father and mother, whose attitude, by the way, can be communicated to other adults to prevent foolish conversations that create shyness.

A child's ease with grownups is fostered in several ways. From the time he is a baby, almost, in an entirely taken-for-granted way, a child can be a part of the home social scene. This doesn't mean that he need be evident every minute, or that attention has to be centered on him. But if his parents have it in mind he will easily learn to meet people, greet them, and talk freely to them. Training and example are both factors in preventing real shyness from developing in children.

Briefly, this part of our advice for your child's social accustomedness sums up like this:

See that your children are allowed to meet people.

Don't ignore them. Just meeting people isn't enough. Let them talk with guests, but try to lead the conversation to things of interest to your child, since he can hardly be expected to be interested in the concerns of adults.

The elements of hospitality are inculcated if your small son or daughter helps in passing cream, lemon and sugar, and sandwiches at tea. Also, this doing of something physical almost always promotes social ease.

Comprehensive advice on shyness is to be found in our booklet of that name. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

"Swing Mikado" to Go on WPA Again; New York Run Fails

"The Swing Mikado," a modernized version of the old Gilbert and Sullivan classic, with an all Negro cast, will reopen at the Great Northern theater July 4 under federal relief auspices.

The production had a successful Chicago run as a federal theater project at WPA ticket prices, and was pointed to with pride by WPA officials. It was bought by Bernard Ulrich and Melvin Erickson, Chicagoans, and presented in New York at regular commercial theater prices. It failed to draw commercially, and was withdrawn.

Members of the cast returned to Chicago. They are to be recertified for relief before the play is reopened.

Two Named to Board of Rush Medical College

NELSON WINS OPEN TITLE; BEATS WOOD, 70-73

PRINCETON MILE ON; CUNNINGHAM AGREES TO RUN

Wooderson Arrives and Tests Track.

Princeton, N. J., June 12.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham, Kansas miler, telephoned tonight that he would race against Sydney Wooderson of Great Britain in the Princeton invitation track meet Saturday.

Sydney Wooderson.

R. Kenneth Fairman, graduate manager of Princeton athletics, announced Cunningham's acceptance of his invitation a few hours after Wooderson, holder of the world outdoor mile mark, arrived from his native country and tried out the fast Palmer stadium track.

Glenn Cunningham.

Fairman said Cunningham, who set an indoor world mark of 4:04.4, called from Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y., where he is staying while working out at West Point. Cunningham said he would arrive in Trenton on Friday and come to Princeton on Saturday for the race.

Wooderson Eager for Race.

Cunningham's acceptance, which had been awaited for several days, ended anxiety of Princeton officials who were beginning to wonder if the veteran had decided to decline the issue with the English star.

Fairman also announced that John Woodruff of Pittsburgh would definitly enter the Princeton 880 yard run instead of the national collegiate championships in Los Angeles.

"I am extremely fit and am sure that it will not take me long to get into top shape," the little Englisn solicitor said as he began training for Saturday's mile race in the Princeton university invitation meet.

It's Up to the Track.

Both the 24 year old Sydney and his trainer, Al Hill, are quietly confident that Wooderson will defeat this country's best Saturday in Princeton's invitation meet, and that he is likely as not to eclipse his own world record of 4:06.4.

"If the track is as fast as I've been told," Sydney said, "we'll come in under the record, definitly. A 4:03 mile is possible. I'd like somebody to set a pace of 60 for the first quarter, and 61 for each of the next three."

"Would you be able to go out by yourself in that last quarter in 61 if you hit the three-quarters in 3:02?" he was asked.

Weighs Only 126 Pounds.

"Well, I'd hang on as long as I could," he answered. "Right now I feel I'm better than at any time in the last five years. My ankle is well again and gives me no trouble."

His left ankle bothered the English star in the last Olympics. Afterward, he discovered a bone was splintered. An operation has fixed it up.

Wooderson wouldn't do too much talking about the four minute mile, but his trainer, a former Olympic runner, is confident he will do it.

Wooderson is only 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs 126 pounds.

What Will It Matter?

What will it matter when the shadows fall
Whether the day was fraught with smiles or tears;
Whether our cup was filled with wine or gall,
When we must enter the eternal years?
What will it matter if the sky were bright,
Or if the sullen clouds hung low with ram,
If when we wander homeward in the night
The garments that we wear are free from stain?

We are like pilgrims treading sundry roads—
Some seek the wooded path, some the rough way;
Some well nigh sink beneath their heavy load,
While others laugh and frolic through the day—
What will it matter by which paths we climb
If we arrive unscathed in God's good time?

CENTENNIAL IS ANNIVERSARY OF CHANGE IN GAME

Sisler Picks Party Over Commencement.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cooperstown, N. Y., June 12.—Today's centennial celebration commemorating the founding of baseball really marked the 100th anniversary of the game's transformation from an individual pastime into a team contest. Prior to 1839, when Maj. Gen. Abner Doubleday devised rules for a team contest, baseball was purely a game in which it was every man for himself.

George Sisler had to decide between the centennial and Colgate university's commencement, where George Jr., a pitcher, is being graduated. The former American league star sent Mrs. Sisler to Colgate and came over to Cooperstown.

Babe Ruth, when he stepped to the microphone, said the occasion was something of a personal anniversary for him as well as baseball. It was 25 years ago yesterday, Ruth recalled, that he pitched his first major league game for the Boston Red Sox.

F. X. Carpenter, a newspaper publisher attending the centennial, said: "The professionals, who used to look to baseball with purely a commercial eye, are beginning to see the heart throbs that go with the game. This sentimentality will be a great constructive force in the game."

The ten living members of the Hall of Fame who were presented at the ceremonies are Connie Mack, Honus Wagner, Tris Speaker, Napoleon Lajoie, Cy Young, Walter Johnson, George Sisler, Eddie Collins, Grover Cleveland Alexander, and Babe Ruth. Ty Cobb arrived too late to be presented, but received his engraved bat just the same.

Ruth, Johnson, and Alexander got the greatest receptions. The old stars who had preceded them across the platform stood and applauded as these three appeared.

Three ribbons, red, white, and blue, were strung across the door of the Hall of Fame. Theodore Lettis, chairman of the centennial committee, handed a pair of shears to Ford Frick, president of the National league, who cut the red ribbon. William Harridge, president of the American league, snipped the white one, and the blue was left to William C. Bramham, president of the minor league's organization.

The guest of honor was John A. Heydler, former president of the National league, who conceived the centennial celebration.

Sox Meet Dodgers Today; Just a Warmup for Senators

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

For the next couple of weeks the White Sox will have to conduct their first division campaign on foreign soil. They went away yesterday afternoon, will tarry at Charleston, W. Va., for a twilight exhibition with Brooklyn's Dodgers this evening and then proceed to Washington for their first stop on a four-stop tour.

The Washington series, which should hold no fears for the Sox after the fashion in which they have handled the Senators thus far this season, will involve four games, two of them in the shape of a doubleheader on Thursday. But Manager James Dykes, who usually is able to name his pitchers in advance for an entire series, doesn't know exactly how he might work 'em in the capital city. He's up in the air on this point because of an epidemic of sore arms. At least he has been told the arms are sore, but isn't convinced.

The Theme Song Is "Ouch."

Three days ago Clint Brown had pains in his rubber arm. Edgar Smith insisted his left arm had popped out of shape. Jack Knott had trouble one place or another in his right arm. Thornton Lee had to quit against the Yankees because his shoulder went lame. It's possible, of course, that the arms, Lee's excepted, felt sore because the Yanks were in the vicinity. Brown already has recovered from his tired feeling, proof of which he furnished when he finished against the Red Sox on Sunday. Lee may need another week, but the others are not considered alarming cases.

For the opener in Washington the Sox pitching will be placed in the care of Johnny Rigney, the young fellow who before the season started was doped to be a regular performer and a good one. So far Johnny has completed only one game. The kid seems to be making his pitches too good, possibly because of a fear he'll walk too many. The enemy has been turning his strikes into extra base hits, but he's gaining pitching education if nothing else.

Eric May Stay On Third.

The appearance of Eric McNair at third base in the second battle on Sunday might prove the start of a fairly lengthy rest for Marvin Owen, who for a couple of weeks had given indications of being weary. He fell away in his fielding, which always had been above average, and his hitting was negligible. McNair can play third as well as he played second until Joe Gallagher of the Yankees put him out of commission in the game of May 9, and he may hit far better than Owen does.

CUBS TO OPEN 12 GAME STAND AT HOME TOMORROW

The Chicago Cubs, excluding the four who took part in the baseball centennial ceremonies in Cooperstown, N. Y., returned home from their second eastern trip yesterday just in time for a home cooked meal. The squad arrived at 5:55 o'clock at the La Salle street station.

Today is an open date for the major leaguers, but tomorrow the Cubs will return to the stern task of trying to remain in the first division. They will open their twelve game home stand in the first of a three game series with the New York Giants. The Giants, after a bad start, have righted themselves and will bring to Wrigley field a five game winning streak which has carried them to within a half a game of the champions. Brooklyn, Boston, and Philadelphia follow in that order.

The Cubs were represented in Cooperstown by Manager Gabby Hartnett, Capt. Bill Herman, Dizzy Dean, and Stan Hack. They will return home today.

SINKS 215 YARD IRON SHOT FOR EAGLE 2 ON 4TH

First Major Victory for Young Texan.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12.—Byron Nelson, the pleasant young Texan who gave up adding figures for a railroad in order to affix twos and threes to golfing score cards, today won the 43d national open golf tournament with a 70, one over par, for the Spring Mill course of the Philadelphia Country club. That 70 was three strokes better than the efforts of Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., veteran, and Nelson's opponent in the second eighteen hole playoff for golf's No. 1 crown.

Nelson, slim and 27, and Wood, 37 and one of the game's glamor boys had come out of the regulation 72 holes of the tournament Saturday night with scores of 284, a figure duplicated in the dusk by Denny Shute of Huntington, W. Va. Yesterday afternoon, in the first eighteen hole runoff, Craig and By left Denny's 76 far behind with two slick 68s.

Three Thousand See It.

This morning, the lad who turned pro only seven years ago and the man who never has won a major title, although he has had three chances, put on a show that was a perfect climax to one of the wildest battles in the history of the open. Nelson supplied the bigger thrills for a gallery of 3,000, using up a paltry twelve strokes on the first four holes, topped off by a No. 1 iron second shot for an eagle 2 at the 453 yard fourth.

That amazing burst of sharpshooting might have caused many another pro to jump in the nearest water hole, but Wood fought the hopeless fight to the finish, collecting birdies at the fifteenth and seventeenth and missing opportunities at the sixteenth and eighteenth.

Long Iron Shot Is Feature.

For all of that courageous trying, Wood really was beaten by that 215 yard iron shot at the fourth. Add to that the record of their putts for those first four holes, four for Nelson and nine for Wood, and it's easily understood why Wood's valiant efforts were futile, despite Nelson's attempts to shove tee shots into the ensuing holes.

Nelson's triumph proved that golfers can be rated on form as are race horses. The consistency of By's play is reflected in his record since Jan. 1. In that span, covering eleven tournaments before this one, he has never been worse than tenth.

Horton Picked Nelson.

Byron is the young man whom Horton Smith suggested as a future open champion more than five years ago. Between that mention and today he has won the Masters' title with a finishing nine of 32, earned a Ryder cup berth, and has been a factor in every tournament he has entered in the last three years. He has been professional at the Reading Country club of Reading, Pa., and tonight he was heading for the Inverness club in Toledo to play in the Inverness Invitational tournament with his long time pal, Harold [Jug] McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

Nelson's scores for the six rounds of the tournament were 72, 73, 71, 68, 68, and 70 for a 108 hole total of 422, eight strokes over par for that distance. Wood had 70, 71, 71, 72, 68, 73 for 425. The cards for the playoffs:

Par—Out	434	444	344—34
Nelson—Out	433	255	344—33
Wood—Out	525	444	345—36
Par—In	434	344	445—35—69
Nelson—In	535	443	445—37—70
Wood—In	545	353	435—37—73

Nelson began his round by holing

FLIP FLAP WINS OLYMPIA FIELDS PURSE IN A ROMP

Beats Buttermilk by Four Lengths; Pays $5.40.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Flip Flap, a 5 year old mare owned by Thomas Piatt of Lexington, Ky., scored her second victory of the Lincoln Fields meeting yesterday, coming home four lengths ahead of the Lewin stable's Buttermilk in the Olympia Fields purse, a run of a mile and a sixteenth. Mrs. Kirby Ramsey's Palamede was third, and Dan Lehan's Miss Bonnie was the only other starter.

On the strength of a winning performance under similar conditions earlier in the meeting, Flip Flap was made the 8 to 5 favorite in the betting. She gave her backers little to worry about. Under Jockey George South's good rating, she ran well in hand during the gallop down the back stretch while Miss Bonnie and Buttermilk set the pace. On the turn, South drove her past Miss Bonnie and went after Buttermilk. Flip Flap took the lead soon after the stretch run began and drew out steadily in the final furlong. In the mutuels she paid $5.40 and $3, no show tickets being sold.

Yarberry Pilots 15 to 1 Shot.

Warren Yarberry began the afternoon by bringing in a 15 to 1 shot, Onyourway, thereby tying Ernest Hanke in the race for jockey honors. Later Hanke broke the tie by riding his eighteenth winner, Star Bud.

Onyourway, which hadn't been within ten lengths of the leaders at the finish of her two previous starts at Lincoln Fields, was in a running mood yesterday. After racing under steady restraint for the first half mile, she went to the front in the stretch and held on well to beat Lady Velvet by a head. It was her first victory since the Hawthorne meeting last September.

The W. E. Snyder stable, which had scored four seconds and three thirds before putting Whipstitch over Saturday, came right back with another winner when Night Mist lasted long enough to beat Black Peter by a head. Night Mist was second choice to Fly Time in the betting, paying $7, $4.60, and $3.40. The favorite ran out of the money.

Daily Double Pays $453.60.

Fort Knox, a three year old colt, which had never been able to get in the money in seven previous starts of his career, came home at 23 to 1 odds five lengths ahead of his field in the third race, completing a daily double that returned $453.60 to those who had paired him with Night Mist.

Potranco, a 2 year old gelding which won the first start of his career June 1 and then ran fourth behind Maebrille and Valdina Babe a few days later, got even in the fourth race. After leading all the way in the five furlong dash he finished two lengths ahead of E. K. Murray's Brother Higher with his erstwhile conquerors, Valdina Babe and Maebrille running third and fourth, respectively.

Potranco scored in spite of interference from the bad actor, Brother Higher, which bore over and bumped him during the stretch drive.

Red Moss Scores at $6.60.

The consistent Red Moss made it two victories and two seconds out of four Lincoln Fields starts by winning the fifth race with four lengths to spare. Jockey Paul Ryan rushed him to the front soon after the start and kept him there the rest of the way, Odessa Upset taking second place and Sweet Forever third. Red Moss was the sixth winner Trainer Bill Causey has saddled for Leo Beyda during the meeting. He was stoutly backed, paying, $6.60, $3.80, and $2.80.

Jockey Ryan later brought in Ginocchio in the seventh race. It was the second time he had scored a double with Beyda horses. Last week he won with the long shot, Decourcy, after driving Ginocchio to victory.

DETROIT POLICE OFFICER WINS $6,241 ON DOUBLE

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—[Special.]—A $60 investment by a Detroit police sergeant brought a return of $6,241.80 from today's daily double at the Detroit Fair Grounds race track.

The lucky better, Sergt. Ferris, coupled Orphan Lass, winner of the first race, with each of the ten runners in the second race, buying three tickets on each combination. Miss Koo, winner of the second race, won by a neck and paid $68.80 for each $2 straight bet. The daily double combination of Orphan Lass and Miss Foo paid $2,080.60. Orphan Lass returned $14 for a straight $2 ticket.

MRS. HILL PROVES A GOOD MUDDER; 84 LEADS IN OPEN

Miss Williams, Chicago, Posts 85 in Rain.

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, veteran tournament player, battled steadily through a drenching rain today to win medalist honors and become the favorite to take her third women's Western open golf crown in five years.

The former Curtis cup player toured the difficult Westwood Country club course in 41—43—84, nine over par, for the qualifying round. The greens were transformed into virtual lakes during the first two hours of play.

Scores Birdie Deuce.

Mrs. Hill rang up a par on the first two holes, went one over on the next three, and equaled par on No. 6. She clipped off a birdie deuce on seven and went one over on eight and nine. Continuing to place her shots well, but playing them safely, she parred the first four holes coming in and was only one over for the remaining five.

Trailing only one stroke behind Mrs. Hill with 85s were Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb, Woodmere, N. Y., pro, and Ellamae Williams of Chicago, one of the country's outstanding young amateurs.

Three other pre-tourney favorites were grouped at 87. They were Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis, Minn., the defending champion, who had difficulty on the early holes; Helen Dettweiler, Washington, D. C., pro, and Alberta Neblett, New Orleans, Louisiana state champion. Tomorrow's pairings:

UPPER BRACKET.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, Mo. [84], vs. Mrs. W. F. Anderson, St. Louis [91].
Shirley Ann Johnson, Chicago [88], vs. Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Tenn. [96].

Ormsby Backs $100,000 Drive for De La Salle

Emmett T. Ormsby, veteran American league umpire who was graduated from De La Salle High school in 1912, has been enlisted in the campaign to raise $100,000 for the Golden Jubilee fund of his alma mater. Ormsby yesterday signed his own pledge card and presented it to Alumni President Peter B. Carey.

Ormsby, whose assignments carry him out of town, said he would boost the campaign in every city he visits.

Proceeds of the Golden Jubilee fund will be used to pay off a school mortgage and to replenish scholarship funds. The campaign will continue through June. Martin H. Kennelly is general chairman.

YANKEES DEFEAT KANSAS CITY, 4-1; GEHRIG PLAYS

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—The world champion New York Yankees defeated the little world champion Kansas City Blues today, 4 to 1, before 23,864 spectators. Steve Sundra held the Yankees' American association farm club to six hits. The winners got nine hits off Joe Vance and Frank Makosky.

Lou Gehrig, veteran first baseman, returned to the Yankee lineup for the first time since May 2, when he benched himself and halted his Marathon of playing in every game since 1925. Gehrig said he would leave the club here for a physical checkup at Rochester, Minn.

Wachman and Bickel Reach Tennis Final

Marvin Wachman of Northwestern university and Norman Bickel of River Forest will meet on the courts of the Oak Park Tennis club today for the championship of the Chicago city tennis tournament. Both finalists defeated University of Chicago stars in the semi-finals yesterday, Wachman turning back Charles Shostrom, 4-5, 7-5, 8-6, and Bickel wining from Chester Murphy, 10-8, 6-1, 6-1.

Bickel and Shostrom also will figure in the doubles finals today. Bickel paired with Norbert Burgess of River Forest to defeat Calvin Sawyer of the University of Chicago and John Jorgensen of Hamilton Park, 6-2, 7-5, 6-3, while Shostrom and Art Jorgensen of the University of Chicago were eliminating Wachman and Frank Froehling of Northwestern, 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

Katherine Wolf of Elkhart, Ind., perennial star in the women's division, conquered Louise Hofmeister of River Forest, 6-3, 6-0, and, as a result will vie for the title today against Helen Fulton of Indian Hill, who won her semi-final test several days ago. In the women's doubles, the Misses Wolf and Fulton will oppose Miss Hofmeister and Florence Whittleder of River Forest for the championship.

sonal mementoes. This was said to set a new high in the autograph nuisance field, though some of the scriviners camouflaged their zeal by saying they were collecting the signature for dear old ladies who were unable to attend the festival in person.

While there later was a ruffle of drums and the occasional sounding of taps at the mention of Maj. Gen. Doubleday's demise and other respectful gestures for departed baseball notables, the scene primarily was a gala one, thanks to the man who howled from the housetop anent the Farley stamp sale.

Brisk Business in Stamps.

Incidentally, it was announced that more than a million of the baseball centennial stamps have been sold.

The formal doings were launched by Charles [Chilly] Doyle of Pittsburgh, national president of the Baseball Writers Association of America, with this thought: "Gathered about by the thousands are the lovers of this great American sport and all around, perhaps as far as the voice of radio can reach, hovers the spirit of baseball. . . . A game well played . . . a lesson learned. A loss retrieved. Defeat gallantly sustained."

The afternoon phase of the celebration included a program of sports before a capacity crowd in Doubleday field, located on the ground where baseball was invented. First, there was one of those whisker pageants of the type popularized several years ago by the National league. This was followed by the game between teams blended with National and American league players, which was won by Wagner's team, 4 to 2.

Dean Shows Improvement.

Wagner's starting team was composed of Wally Moses of the Athletics, Arkie Vaughan of the Pirates, Charley Gehringer of the Tigers, Joe Medwick of the Cards, Moe Berg of the Red Sox, Morris Arnovich of the Phillies, Jimmy Wilson of the Reds, Marv Owen of the White Sox, and Lefty Grove of the Red Sox.

Eddie Collins' starting team was composed of Lloyd Waner of the Pirates, Bill Herman of the Cubs, Mel Ott of the Giants, Hank Greenberg of the Tigers, George Selkirk of the Yankees, Arndt Jorgens of the Yankees, Stan Hack of the Cubs, Cecil Travis of the Senators, and Dizzy Dean of the Cubs.

Dean showed marked improvement over his pitching in Boston yesterday. He made Moses, Vaughan, and Gehringer tap to the infield in the first inning and in his second and final inning threw out Medwick and struck out Berg and Arnovich.

Vander Meer Is Jolted.

Grove also pitched shutout ball the first two innings. Greenberg beat out a slow roller to third for the Collinses in the first inning after Ott had reached second on a two base error by Arky Vaughan, but Grove tightened to retire the side.

Johnny Vander Meer of the Reds and Danny MacFayden of the Bees took over the pitching in the third, and the Wagners quickly scored twice on three straight hits by Wilson, Owen, and MacFayden off Vander Meer. The last two were ground rule doubles. MacFayden held the Collins scoreless in the third and there was no scoring in the fourth. Syl Johnson relieved Vander Meer for the Collins team.

Babe Pops Out.

The fans got a great thrill when Babe Ruth waddled to the plate for MacFayden in the fifth. He popped out to Jorgens after missing the first strike by a yard and fouling off the second.

Collins' team tied the score at two all in the sixth. Greenberg and Taft Wright of Washington, who succeeded Selkirk in the outfield, singled with one out and Greenberg scored on Jorgens' single. Hack scored Wright with an infield roller.

The Wagners decided the game in their half by scoring twice after two were out. Vaughan doubled, Frank Hayes of the Athletics scored him with another double, and Arnovich drove Hayes across with a single.

Wacker Loses to Kenneally; Meleski Wins

A boxer conquered a slugger when Tom Kenneally, Catholic Youth organization heavyweight, beat Henry Wacker of Taylorville, Ill., in a ten round bout in Marigold outdoor arena last night.

Kenneally outboxed the powerful Wacker in the fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, and ninth rounds to win the unanimous vote of Referee Tommy Thomas and Judges Ed Hintz and Dr. E. Allen Frankel. Wacker held his opponent even in the first, second, and tenth and earned an edge in the third and sixth.

Eddie Meleski, middleweight stable mate of Kenneally, knocked out Dick Kist of Danville in the fifth round of the scheduled six round semi-final. It was Meleski's second knockout of Kist.

Kist floored Meleski for a nine count in the second, but Eddie found the range with left hooks to the jaw in the fourth and had the Danville fighter on the verge of a knockout. Shortly after the fifth opened a left to the head sent Kist spinning to the canvas for a nine count, and another left dropped him for good. Referee Sammy Ford completed his count at 1:20.

Joey Russano, Humboldt Park featherweight, scored his twenty-ninth straight triumph by knocking out Joey Ojida in the first round of a scheduled four round perliminary. In other matches Sammy Scully and Eu Eulien battled four rounds to a draw and Bob Ray knocked out Gene Clark in the first round.

OBEDIENCE TEST CLASS ENTRY LIST SETS NEW MARK

BY BOB BECKER.

A new American dog show record for obedience test classes will be established Saturday when the Skokie Valley Kennel club show opens in Dyche stadium. Fifty trained dogs have been entered in the obedience test classes sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, the largest number of trained dogs ever to appear in obedience work in an American show, according to Charles Koerner, president of the German Shepherd Dog Training Club of Chicago.

Officials of the Skokie Valley Kennel club report 713 dogs of fifty-two different breeds will compete in regular show classes.

Fifteen different breeds are represented among the fifty trained dogs in the five obedience classes. THE TRIBUNE will award a handsome plaque to the winner of each class, and a special sungold trophy to the high point dog in the open class. The trophies are on display at the Wieboldt store, 818 Davis street, Evanston.

Compete Here First Time.

Some of the breeds never have appeared in obedience classes in previous midwestern dog shows. The list of competing dogs by breeds is as follows: Boxer, 1; collies, 2; Dobermann pinschers, 12; German shepherds, 17; Great Danes, 2; Rottweiller, 1; English setter, 1; Cocker spaniel, 4; Airedale, 1; wire haired terrier, 1; Welsh terrier, 1; chow, 1; Borzois, 2; St. Bernards, 2; Shetland sheepdog, 1.

Forty-one of the dogs will compete in the two novice classes, A and B. Seven are entered in the two open classes, A and B, and two of the best trained dogs will be seen in the utility class, which has strict requirements for a trained dog.

Dobermann Entries Lead.

No one breed has an unusually large entry in the show. Dobermann pinschers are in No. 1 position with forty-three. The Cocker spaniels and the Boston terriers have an entry of forty-two each. Fox terriers and German shepherds each will be represented by thirty-three dogs. There are twenty-eight Scottish terriers entered and the same number of collies.

MEISTER BRÄU VOTED BEST BY A FAVORITE CHICAGO GLEE CLUB—25-6

When members of a certain Chicago men's glee club were asked to taste Meister Bräu Beer and vote the results of their comparison with other brands, 4 out of every 5 said "Meister Bräu is my first-choice bottle beer."

This glee club is composed of men active in the professions and in many kinds of business. They love music, and, while enjoying it themselves, have so developed their talents as to earn an enviable popularity among music lovers throughout Chicagoland for their request performances.

Richard Seibold invites you to try Meister Bräu Draft Beer —Made with the same care —Ask at your favorite Bar.

WE COULD SAVE TIME AND MONEY BY ADDING SUGARS AND SYRUPS BUT WE WON'T CHANGE OUR OLD-TIME, ALL-GRAIN FLAVOR
by RICHARD SEIBOLD, Meister Bräu Brewmaster

Reasons for Amazing Popularity of This Beer Revealed by Independent Investigator

When leading beer retailers were asked by Chicago Newspapers what brand of bottled beer is first in sales, they reported Meister Bräu. Figures ranged from 2 to 1 leadership to as high as 10 to 1. The Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation was asked to check and analyze this amazing popularity by holding taste-and-compare tests where groups of men and women gather.

The investigator finds that the true old-time flavor of Meister Bräu explains its tremendous popularity, and that Chicagoans appreciate the all-grain flavor which Richard Seibold, Meister Bräu Brewmaster, preserves by refusing to add sugars or syrups to the brew, or to change his method of bottling with natural draft-beer carbonation only.

NLRB CRITICIZED AND DEFENDED IN U. OF C. MEETING

Board's Chairman Insists It Is Impartial.

The national labor relations board was criticized and defended yesterday by speakers at the University of Chicago law school conference. The conference is a phase of the university's alumni school and reunion which will close today.

The speaker who defended the NLRB was its chairman, J. Warren Madden. He declared that the board is impartial.

Madden spoke in reply to Ernest S. Ballard, of the law firm of Pope and Ballard, who asserted that the NLRB's practices in dealing with labor controversies should be revised radically to introduce at least the rudiments of fair play.

Likens Hearing to Court Martial.

"We find the NLRB acting as investigator, grand jury prosecutor, and judge," said Ballard, who likened the board's hearings to a war time court martial.

"When the board decides to issue a complaint, it is deciding at least provisionally that the respondent is guilty."

In replying, Madden said:

"Here is the way the NLRB really functions. When a union charges a company has violated the Wagner act a field examination and investigation. A regional director decides whether the charge is well founded. Fifteen per cent of these accusations are thrown out at this point.

"Twenty-five per cent of the remainder are dropped by the unions, usually at the regional director's suggestion. That doesn't seem a very strong presumption of guilt. Fifty per cent usually end by adjustment. Less than 10 per cent reach trial.

Says Testimony Decides Issue.

"In any event, this ends the regional director's connection with the case. The sworn testimony given before the trial examiner is what decides the issue."

Madden, answering a question from the floor, said it is obvious that the NLRB is a rule by men, not by law, and that if unscrupulous men should have charge of the board it would be an instrument of tyranny.

The law school conference will close today with a discussion of the anti-trust laws by Thurman W. Arnold, assistant United States attorney general at 3 p. m. in the Oriental institute, 58th street and University avenue. The law school association's annual dinner will be held tonight.

STORAGE STOCKS OF MEAT SHRINK FURTHER IN MAY

Stocks of meat in cold storage plants fell again last month, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. On June 1 there were 621,250,000 pounds in store, exclusive of lard. This was the smallest total since January and the third lightest June 1 stocks on government records.

On May 1 the stocks totaled 628,744,000 pounds. A year ago the June 1 holdings were lightest on record for that date at 547,766,000 pounds.

Beef stocks dropped to 34,431,000 pounds on June 1, the smallest since July, last year, and second smallest for June 1 since 1933. Lamb and mutton stocks at 1,807,000 pounds were smallest since August, 1936. Pork in store dropped from 527,213,000 pounds on May 1 to 519,851,000 on June 1.

Alfalfa Silage Studied.

June 12, 1939.

MAKING alfalfa into silage instead of hay is giving harvesters at the DuPage county farm an opportunity to study at first hand the advantages and disadvantages of this method of handling the alfalfa crop as compared with the customary process of putting up hay.

The big advantage in putting hay in the silo is in avoiding spoilage during rainy weather. Rains often interfere with curing the first cutting of alfalfa in this region. Wet, green hay may safely be made into silage. Last week some alfalfa and clover that had been cut and left in the field to cure for hay was caught by rain before it was ready to go into the barn. It was put in the silo. Continued rains meant that this hay would have been lost or badly damaged had it not been made into silage.

Costs of putting alfalfa in the silo apparently are greater than those of making hay where weather conditions are favorable for curing the hay in the fields. Labor costs are being examined so comparisons can be made.

Eight Men Required.

Eight men, three tractors, and one team are required to fill the silo in order to keep the work going steadily and smoothly. This allows one man on the mower, one to drive the tractor that pulls the hay loader, two to work on the wagons as they are being loaded, one to drive the wagons to and from the field, two to feed the hay chopper, and one in the silo to handle the distributor and to tramp the silage around the walls.

One tractor runs the mower, one pulls the wagons as they are being loaded, and the other runs the hay loader. The team hauls the wagons to and from the field. Three wagons are used.

Eleven men, two tractors, and four teams ordinarily would be used to put hay in the barn, hauling it the same distance. This would mean one man running a mower, one a side delivery rake, one driving the tractor that pulled the loader, two loading the wagons, two driving teams hauling in the hay, one handling the hay fork at the barn, one driving the team hitched to the hay rope, and two in the barn loft.

Ten Needed for Chopper.

To run hay through the hay chopper and blow it into the hay keeper requires ten men, two tractors, and three teams.

While fewer men are being used to fill the silo than would be needed to put hay in the barn or hay keeper, the expense probably will be more per acre because the green hay for silage cannot be handled as fast as cured hay. Exact comparisons on an acre basis have not yet been made.

The greater weight of the green hay means heavier work and slower handling. Mowing presumably is the only operation that is the same for both silage and hay.

AIR LINES GAIN MORE TRAFIC, SO EARNINGS RISE

First Quarter Better than Year Ago.

R. F. Ahrens reports trafic gain.

Trafic increases shown by the nation's leading air lines so far this year were reflected in improved first quarter earnings statements, a survey revealed yesterday. American Airlines, Inc., Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., and United Air Lines made better showings for the three months ended March 31 than for the corresponding period last year.

Eastern Air Lines also reported substantially higher earnings for the March quarter. This transport company operated profitably for both the first period this year and for 1938.

Back on Profit Basis.

American Airlines climbed into the profit stratum for the first quarter of this year, against unprofitable operations during the similar 1938 period, and showed a profit for the full 1938 year. The other lines lost money, but made progress over the preceding March quarter and for 1938.

First quarter earnings of the principal air lines follow:

	1939.	1938.
American	$ 23,801	$*232,008
Eastern	233,125	98,822
T. W. A.	*364,844	*500,079
United	*419,085	*667,671

*Loss.

The gains shown by these lines probably will be continued in the second quarter on the basis of present trafic conditions, officials said yesterday. Most transport companies have reported substantially increased trafic for April. The few reports that have been made for early June also indicate improvement.

United Sets Ten Day Mark.

United Air Lines carried 1,663 passengers from Chicago to eastern or western destinations in the first ten days of June, or more than for any other ten day period this year, R. F. Ahrens, regional trafic manager, said yesterday. Revenue passenger mileage for May increased 26 per cent over April and 28 per cent over the May, 1938, level, he said.

American Airlines claimed a world record for the number of passengers carried last month. Transcontinental and Western Air reported revenue passenger miles for the first 20 days of May indicated the month would be the best in the company's history.

Despite the upturn in trafic figures reported by most lines, government pay for mail hauling by the air lines continues to be a major obstacle to consistent profits, according to officials of the transport companies. The air mail compensation received by the air lines is being attacked in several petitions filed with the Civil Aeronautics authority. These petitions seek increased payments.

Expect to Add Equipment.

Air line officials expressed doubt yesterday that the huge rearmament program started by the government and foreign nations would interfere with possible expansion of equipment if continued trafic improvement requires such action. One executive said delivery of the type of equipment used by the major lines could be obtained within ninety days.

"Equipment problems are not the most serious difficulty facing us if we want to expand," another executive said. "We can get the ships, but not the personnel. It takes us longer to find pilots and mechanics to suit our needs than it does to get equipment.

"We believe airplane manufacturers will continue to give us quick delivery. They will sidetrack government orders in favor of commercial requirements. This is actually being done because we know that the big backlog of most manufacturers is built on government orders, not commercial requirements."

EAST TEXAS OIL FIELD PRORATION HELD VOID IN U. S. COURT RULING

Austin, Tex., June 12.—[Special.]—The state's policy of prorating production in the east Texas oil field was declared "confiscatory and invalid" by Federal District Judge R. J. McMillan today. Judge McMillan upheld an application of the Towan and Nichols Oil company for an injunction against a prorating order.

The more than one thousand wells of the east Texas fields are permitted to produce only 2.32 per cent of the hourly potential of wells each twenty-four hours. The court decision held the potential basis did not adequately recognize disparity of wells, richness of sands or reserves of oil. The ruling applied to the method, not the amount, of the restriction. There was no indication that producers planned any boost in output as a result of the decision pending further clarification of its effect on procedures of the railroad commission, which sets the allowables.

RECORD PROFITS IN 1938 EARNED BY ROYAL DUTCH

The Royal Dutch company, one of the largest petroleum producing, refining and marketing enterprises in the world, established a new high record for profits in 1938, it was disclosed yesterday. The company had net profits of 88,021,473 Dutch florins, against 87,617,256 florins in 1937 [the florin is about 53 cents].

Operations of the W. F. Hall Printing company, Chicago, are on a profitable basis, Alfred B. Geiger, president, told stockholders at their annual meeting.

FORM EXCHANGE FOR REINSURING WAR CARGO RISK

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—The American cargo war risk reinsurance exchange has been formed, it was announced today. The new organization is composed of a group representing the entire New York war risk insurance field and is understood to have been formed to forestall action by the federal government along lines recently established by the British government.

No change in the present method of underwriting cargo war risk insurance by individual companies is made under the new setup, it was said. It enables member underwriters to be certain of obtaining adequate reinsurance and thus to keep their net retained lines on any single risk, within reasonable limits.

U. S. STEEL SHIPS LARGER FINISHED TONNAGE IN MAY

Shipments of finished products of the United States Steel corporation in May totaled 723,165 tons, an increase of 21,706 tons over 701,459 tons in April. In May, 1938, shipments amounted to 465,081 tons. For the five months to the end of May shipments aggregated 3,659,833 tons, an increase of 1,127,536 tons over 2,532,297 tons in the comparable period a year ago.

For the first time in four weeks, steel production of all mills is scheduled to decline this week, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday. Operations are placed at 53.1 per cent of capacity, a drop of 1.1 points from the 54.2 per cent rate in the preceding week.

Chicago Man Complains of Heavy NLRB Expense

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—A Chicago industrialist said today that the national labor board required him to employ, for a hearing, a board-approved stenographer who charged $1 a page for a 3,250-page record. F. H. Fowler, president of Foote Brothers Gear and Machine corporation, testifying before a senate subcommittee considering Wagner act changes, mentioned the expense only incidentally.

U. S. Treasury Sells 91 Day Bills to Yield 0.004 Pct.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.] — Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau tonight announced that this week's offerings of ninety-one day treasury bills was sold at an average price of 99.999, equivalent to 0.004 per cent.

Action Starts in Typewriter MonopolyQuiz

New York, June 12.—(AP)—The government today started a grand jury investigation of the typewriter industry to determine whether manufacturers were engaged in monopolistic or collusive practices.

Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, said the inquiry was under the direction of Attorney General Frank Murphy. In a statement issued at the federal court house, Arnold said one purpose of the investigation was to find out whether there was any "progressive centralization" in the production and sale of typewriters by the manufacturers.

Arnold said that twenty years ago there were twenty-five manufacturing companies in the country, but that at present there are only five producers. Four of these, he said, manufacture 90 per cent of the typewriters sold in the United States.

Terms, Prices Identical.

He also declared that since the field of manufacturers was reduced by 80 per cent in the twenty years studied by federal investigators, prices of machines have been raised a number of times. Today, he said, the four principal manufacturers sell their typewriters at "identical" prices.

In announcing the investigation into the sale and distribution of typewriters throughout the United States, Arnold said there was a "remarkable pattern" of uniform conduct in business dealings by the major companies.

Such "pattern" conformity, he said, inevitably raised the suspicion that "it scarcely could be maintained in the absence of concerted action."

Allowances Are Cited.

The federal official said manufacturers made similar allowances for used machines in exchange for new ones, and that to prevent any complications in such valuations the manufacturers followed a schedule of serial numbers for all makes of machines.

The grand jury probe, he said, would attempt to establish whether the manufacturers were acting independently or through an understanding to regulate prices.

OPPOSES COURT TO HANDLE RAIL REORGANIZATION

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Legislation to establish special courts to handle railroad reorganization matters was opposed by Luther M. Walker, Chicago attorney, at a hearing today before a house judiciary subcommittee.

Walker, a co-trustee of the Chicago Great Western railroad and counsel for the National Industrial Trafic league, defended the record of the interstate commerce commission and the federal courts in handling railroad reorganization cases under existing law.

"You don't need to strike down the existing law, and you don't need to destroy confidence in the district judges in order to expedite solution of the problem," argued.

Business Done by Checks Increases in Middle West

Business done by checks increased 13.7 per cent in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district in the week ended June 7, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago announced yesterday. The total of debits to individual deposit accounts for the week was $1,140,484,000, or 1.5 per cent more than in the corresponding period a year ago.

SPEYER, CENTURY OLD BANK HOUSE, TO QUIT; PARTNER IS RETIRING

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—The international banking house of Speyer & Co., which celebrated its one hundredth anniversary two years ago, announced today that its senior partner, James Speyer, will retire from active business June 30. The firm will be discontinued on that date.

James Speyer.

Speyer, who will be 78 years old July 28, last year announced his wish to retire from banking and devote his time to other interests.

The Speyer name in banking dates from the middle ages in Frankfort-on-Main, Germany. The founder of the house of Speyer in America was Philip Speyer, uncle of the present senior partner. Philip Speyer came to New York in 1837 from Frankfort.

He was joined in 1845 by his younger brother, Gustav, father of James Speyer. The firm, then known as Philip Speyer & Co., helped finance the Union cause in the civil war by selling government bonds in Europe.

FINDS WALLACE'S MEN IN DRIVE FOR COTTON SUBSIDY

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Senator George [D., Ga.] said in the senate today that county agricultural agents in the south are recruiting members for the American Farm Bureau federation at the behest of the department of agriculture in an effort to muster support for a cotton export subsidy.

George, whose defeat was sought by President Roosevelt in the 1938 elections, read letters he said county agents had sent to farmers at government expense. He is opposed to the subsidy plan.

The letters recited the large cash benefits farmers had received under the AAA and soil conservation plans.

"Only through this organization [the federation]," one letter said, "have you been able to receive these payments."

NATION'S HOARD OF GOLD PASSES 16 BILLION MARK

60% of World Total Buried in Vaults.

Gold, piling up in the United States in unprecedented volume, passed another milestone on June 9 when the supply exceeded 16 billion dollars, a treasury department report showed yesterday.

The total — $16,008,915,154 — represented an increase of 1 billion dollars in less than three months. The treasury gold hoard is not only the largest in history, but represents 60 per cent of all the monetary gold stock in the world.

Gold from all parts of the world has sought a safe haven in this country. It flowed to the United States at the rate of 200 million dollars a week during the spring, but has dwindled since to between 25 and 50 millions weekly.

Stored at Fort Knox.

The treasury's gold is stored in an underground vault at Fort Knox, Ky., the federal reserve and mint vaults at New York and San Francisco, and in other strong boxes. Private interests are not permitted to own monetary gold.

Successive peak holdings of treasury monetary gold were reached as follows: Thirteen billions in July, 1938; 14 billions in October, 1938; 15 billions in March, 1939; 16 billions June 9, 1939.

Additional gold has found its way to this country since the date of the most recent statistics. It is estimated that holdings now are several million dollars above the reported total. A year ago at this time, monetary gold stocks were $12,943,427,195.67.

More Gold Engaged.

The New York Federal Reserve bank reported that $8,200,000 of gold was engaged in England yesterday for shipment to this country. It also announced arrangements had been made previously to ship an additional $1,300,000 from India and $4,100,000 from Canada.

The Dutch guilder continued under pressure in foreign exchange transactions in New York. On selling which again came mostly from overseas money centers the guilder lost 0.06 cent in terms of the dollar.

The British pound sterling advanced ¼ of a cent and the French franc gained 0.00⅛ of a cent.

Sunray Oil Will Redeem 5 Pct. Debenture Shares

New York, June 12.—(AP)—The Sunray Oil corporation today called its outstanding 5 per cent convertible debenture shares for redemption July 31 at $26.25 a share plus interest to the call date.

Butter Supply Sets Record; U. S. to Buy Cheese and Milk

Stocks of creamery butter in cold storage in the nation's warehouses on June 1 reached an all time high level for that date, the monthly report of the bureau of agricultural economics showed yesterday.

At the same time, the department of agriculture asked manufacturers of American cheese and evaporated milk to submit proposals for the sale of surplus supplies of those commodities.

Butter supplies climbed to 85,168,000 pounds on June 1 from 70,861,000 pounds on May 1. Of the June 1 total, the government owned approximately 59 per cent through the holdings of the Dairy Products Marketing association and the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation. On May 1 the government owned about 87.5 per cent.

FSCC Buys 14,876,000 Pounds.

The FSCC, which was recently authorized to relieve the DPMA of 25,000,000 pounds by June 30, bought 14,876,000 pounds from the latter agency. The FSCC distributed 10,338,000 pounds to relief clients during the month.

Only 33,441,000 pounds of the total butter supply were owned by commercial interests. This was an increase of 24,587,000 pounds during May.

Chicago Mercantile exchange traders termed the report bearish. They said total holdings were about 6,000,000 pounds heavier than had been expected, although the peak of production is usually reached about this time of year.

A year ago only 55,266,000 pounds were in storage, while the June 1 average over the last 10 years was about 33,800,000 pounds.

Butter for delivery in November advanced ⅛ cent a pound in trading on the Chicago futures market yesterday.

Warehouse stocks of American cheese increased less than seasonally from 62,870,000 pounds on May 1 to 64,719,000 pounds on June 1, the bureau's report said.

Would Cut Cheese Supply.

The department of agriculture's invitation for bids on cheese and evaporated milk was made under recent authorization for the purchase of 4,500,000 pounds of cheese and 12,000,000 pounds of the milk.

Representative Hull [Prog., Wis.], said the department's decision to include cheese in its commodity purchasing program would help reduce the excessive supply of the commodity.

"It is particularly helpful at this time when the dairy industry is coming into flush production, because if stored cheese is taken off the market it makes room for this season's crop," the congressman said.

Seeks $51,000,000 Fund.

He said he was attempting to have $51,000,000 provided in the farm stabilization bill for the acquisition of surplus dairy products.

The report by the bureau of agricultural economics said June 1 storage holdings of shell eggs totaled 5,886,000 cases, an increase of 2,529,000 cases during May. Stocks a year earlier were 5,100,000 cases.

Frozen poultry holdings declined 3,770,000 pounds in May to 66,798,000 pounds on June 1.

NEW YORK FINANCIAL NEWS SERVICE TO END, DUE TO 'DEPRESSION'

New York, June 12.—(AP)—The New York News Bureau association, operator of financial news tickers in the New York metropolitan area, announced today it would suspend operations June 30. "Continued and increased depressed conditions obtaining in the financial district" is the cause, it said.

The announcement, printed on its tickers, said the "high cost of gathering and distributing news and the lessened demand for its service made it impossible for the bureau" to maintain its present high standards of service at prevailing rates." Between forty and fifty employés, it was said, are affected.

Melvin J. Woodworth, president, said the plans also called for liquidation of Central News of America, a financial news service operated in connection with the bureau. The organization has been linked with Central News, Ltd., of London, described as foreign owned.

HULL BIDS ITALY, GERMANY JOIN IN HIS TRADE PACTS

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Secretary Hull, on the fifth anniversary of his trade agreement program, invited Germany and Italy in effect today to line up with him and warned them their economic policies are leading them to destruction.

In a formal statement, Hull declared:

"If two larger nations enter into a discriminatory arrangement between themselves, with an agreement to divide their spheres of influence, other nations inevitably will take defensive economic measures and, instead of establishing peace and economic rehabilitation and progress, the result is bound to be a general collapse."

He also dropped a hint to the small nations which have, or are concluding, agreements with Germany.

"Small nations which enter into such arrangements with a large nation," he said, "become increasingly dependent upon the large nation for economic existence and inevitably become political vassals of the large nation."

APPROVE DEATH SENTENCE FOR NEW DEAL TAXES

House Group Would End Profit Levy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—The house subcommittee on taxes has tentatively agreed to vote a death sentence for the New Deal's tax on undistributed profits, now three years old. Other technical changes in the tax laws, in an effort to encourage business, also have been given tentative approval.

Rep. Jere Cooper.

Announcement of the program of tax revision was made by Representative Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], subcommittee chairman, in reporting on two executive sessions which the committee held today, the last of which broke up late in the afternoon. The subcommittee is expected to present its report on a tax bill to the full ways and means committee within a day or two.

Speedy Approval Likely.

Speedy approval is expected on the bill, which is now shaping up, contains virtually all of the modifications recently advocated by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. in an appearance before the committee. At that time Morgenthau admitted the administration's mistake in imposing punitive taxes and recommended alleviation to aid business.

The subcommittee would substitute a flat 18 per cent levy on corporations earning more than $25,000 a year for the present rate, ranging from 16½ to 19 per cent—or a flat rate of 16½ per cent plus 2½ per cent on undistributed earnings.

Corporations with net income of less than $25,000, which are exempt from the undistributed profits levy, would continue to pay the existing rates of 12½ per cent on the first $5,000 of net taxable income, 14 per cent on the next $15,000 and 16 per cent on the next $5,000.

Ran from 7 to 27 Per Cent.

Prior to a drastic overhauling last year the undistributed profits tax, enacted in 1936 at the request of President Roosevelt as part of the "distribution of wealth" program, ran from 7 to 27 per cent on undis-

Stocks, Bonds

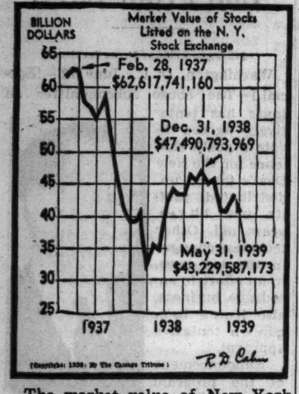
New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 12.—Stocks slipped fractions to about 2 points today as trading dwindled to 424,200 shares. Moderate offerings and absence of any sustained support were blamed for the setback.

Disturbing domestic and foreign news provided the background for the market's decline, according to observers. They pointed out that traders were confronted with the lower steel operating rate and the union labor trouble at some of the General Motors plants.

Steels were active on the downside. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem dropped 1¼ points each. In the motors, Chrysler lost 1¼ points and General Motors slipped a fraction. U. S. Rubber led its group lower. Norwalk Tire and Rubber also was active and lower. Coppers were mostly fractionally lower. In the oils, Standard Oil of New Jersey dropped a point, and other key oils dipped fractionally.



The market value of New York stocks rose 2½ billions in May.

Most food shares turned downward with the general trend. Mail order shares showed losses running to ⅝ point in Montgomery Ward. Aviation issues were uniformly lower. Douglas dropped 1⅝ point.

Power and light shares gave a relatively good account of themselves. Carrier shares declined in limited trading.

In the electric equipments, Westinghouse and Allis-Chalmers lost 1½ and 1¼ points, respectively.

New York Bonds.

New York, June 12.—(AP)—The June advance in the bond market was interrupted today by moderate selling which cut down prices fractions to around a point.

United States governments lacked a definite trend. On a fair turnover some treasuries dipped 4-32ds to 12-32ds as a minor number pushed ahead 1-32d to 6-32ds.

Most foreign loans held to a narrow range, with prices mixed.

Chicago Stocks.

Stocks moved lower in light trading on the Chicago exchange yesterday. Commonwealth Edison, which recently has been the most active issue on the exchange and which last week set a new 1939 high, receded a minor fraction on a turnover of 9,500 shares. Marshall Field, second on the volume list, also closed slightly lower on a 750 share turnover.

Zenith Radio gave up ⅞ point, showing the widest swing of any of the active issues. Kentucky Utilities preferred advanced 2 points to 93, a new 1939 peak, in limited dealings.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks closed unchanged to slightly lower yesterday. Continental Illinois lost $1 a share. Trading remained quiet.

HEARING ON RAIL CREW DUTY RULE DISPUTE OPENED

186 Charges Made Against Santa Fe by Unions.

A hearing of 186 labor complaints against the Santa Fe railroad was opened yesterday by the National Railroad Adjustment board in its offices at 220 South State street. The complaints were filed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The disputes largely concern the assignment of train crews to duty. It is reported that should all the cases be decided against the Santa Fe railroad, about $500,000 would be added annually to the road's labor costs.

Plea for Record Denied.

L. L. McDonald, a member of the first division of the board, presided at the hearing yesterday. Prior to the opening of the regular session, the request of Joyce Cox, general attorney for the Santa Fe, for permission to let a court reporter make a record of the proceedings was denied.

The first dispute discussed involved crews used in the handling of trains serving lettuce and melon growers in the region of Phoenix and Mobest, Ariz. K. B. Walton, general chairman of the locomotive firemen and enginemen, outlined the union's grievances.

Walton said that assignment of the men to what is called "tramp" runs was done in pools in which train crews were rotated. The first crew in gets the first run out, the second in getting the second run out, and so on. He declared that the runs should be "assigned." Under assigned runs, he said, rights to preferred runs would be on a basis of seniority.

Operations Described.

Cox, speaking on behalf of the Santa Fe management, described operations near Phoenix in the Salt River valley. He said there is extensive truck operation in the region, shipments are seasonable and the railroads provide service at such places as shipments are offered and at such times as they are available.

The time and place of shipments vary from day to day, he continued. To meet this type of service demand, the road uses a pool system for elasticity. Runs are made when needed. If the road were forced to assign runs, he said, it would mean that the men would report for duty on a definite basis regardless of whether there was any business.

"We have to pay our crews either on a basis of 100 miles or one day's pay," he said. "In the case of an assigned run we might have to pay when no work was done. Further, the deviation of even one mile from an assigned run would force us to pay an extra day's pay."

TVA BOND ISSUE BILL READY FOR HOUSE DEBATE

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Legislation to permit the Tennessee Valley authority to issue bonds to finance purchases of private utilities in Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama was given right-of-way today and will be debated in the house tomorrow.

A drastically revised bill emerged this morning from the house military affairs committee. TVA supporters said they would seek to eliminate the changes when the measure comes before the house under a rule allowing four hours' general debate and amendment paragraph by paragraph.

Under the rule, said Chairman Sabath [D., Ill.] of the rules committee, it will be possible for TVA supporters to offer the original Norris $100,000,000 proposal in substitution for the committee bill after disposal of other amendments. The committee's bill reduces the authorized issue to $65,000,000.

EXPECT BOOM IF ROOSEVELT WILL DROP CANDIDACY

If President Roosevelt would announce definitly that he was not a candidate for a third term, business and the securities markets would respond with an advance exceeding the sharp recovery of last autumn. This statement was made yesterday in an analysis by Shields & Co., leading New York stock exchange firm, which characterized fear of another four years of the New Deal as the principal factor retarding recovery.

The President is not likely to give up his third term plans, however, "for unless the outlook is definitly unfavorable to the election of a Democrat he will run, according to the analysis, prepared by J. P. Maher.

"Business leaders, directors of corporations and owners of capital are not inclined to risk their funds while there is a chance of those with such ideas [administration economists] remaining in power after 1940," Maher said.

Court Postpones Hearings on Chicago-North Western

To allow time for consultation with Charles M. Thompson, newly appointed trustee, Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday continued indefinitly two hearings in connection with the Chicago and North Western railway. These were the $74,484,400 operating budget for the last nine months of 1939 and the petition for authority to spend $4,010,000 on new equipment.

Radio Industry's Annual Convention Opens Today

Radio company executives, service men, jobbers, and dealers from all parts of the country will meet in Chicago today at the annual convention and exposition of the Radio Manufacturers association in the Hotel Stevens. Newest developments in television will be discussed and equipment exhibited.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR PROFITS TAX IS AGREED UPON

Urge Other Changes to Aid Business.

tributed earnings. The committee would now kill the tax by allowing it to expire Dec. 31, 1939.

Other features of the subcommittee's tentative program are:

1. Extend existing "emergency" postal rates and "nuisance" taxes, both of which expire June 30, for another two years. They yield nearly 600 million dollars annually.

2 Allow corporations to increase, but not decrease, their capital stock valuation in each of the next two years. Under existing law any change in valuation could not occur before June 30, 1941.

3. Allow corporations a carry over of net operating losses for two years, beginning with 1939 losses. This carry over privilege is not allowed under existing law.

Repeals Limitation.

4. Repeal present limitation of $2,000 on capital losses that can be charged against ordinary corporation income. In case of losses on assets held more than 18 months the loss could be applied in full against ordinary income. In losses on assets held less than 18 months allow only short term losses against short term gains. Any excess in losses could be applied against the next year.

5. The flat 18 per cent corporate rate would apply to foreign corporations doing business in the United States; also banks, insurance companies, China trade act corporations, mutual investment companies, and corporations in possessions of the United States. Various rates had applied previously to these classes of companies. Existing rates will apply on foreign corporations not engaged in business, but receiving income.

Bankrupt Corporations.

6. Corporations in bankruptcy or receivership, joint stock land banks, and rental housing corporation, now allowed a credit of 2½ per cent of adjusted net income, will be taxed like other corporations.

Other technical changes which the subcommittee proposes to recommend will involve clarifications of the law, believed necessary because of recent Supreme court decisions.

For instance, Cooper said it was tentatively agreed that assumptions of indebtedness by one corporation from another in real business reorganizations will not be made taxable in a reorganization which is otherwise nontaxable. In the Hendler decision the Supreme court had held that the transfer of a debt was taxable income on the part of the corporation relieved of the debt.

CENTRALIZED TAX BUREAU PLAN FOR COUNTY STUDIED

A volunteer committee of county officials yesterday held a meeting to study the proposed creation of a central bureau to coördinate tax collecting activities. The plan, approved by the citizens' committee on taxation and the Chicago Association of Commerce, has been advanced as an aid in collecting some of the $400,000,000 of county tax delinquencies.

It calls for the setting up of one agency to coördinate the records and work of all county tax divisions, including the county assessor, county clerk, county board, county treasurer, state's attorney and county court. Arthur Sullivan, attorney for County Treasurer John Toman and temporary chairman of the volunteer committee, adjourned yesterday's meeting until Friday, after a short discussion, because not all of the tax officers had given their views on the bureau plan.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, appointed a special committee, headed by Commissioner Maurice F. Kavanagh, to investigate the possibility of additional costs to the county if a central bureau is established.

Shell Union Oil Dickers to Refund 82 Million Debt

New York, June 12.—(AP)—The Shell Union Oil corporation was reported in financial quarters today to be negotiating with Morgan Stanley & Co., toward the refunding of the former's funded debt totaling $82,427,000. Present plans, described as "only tentative," call for a new issue of 20 year bonds bearing an interest rate of 2¾ per cent. The issue would replace $57,427,000 of 3½ per cent debentures due in 1951 and $25,000,000 of 3¾ per cent debentures due in 1953.

WHEAT ACREAGE SET FOR STATES UNDER AAA PLAN

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—The agriculture department announced today the apportionment to states of the 1940 national wheat acreage allotment of 62,000,000 acres established under the 1938 farm act.

Seven midwestern and southwestern wheat growing states received an aggregate allotment of 41,000,000 acres, or about two-thirds of the national total. These states and their allotment, in order of size, were: Kansas, 12,798,001 acres; North Dakota, 8,964,389; Oklahoma, 4,515,610; Texas, 4,221,706; Montana, 3,783,077; Nebraska, 3,560,400, and South Dakota, 3,245,869.

The department said the 7,000,000 acre increase in the 1940 national allotment over the 55,000,000 acres allotted for 1939 was reflected in larger state apportionments.

Since the 1940 state allotments were based on average seeded acreage for the 10 year period, 1929-'38, and 1939 allotment on the 1928-'37 average, the department said the increases were not exactly in the same proportion in all states.

Adjustments were made, however, to insure that state allotment would be sufficient to provide each county an allotment of at least its 1938 seedings. Acreage diverted under previous farm programs also was given consideration.

The state allotments were announced nearly two months earlier than last year, so that farmers, particularly in the winter wheat belt, could plan for 1940 well ahead of seeding time.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

MEN

If you are interested in making money, increasing your income, getting into a permanent business not affected by seasons, providing properly for your family, and are a real worker of good character, between the ages of 25 and 60 preferably, then this opportunity concerns you. We will give time for a personal interview to such men.

Our company is rapidly approaching in this country the complete dominance of market it has already secured in other countries with five European and American factories continuously busy supplying our electrical units.

Men in this business from all walks of life are big earners. When they learn this profitable business thoroly, their incomes range around $2,000, $4,000, $6,000, $7,000 and more per year, yet they had no previous experience in this kind of work.

Here are a few examples of what some of our men earned on commissions and bonus alone in this territory in one day this week:

HORNADAY, former fact. worker..$72.00
PIERCE, former manufacturer....$41.00
COTTERELL, former dairyman.... 61.25
ZINK, former electrician..... 48.30
FRAKER, former farmer 74.80
DUNLEAVEY, former tool mkr... 69.70
SCHLEICHER, former insur. man.. 61.30
BRUNS, former farmer 41.80
POTTS, former salesman 52.30
TOMLINSON, former oil worker.. 38.90
WALDREP, former insurance man. 41.30
WINTER, former farmer 48.20

If selected you will meet the above men and many others who are now successful in our business.

Beginners may have to be content with $125-$200 first month; however, McAllister made $100 first week. Some men even more. Hapsburg, new man who started yesterday, earned $48 first day; Freund, $47.50 first day; Bartlett, $49 second day; Tamborini, $24 first day, etc.

You are placed on exactly the same basis of compensation as all others, some of whom have been with us ten years and you make no investment of any nature nor deposit one cent of your money. We finance everything, even to your factory schooling.

March was our largest month, with each year for the last ten years larger than the last. Ours is a sound progressive proof business.

If you live south of the loop or in south side suburb and measure up to the above requirements, are a good learner and a hard worker, reliable, and present neat appearance,

Apply Tuesday 10:30 a. m. sharp.
